The 16th August 1927.

No. F.-922/25.—The following rules made by the Secretary of State in Council of India, with the concurrence of the Lord Chancellor, under the Indian and Colonial Divorce Jurisdiction Act, 1926 (16 and 17 Geo. 5), are published for general information :—

Rules under section 1(4), Indian and Colonial Divorce Jurisdiction Act, 1926.

Short Title and Commencement.

1. (1) These rules may be called the Indian (Non-Domiciled Parties) Divorce Rules, 1927.
- (2) They shall come into force on the 27th day of July 1927.

Appointment of Judges.

2. (1) As soon as may be after the coming into force of these Rules the Chief Justice of each of the High Courts referred to in sub-section (1) of section 1 of the Indian and Colonial Divorce Jurisdiction Act, 1926 (hereinafter called “the Act”) shall submit to the Lord Chancellor through the Secretary of State for India the names of such number of judges of the Court (including, if he thinks fit, the name of the Chief Justice himself) not exceeding six, as he may consider necessary for the purpose of exercising jurisdiction under the Act and these Rules.

(2) Upon the approval of the Lord Chancellor to any nomination so submitted being signified to the Chief Justice by the Secretary of State for India, the Chief Justice shall cause the names so approved to be notified in the local official Gazette (or, in the case of the High Court of Judicature at Calcutta, in the Gazette of India) as judges appointed to exercise jurisdiction under the Act, and the judges whose names shall have been so notified shall thereupon have power to exercise jurisdiction accordingly.

(3) At any time after the first nominations under these rules have been approved, the Chief Justice may propose the names of a further judge or judges to take the place of, or to exercise jurisdiction in addition to, the judge or judges for the time being having powers under the Act; and when such further nominations are approved they shall be notified as aforesaid.

3. Every petition under the Act shall be heard by a single judge nominated and approved as hereinbefore provided, sitting without a jury, and, subject to the provisions of the Indian Limitation Act, an appeal shall lie to a bench of two other judges who have been similarly nominated and approved against any decree or order which would be appealable if it had been passed in proceedings under the Indian Divorce Act, 1869, and shall be disposed of accordingly. Each such bench shall be constituted by the Chief Justice as occasion may arise.

4. Nothing in these rules shall be deemed to prevent the exercise of any ultimate right of appeal to His Majesty in Council.

Petition.

5. All proceedings under the Act shall be commenced by filing a petition to which shall be attached a certified copy of the certificate of the marriage.

6. (1) In the body of a petition praying for the dissolution of a marriage shall be stated—

- (i) the place and date of the marriage and the name, status and domicile of the wife before the marriage,
- (ii) the status of the husband and his domicile at the time of the marriage and at the time when the petition is presented, and his occupation and the place or places of residence of the parties at the time of institution of the suit,
- (iii) the principal permanent addresses where the parties have cohabited, including the address where they last resided together in India,
- (iv) whether there is living issue of the marriage, and if so the names and dates of birth or ages of such issue,
- (v) whether there have been in the Divorce Division of the High Court of Justice in England or in the Court of Session in Scotland or in any Court in India any, and if so what, previous proceedings with reference to the marriage by or on behalf of either of the parties to the marriage, and the result of such proceedings,
- (vi) the matrimonial offences charged set out in separate paragraphs with the times and places of their alleged commission,
- (vii) the claim for damages, if any,
- (viii) the grounds on which the petitioner claims that in the interests of justice it is desirable that the suit should be determined in India.

(2) The petition shall conclude with a prayer setting out particulars of the relief claimed, including the amount of any claim for damages and any order for custody of children which is sought and shall be signed by the petitioner.

Verification of petition.

7. The statements contained in every petition under these Rules shall be verified by the petitioner or some other competent person in manner required by the Code of Civil Procedure for the time being in force for the verification of plaints, and in cases where the petitioner is seeking a decree of dissolution of marriage the verification shall include a declaration authenticated in like manner that no collusion or connivance exists between the petitioner and the other party to the marriage, and that neither the petitioner nor, within the knowledge of the petitioner, the other party to the marriage, has instituted proceedings which are still pending for the dissolution of the marriage in England or Scotland.

Co-respondents and Interveners.

8. In every petition presented by a husband for the dissolution of his marriage the petitioner shall make the alleged adulterers co-respondents in the suit, unless the Court shall otherwise direct.

9. Where a husband is charged with adultery with a named person, a certified copy of the pleading containing such charge shall, unless the Court for good cause shown otherwise directs, be served upon the person with whom adultery is alleged to have been committed, accompanied by a notice that such person is entitled, within the time therein specified, to apply for leave to intervene in the cause.

Service of Petitions and Notices.

10. Every petition or notice referred to in these Rules shall be served on the party to be affected thereby, either within or without British India, in the manner prescribed by the Code of Civil Procedure for the time being in force for the service of summonses:

Provided that unless the Court for good cause shown otherwise directs, service of all such petitions and notices shall be effected by delivery of the same to the party to be affected thereby, and the Court shall record that it is satisfied that service has been so effected.

Answer and subsequent Pleadings.

11. A respondent or co-respondent, or a woman to whom leave to intervene has been granted under Rule 9, may file in the Court an answer to the petition.

12. (1) Any answer which contains matter other than a simple denial of the facts stated in the petition shall be verified in respect of such matter by the respondent or co-respondent as the case may be in the manner required by these Rules for the verification of petitions, and when the respondent is husband or wife of the petitioner the answer shall contain a declaration that there is not any collusion or connivance between the parties.

(2) Where the answer of a husband alleges adultery and prays relief, a certified copy thereof shall be served upon the alleged adulterer, together with a notice to appear in like manner as a petition. When in such case no relief is claimed the alleged adulterer shall not be made a co-respondent, but a certified copy of the answer shall be served upon him together with a notice as under Rule 9 that he is entitled within the time therein specified to apply for leave to intervene in the suit and upon such application he may be allowed to intervene, subject to such direction as shall then be given by the Court.

13. (1) If it appears to the Court that proceedings for the dissolution of the marriage have been instituted in England or Scotland before the date on which the petition was filed in India, the Court shall either dismiss the petition or stay further proceedings thereon until the proceedings in England or Scotland have terminated, or until the Court shall otherwise direct.

(2) If it appears that such proceedings were instituted after the filing of the petition in India, the Court may proceed, subject to the provisions of the Act, with the trial of the suit.

Showing Cause against a Decree Nisi.

14. The Governor-General in Council in the case of the High Court of Judicature at Calcutta and the Local Government in other cases shall appoint a person to exercise within the jurisdiction of each of the High Courts referred to in section 1 of the Act the duties assigned to His Majesty's Proctor by sections 181 and 182 of the Supreme Court of Judicature (Consolidation) Act, 1925, and the name of the person so appointed shall be notified in the Gazette of India or in the local official Gazette, as the case may be, by the designation of Proctor. Every Proctor so appointed shall in the exercise of his functions act under the instructions of the Advocate-General or other Chief Law Officer of the Province.

15. (1) If any person during the progress of the proceedings or before the decree nisi is made absolute gives information to the Proctor of any matter material to the due decision of the case, the Proctor may take such steps as he considers necessary or expedient.

(2) If in consequence of any such information or otherwise the Proctor suspects that any parties to the petition are or have been in collusion for the purpose of obtaining a decree contrary to the justice of the case, he may after obtaining the leave of the Court intervene and produce evidence to prove the alleged collusion.

16. (1) When the Proctor desires to show cause against making absolute a decree nisi he shall enter an appearance in the suit in which such decree nisi has been pronounced and shall within a time to be fixed by the Court file his plea setting forth the grounds upon which he desires to show cause as aforesaid, and a certified copy of his plea shall be served upon the petitioner or person in whose favour such decree has been pronounced or his advocate. On entering an appearance the Proctor shall be made a party to the proceedings, and shall be entitled to appear in person or by advocate.

(2) Where such plea alleges a petitioner's adultery with any named person a certified copy of the plea shall be served upon each such person, omitting such part thereof as contains any allegation in which the person so served is not named.

(3) All subsequent pleadings and proceedings in respect of such plea shall be filed and carried on in the same manner as is hereinbefore directed in respect of an original petition, except as hereinafter provided.

(4) If the charges contained in the plea of the Proctor are not denied or if no answer to the plea of the Proctor is filed within the time limited or if an answer is filed and withdrawn or not proceeded with the Proctor may apply forthwith for the rescission of the decree nisi and dismissal of the petition.

17. Where the Proctor intervenes or shows cause against a decree nisi in any proceedings for divorce, the Court may make such order as to the payment by other parties to the proceedings of the costs incurred by him in so doing, or as to the payment by him of any costs incurred by any of the said parties by reason of his so doing, as may seem just.

18. Any person other than the Proctor wishing to show cause against making absolute a decree nisi shall, if the Court so permits, enter an appearance in the suit in which such decree nisi has been pronounced, and at the same time file affidavits setting forth the facts upon which he relies. Certified copies of the affidavits shall be served upon the parties or the advocate of the party in whose favour the decree nisi has been pronounced.

19. The party in the suit in whose favour the decree nisi has been pronounced may within a time to be fixed by the Court file affidavits in answer, and the person showing cause against the decree nisi being made absolute may within a further time to be so fixed file affidavits in reply.

Decree Absolute.

20. RESOLUTION.

SUBJECT :—Report of the Auxiliary and Territorial Forces Committee.

No. 1055.—The Secretary of State for India in Council has sanctioned the proposals of the Government of India on the Report of the Auxiliary and Territorial Forces Committee (^{A/31704}_{A. T. F.}).

2. The proposals of the Government of India consisted of :—

(a) Acceptance of the main recommendations of the Committee as summarized on pages 37-40 of their report with the following exception :—

The Government of India did not agree with the proposal that the Auxiliary Force should have a liability for general military service. In conformity with this decision the proposed urban units of the Indian Territorial Force will also not be liable for general military service. These units are expected to comprise persons whose social circumstances and civil avocations may be said to correspond to those of the persons from whom the Auxiliary Force is drawn.

(b) Acceptance of the minor and subsidiary recommendations in the report with the following exceptions :—

- (i) It is not proposed to delete sub-section (d) of section 4 of the Auxiliary Force Act as recommended by the Committee. This sub-section permits the enrolment of persons other than British subjects in the Auxiliary Force.
- (ii) The Government of India have not supported the recommendation to be found at the end of paragraph 14 of the report, that employers of individuals in the Auxiliary Force should be made liable to punishment if they place any hindrance in the way of such employees carrying out their training with the force.
- (iii) The proposal in paragraph 11 of Annexure A.-I of the report that members of the Indian Territorial Force in Burma should be exempt from capitation tax is unacceptable to the Government of Burma, and has not therefore been supported by the Government of India.

3. The Government of India further submitted for the Secretary of State's approval a proposed expenditure of 10 lakhs on giving effect in the first year to an instalment of the recommendations of the Committee. The details of this scheme are set forth in the annexure to this resolution. The four units selected for increased training for three months in the first year and two months in each subsequent year are :—

- 1. 11-1st Punjab Regiment.
- 2. 14-3rd Madras Regiment.
- 3. 11-14th Punjab Regiment.
- 4. 11-19th Hyderabad Regiment.

It will be seen that the existing 11-2nd Bombay Pioneers will be converted into an urban unit, while the 12-2nd Bombay Pioneers, a unit which has proved a failure, will be disbanded. As the present financial year is now well advanced it will not be possible to introduce this scheme as a whole before the 1st April 1928: but the Government of India will endeavour to introduce portions of the scheme during the current year, if funds can be reappropriated for the purpose. Amendments to the Auxiliary Force Act and the Indian Territorial Force Act and the rules under these Acts will be necessary to give effect to certain of the recommendations. The amendments to the Acts will be introduced in the Indian Legislature during the winter of 1927-28.

4. The sanction of His Majesty the King Emperor will be required before the changes in forms of commission recommended in paragraph 28 (VII) of the report are made. Steps are being taken to obtain this sanction.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy be forwarded to all Local Governments and Administrations, and to the Adjutant-General in India, who will communicate it to the General Officer Commanding-in-Chief, Northern, Eastern, Western and Southern Commands, and the General Officer Commanding, Burma district.

Ordered also that the resolution be published in the Gazette of India.

II. For the purpose of the assessment of rents, the capital cost of a residence owned by Government shall include the cost or value of sanitary, water-supply and electric installations and fittings, but exclude the cost or value of the site (including expenditure on its preparation); and shall be either—

- (a) the cost of acquiring or constructing the residence and any capital expenditure incurred after acquisition or construction; or, when this is not known,
- (b) the present value of the residence.

NOTE.—The cost of restoration or special repairs shall not be added to capital cost of present value, unless such restoration or repairs add to accommodation or involve replacement of the existing type of work by work of a more expensive character.

Provided that—

- (i) a Local Government may make rules providing the manner in which the present value of residences shall be determined;
- (ii) a Local Government may make rules determining what expenditure is to be regarded, for the purpose of sub-clause (a) above, as expenditure upon the preparation of a site;
- (iii) a Local Government may, for reasons which should be recorded, authorise a revaluation of all residences of a specified class or classes within a specified area to be conducted under the rules referred to in proviso (i) above, and may revise the capital cost of any or all such residences on the basis of such revaluation;
- (iv) the capital cost, howsoever calculated, shall not take into consideration (1) any charges on account of establishment and tools and plant other than such as were actually charged direct to the work in cases in which the residence was constructed by Government, or (2) in other cases, the estimated amount of such charges;
- (v) a Local Government may, for reasons which should be recorded, write off a specified portion of the capital cost of a residence—
 - (1) when a portion of the residence must be set aside, by the officer to whom the residence is allotted, for the reception of official and non-official visitors visiting him on business, or
 - (2) when it is satisfied that the capital cost, as determined under the above rules, would be greatly in excess of the proper value of the accommodation provided;
- (vi) in assessing the cost or value of the sanitary, water-supply and electric installations and fittings, a Local Government may by rules determine what are to be regarded as fittings for this purpose.

III. The standard rent of a residence shall be calculated as follows :—

- (a) In the case of leased residences the standard rent shall be the sum paid to the lessor plus an addition determined under rules which a Local Government may make, for meeting during the period of lease, such charges for both ordinary and special maintenance and repairs and for capital expenditure on additions or alterations as may be a charge on Government and for the interest on such capital expenditure, as also for municipal and other taxes payable by Government.
- (b) In the case of residences owned by Government, the standard rent shall be calculated on the capital cost of the residence, and shall be either—
 - (i) a percentage of such capital cost equal to such rate of interest as may from time to time be fixed by the Secretary of State in Council plus an addition for municipal and other taxes payable by Government and for both ordinary and special maintenance and repairs, such addition being determined under rules which a Local Government may make, or
 - (ii) 6 per cent. per annum of such capital cost, whichever is less.
- (c) In both cases standard rent shall be expressed as standard for a calendar month and shall be equal to one-twelfth of the annual rent as calculated above, subject to the proviso that, in special localities or in respect of special classes of residence, a Local Government may fix a standard rent to cover a period greater than one month but not greater than one year. Where a Local Government takes action under this proviso standard rent so fixed shall not be a larger proportion of the annual rent than the proportion which the period of occupation as prescribed under clause I above bears to one year.

NOTE 1.—For the purpose of sub-clauses (a) and (b) above, the additions for both ordinary and special maintenance and repairs shall not include anything for the establishment and tools and plant charges, except to the extent allowed under proviso (iv) to clause II.

NOTE 2.—A Local Government may by rule permit minor additions and alterations, the cost of which does not exceed a prescribed percentage of the capital cost of the residence, to be made during such period as the rule may determine, without the rent of the residence being increased.

IV. When Government supplies an officer with a residence leased or owned by Government, the following conditions shall be observed :—

- (a) The scale of accommodation supplied shall not, except at the officer's own request, exceed that which is appropriate to the status of the occupant.
- (b) Unless in any case it be otherwise expressly provided in these rules, he shall pay rent for the residence, and such rent shall be the standard rent as defined in clause III above or 10 per cent. of his monthly emoluments, whichever is less.
- (c) Nothing contained in clause (b) above shall operate to prevent a Local Government from—
 - (i) grouping, after the standard rents have been calculated under the provisions of clause III above, a number of residences, whether in a particular area or of a particular class or classes, for the purpose of assessment of rent, subject to the following conditions being fulfilled :—
 - (1) that the basis of assessment is uniform ; and
 - (2) that the amount taken from any officer shall not exceed 10 per cent. of his monthly emoluments ;
 - (ii) taking a rent in excess of that prescribed in sub-clause (b) above from an officer—
 - (1) who is not required or permitted to reside on duty at the station at which the residence is supplied to him, or
 - (2) who, at his own request, is supplied with accommodation which exceeds that which is appropriate to the status of the post held by him, or
 - (3) who is in receipt of a compensatory allowance granted on account of dearness of living.

V. In special circumstances, for reasons which should be recorded, a Local Government—

- (a) may, by general or special order, grant rent-free accommodation to any officer or class of officers, or
- (b) may, by special order, waive or reduce the amount of rent to be recovered from any officer.

VI. If a residence is supplied with services, other than water-supply, sanitary or electric installations and fittings, such as furniture, tennis court, or garden maintained at the cost of Government, rent shall be charged for these in addition to the rent payable under clause IV. The tenant will also be required to pay meter hire and the cost of the water, electric energy, etc., consumed. A Local Government may make rules prescribing how the additional rents and charges shall be determined, and such rules may also authorise the remission or reduction of the additional rent or charge in special circumstances for reasons which should be recorded.

VII. A Local Government may by rule prescribe that this rule shall apply, with effect from any date not earlier than the first of April 1924, to any Government servant or class of Government servants other than those mentioned in the rule.

VIII. Nothing contained in this rule shall so operate as to require payment of rent, for the occupation of residences supplied by Government, by those servants of the Crown in India who have been exempted from such payment by order of the Secretary of State in Council, or to affect the amount of rent or charges payable by those servants of the Crown in India, in whose case the amount so payable is prescribed by the Secretary of State in Council.

45B.—I. This rule applies to Government servants other than those to whom rule 45A applies or is made applicable under the provisions of clause VII of that rule, or than those occupying residences belonging to a State Railway, or rented at the cost of railway revenues.

II. For the purposes of sub-clause (b) of clause III, the capital cost of a residence owned by Government shall not include the cost or value of such special services and installations (including furniture, tennis courts and sanitary, water-supply, or electric installations and fittings) as it may contain; and shall be either—

- (a) the cost of acquiring or constructing the residence, including the cost of site and its preparation and any capital expenditure incurred after acquisition or construction; or, when this is not known,
- (b) the present value of the residence including the value of site.

NOTE.—The cost of restoration or special repairs shall not be added to capital cost or present value, unless such restoration or repairs add to accommodation or involve replacement of the existing type of work by work of a more expensive character.

Provided that—

- (i) a Local Government may make rules providing the manner in which the present value of residences, including sites, shall be determined.
- (ii) a Local Government may make rules determining what expenditure is to be regarded for the purpose of sub-clause (a) above as expenditure upon the preparation of a site;
- (iii) a Local Government may, for reasons which should be recorded, authorise a revaluation of all residences of a specified class or classes within a specified area to be conducted under the rules referred to in proviso (i) above, and may revise the capital cost of any or all such residences on the basis of such revaluation;
- (iv) the capital cost, howsoever calculated, shall not take into consideration (1) any charges on account of establishment and tools and plant other than such as were actually charged direct to the work in cases in which the residence was constructed by Government, or (2) in other cases, the estimated amount of such charges;
- (v) a Local Government may, for reasons which should be recorded, write off a specified portion of the capital cost of a residence—
 - (1) when a portion of the residence must be set aside, by the Government servant to whom the residence is allotted, for the reception of official and non-official visitors visiting him on business, or
 - (2) when it is satisfied that the capital cost, as determined under the above rules, would be greatly in excess of the proper value of the accommodation provided,
- (vi) in assessing the cost or value of the sanitary, water-supply and electric installations and fittings, a Local Government may, by rules, determine what are to be regarded as fittings for this purpose.

III. The standard rent of a residence shall be calculated as follows :—

- (a) In the case of leased residences the standard rent shall be the sum paid to the lessor, plus an addition determined under rules which a Local Government may make, for meeting, during the period of lease, such charges for both ordinary and special maintenance and repairs and for capital expenditure on additions or alterations as may be a charge on Government and for the interest on such capital expenditure as also for municipal and other taxes payable by Government.
- (b) In the case of residences owned by Government, the standard rent shall be calculated on the capital cost of the residence, and shall be a percentage of such capital cost equal to such rate of interest as may from time to time be fixed by the Secretary of State in Council, plus an addition for municipal and other taxes payable by Government and for both ordinary and special maintenance and repairs, such addition being determined under rules which a Local Government may make.
- (c) In both cases standard rent shall be expressed as standard for a calendar month and shall be equal to one-twelfth of the annual rent as calculated above, subject to the proviso that, in special localities or in respect of special classes of residence, a Local Government may fix a standard rent to cover a period greater than one month, but not greater than one year. Where a Local Government takes action under this proviso standard rent so fixed shall not be a larger proportion of the annual rent than the proportion which the period of occupation as prescribed under clause I above bears to one year.

NOTE 1.—For the purpose of sub-clauses (a) and (b) above, the additions for both ordinary and special maintenance and repairs shall not include anything for the establishment and tools and plant charges, except to the extent allowed under proviso (iv) to clause II.

NOTE 2.—A Local Government may by rule permit minor additions and alterations, the cost of which does not exceed a prescribed percentage of the capital cost of the residence, to be made during such period as the rule may determine, without the rent of the residence being increased.

IV. When Government supplies a Government servant with a residence leased or owned by Government, the following conditions shall be observed :—

- (a) The scale of accommodation supplied shall not, except at the officer's own request, exceed that which is appropriate to the status of the occupant.
- (b) Unless in any case it be otherwise expressly provided in these rules, he shall pay rent for the residence, and such rent shall be the standard rent, as defined in clause III above, or 10 per cent. of his emoluments, whichever is less.
- (c) Nothing contained in clause (b) above shall operate to prevent a Local Government from—
 - (i) grouping, after the standard rents have been calculated under the provisions of clause III above, a number of residences, whether in a particular area, or of a particular class or classes for the purpose of assessment of rent, subject to the following conditions being fulfilled :—
 - (1) that the basis of assessment is uniform, and
 - (2) that the amount taken from any Government servant shall not exceed 10 per cent. of his emoluments ;
 - (ii) taking a rent in excess of 10 per cent. of his emoluments from a Government servant—
 - (1) who is not under its own administrative control, or
 - (2) who is not required or permitted to reside on duty at the station at which the residence is supplied to him, or
 - (3) who, at his own request, is supplied with accommodation which exceeds that which is appropriate to the status of the post held by him, or
 - (4) who is in receipt of a compensatory allowance granted on account of dearness of living.

V. In special circumstances, for reasons which should be recorded, a Local Government—

- (a) may, by general or special order, grant rent-free accommodation to any Government servant or class of Government servants, or
- (b) may, by special order, waive or reduce the amount of rent to be recovered from any Government servant.

VI. If a residence is supplied with one or more of the following or similar services, furniture, installations (including fittings) for water or electricity supply or for sanitary purposes, tennis court, or garden maintained at the cost of Government, rent shall be charged for these in addition to the rent payable under clause IV. The tenant will also be required to pay meter hire and the cost of the water, electric energy, etc., consumed. A Local Government may make rules prescribing how the additional rents and charges shall be determined, and such rules may also authorize the remission or reduction of the additional rent or charge in special circumstances for reasons which should be recorded.

VII. Nothing contained in this rule shall so operate as to require payment of rent for the occupation of residences supplied by Government, by those servants of the Crown in India who have been exempted from such payment by order of the Secretary of State in Council, or to affect the amount of rent or charges payable by those servants of the Crown in India, in whose case the amount so payable is prescribed by the Secretary of State in Council.

45C. For the purpose of Rules 45A and 45B, "emoluments" means:—

- (i) Pay;
- (ii) Fees (other than overtime fees) and commission if they are received in addition to pay as part of the authorised remuneration of a post;
- (iii) Compensatory allowances, other than travelling allowance, whether drawn from general revenues or from a local fund;
- (iv) Exchange Compensation Allowance;
- (v) Pension, other than a pension drawn under the provisions of Chapter XXXVIII, Civil Service Regulations, or compensation received under the Workmen's Compensation Act, 1923, as subsequently amended.

It does not include allowances attached to the Victoria Cross, the Military Cross, the Order of British India or the Indian Order of Merit.

NOTE 1.—The emoluments of a Government servant paid at piece-work rates shall be determined in such manner as the Local Government may prescribe.

NOTE 2.—The emoluments of an officer on leave mean the emoluments drawn by him for the last complete calendar month of duty performed by him prior to his departure on leave."

Miller, His Excellency the Governor is pleased, in pursuance of sub-rule (1) of rule 26 of the Bengal Electoral Rules, to call upon the said constituency to elect a person for the purpose of filling the vacancy by the 31st October 1927.

W. D. R. PRENTICE,
Chief Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

No. 10595A.—The 16th September 1927.—Whereas the validity of the election of Maulvi Abdul Gofran by the Noakhali West (Muhammadan) constituency as a member of the Bengal Legislative Council has been brought in question by an election petition duly presented by Haji Abdur Raschid Khan, under the provisions of Part VII of the Bengal Electoral Rules ;

And whereas in accordance with the provisions of rule 45 of the said rules, the Commissioners appointed for the trial of the said petition have duly submitted their report to the Governor.

Now, therefore, in pursuance of sub-rule (3) of rule 45 of the said rules and in accordance with the report of the Commissioners, the Governor is pleased hereby—

- (1) to declare that Maulvi Abdul Gofran has been duly elected ;
- (2) to direct that Maulvi Anisuddin Ahmad, witness for the petitioner, who appeared, be paid Rs 11-7 as costs, and that this amount and four annas for transmission of the money be deducted from the amount deposited with Government as security ; and
- (3) to publish the said report.

W. D. R. PRENTICE,
Chief Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

In the matter of an election petition under Part VII of the Bengal Electoral Rules.

Haji Abdur Raschid Khan Petitioner

versus

Maulvi Abdul Gofran [elected to the Bengal Legislative Council from the Noakhali West (Muhammadan) constituency] and another Respondents.

Report.

The petitioner filed an application to have the election of the Respondent Maulvi Abdul Gofran set aside on various allegations of corrupt practices on the part of the latter to secure his election. Notice of this application with a copy of the petition was sent for service on each of the respondents, and the application was also published in the Calcutta Gazette. Respondent No. 1, Maulvi Abdul Gofran, appeared by pleader. To Respondent No. 2, the notice with a copy of the original petition was sent to his residence in the town of Noakhali. He was not found at home and the notice and the copy were affixed in his Baitakhana ghar on the 4th March 1927. The service not being considered sufficient, a fresh notice was served on 15th March 1927. This time, the brother of Respondent No. 2 Mr. Obaidulla gave his Calcutta address, and again a notice was sent by post under a registered cover. This time the notice was taken by a third party and a fresh notice was again sent by post under a registered cover. On this occasion the acknowledgment purported to have been signed on 31st March 1927 by Mr. Obaidulla himself and the service was considered sufficient. Mr. Obaidulla, however, did not enter appearance in the case.

Maulvi Abdul Gofran, Respondent No. 1, filed a written statement on the 2nd April 1927, denying the truth of the allegations about corrupt practices made in his petition by Haji Abdur Raschid Khan and issues were formed in the presence of the pleaders of both sides. The petitioner informed the Commissioners that the number of his witnesses would exceed 300, and out of this number 278 were of Noakhali. The petitioner prayed that one of the Commissioners might be deputed to examine these witnesses at Noakhali. This application was opposed by Respondent No. 1. The Commissioners considered that the examination of such large majority of witnesses by one Commissioner in the absence of the others was not desirable and the prayer was refused. Then the petitioner cited 242 witnesses, while Respondent No. 1 cited 317 witnesses. The witnesses cited by the petitioner were actually summoned by batches for successive dates, while the Respondent No. 1 was to take out summons for his witnesses for attendance from the 9th May. The hearing was to commence on the 28th April, on which date, the petitioner filed a petition for withdrawing the case and the witnesses for Respondent No. 1 were not actually summoned. The petition for withdrawing was duly published in the Calcutta Gazette, dated the 5th May 1927 (page 927, Part I of the Gazette), and the notice of the petition for withdrawal having been filed was also sent for service to each of the respondents. In the petition for withdrawal, it was mentioned that Mr. Obaidulla had left India on or about the 16th April 1927 and that he had entered the service of His Majesty the Amir as an Engineer. Under Order 5, Rule 25 of the Civil Procedure Code, the notice was sent to Mr. Obaidulla to the address supplied by the petitioner, namely, "Mining Engineer, care of Secretary to His Majesty the Amir of Afghanistan, Kabul", under a registered cover and was posted in the Barisal post office on 7th May 1927. No acknowledgment of the receipt of the notice has been received, but we consider that having regard to the common course of business it may be presumed that the notice reached Mr. Obaidulla.

Nobody appeared to oppose the application for withdrawing the case. The grounds mentioned for the application is that Mr. Obaidulla is a material witness on behalf of the petitioner; that he left India on or about the 16th April 1927; that another witness Abdul Raschid was dead; that recently there was a bereavement in the family of the petitioner and that his witnesses being his relations were unwilling to appear as witnesses on account of such bereavement; that the petitioner and the opposite party No. 1 being relations, it was necessary in the interest of the family harmony that the case should not proceed further, and lastly that the expenses of the case would be very heavy.

The Commissioners thought that having regard to the grounds on which the prayer was based, it should be allowed and we accordingly permitted the petitioner to withdraw the case. The notice of this permission to withdraw was published in the Calcutta Gazette of the 9th June and no one applied to be substituted as petitioner in place of Haji Abdur Raschid Khan and to continue the case.

As the allegations in the petition of Haji Abdur Rashid Khan have not been substantiated by evidence, under Rule 45 (I), we beg to report that the returned candidate Maulvi Abdul Gofran has been duly elected.

The pleader for Maulvi Abdul Gofran did not press for costs and in permitting the petitioner to withdraw the case, the Commissioners made no order as to costs of either party. We beg to recommend that neither party should get costs. A witness for the petitioner appeared and was awarded Rs. 11-7 as costs. The petitioner's pleader agreed that this amount and four annas for transmission of the money, total Rs. 11-11, may be deducted from the amount deposited with Government as security. We recommend that this may be done, if there be no objection to this course being adopted. No bill was received from the Accountant, Bengal Secretariat, for the costs of publications in the Calcutta Gazette. If these costs as also the fees and travelling allowances of the Commissioners are payable out of the amount in deposit, then these may be paid out of the amount in deposit.

The Inspector shall consider and dispose of such objections after making such inquiry as he may deem necessary, and shall then include such premises in his register of factories or not, as the case may be.

PART IV.

SAFETY.

8. Structures.—In every factory, all buildings, walls, chimneys, masts, bridges, tunnels, roads, galleries, floors, platforms, stagings, and all structures in common use, whether of a permanent or temporary character, shall be so designed, constructed and maintained as to involve no danger to human life or safety:

9. Prime Movers and Machinery.—In every factory, prime movers or other machinery, steam boilers or other vessels subject to pressure, and all tanks and mains, together with the fittings of each of the aforesaid, shall be free from dangerous structural defects. They shall also be maintained sufficiently free from deterioration, and shall be operated (or attended) by persons of sufficient experience or skill, to satisfy the Inspector that there is no danger to human life or safety from them:

Provided that the Inspector shall not accept any plant or machinery mentioned which is constructed, attended to or operated, so as to contravene the provisions of any other Act.

10. Railways and Transport.—In every factory, where, within the precincts, there are railways, or other electrical or mechanical means of transport, such railways or means of transport shall be designed, maintained and operated in such a manner as to satisfy the Inspector that there is no danger to human life and safety from them :

Provided that the Inspector shall not accept any such railways or means of transport if they are so designed, maintained and operated as to contravene the provisions of any other Act.

11. Smoking and Use of Naked Lights.—No person shall smoke or use a naked light, or shall cause or permit such light to be used in the immediate vicinity of inflammable material in any factory ; and the manager of every factory shall cause to be exhibited a notice in English and the vernacular prohibiting smoking or the use of naked lights, or both, in all places where they would be dangerous, or where the Inspector may require, and shall take all other reasonable precautions to ensure the observance of this rule.

12. Prevention of Fire.—In any factory where the process of manufacture necessitates the use of inflammable material, efficient means of subduing outbreaks of fire shall be installed, maintained and kept ready for immediate use.

13. Lighting.—Efficient measures to the satisfaction of the Inspector shall be taken for securing and maintaining sufficient and suitable lighting in every part of a factory in which persons are working or passing.

14. Fencing (General).—In every factory, all moving parts of machinery shall be securely fenced, unless they are so situated that they are in the opinion of the Inspector incapable of causing injury to workers. Fencing shall be so designed that it is impossible for any person to pass between the fencing and a moving part, and also to give protection to a person oiling, cleaning, or otherwise attending to the machinery, and to all persons who may be in the neighbourhood of a moving part while it is in motion.

15. Suitable striking gear or other efficient mechanical appliances shall be provided and used to move driving straps on fast and loose pulleys which form part of the transmission machinery, and any such gear or appliances shall be so constructed as to prevent accidental restarting of the machinery :

Provided that where the Chief Inspector of Factories is satisfied that such striking gear or appliances are not necessary or are impracticable for any class of machines, he may by order in writing exempt such class of machines from this requirement.

16. Fencing (Electrical).—In every factory, all electrical circuits or parts of such, or any objects electrically connected with them, whether commonly or occasionally in an electrified condition, which by reason of their position could cause injury to the person, shall be protected adequately to the satisfaction of the Inspector either by fencing or insulation, or by both, in such a manner as to remove danger of injury :

Provided that where automatic mechanism is installed for the purpose of immediately removing the electrification on the occurrence of a fault, such mechanism shall be taken into account by the Inspector when considering the adequacy or otherwise of the protection furnished :

Provided also that in no case shall the Inspector accept as adequate any conditions or combination of conditions which are subject to objection under any other Act.

17. Fencing (Hoists).—Every hoist and teagle, and every place where commonly material of sufficient weight is raised or lowered, shall, where practicable, be so fenced as to prevent personal injury in its descent.

18. Fencing (Pits).—Every opening, in the ground or in a floor, which by reason of its depth, situation, construction or contents, could cause personal injury, shall be so fenced as to prevent such injury.

19. Unsuitable Fencing.—When any plant, machinery, apparatus, or fittings in a factory are not safeguarded from danger to human life, as prescribed in rules 14, 15, 16, 17 and 18, such plant, machinery, apparatus or fittings shall be deemed not to be securely fenced within the meaning of section 18 (1).

20. (1) Alternatives to Fencing.—If in any case it is represented to the Inspector and agreed to by him in writing that fencing would unduly obstruct a manufacturing process being carried on in the factory or would be otherwise impracticable, such other protection shall be provided as the Inspector may direct instead of fencing.

(2) Devices which automatically remove the hand of the operator from or prevent its approaching a dangerous part shall be deemed equivalent to secure fencing for that part.

(3) Where there are available safety devices which (a) make it impossible to expose a dangerous part of machinery whilst in motion or (b) stop a machine forthwith in case of danger, such part of machine shall be deemed to be securely fenced, provided that such devices are fitted and maintained in efficient working order.

21. The following rules for the protection from danger of persons employed in attending to machinery in motion shall be observed in every factory :—

(i) Replacing of Belts.—Every person who goes up to replace a belt or to oil bearings or shafts shall wear a loin cloth or tight trousers, and shall not wear any loose clothing which is liable to be caught in the machinery.

(ii) Experienced men and those specially trained for the work shall alone be allowed to replace fast running belts.

(iii) All ladders used in replacing belts shall be specially made and reserved for that work, and shall be provided with hooks and spurs.

(iv) As far as possible all important pulleys shall be provided with belt-hangers :

Provided that, when the main belts of any machinery have to be adjusted, the machinery shall be stopped and shall not be set in motion again until such belts have been completely adjusted.

22. Failure to comply with Fencing Orders.—If the manager of a factory has not complied with an order to fence or otherwise protect any machinery after having been requested to do so in writing by an Inspector, the latter may, on a subsequent visit, serve on the manager an order in writing prohibiting the use of the machinery in question, until the orders have been carried out and passed by the Inspector as satisfactory.

23. If the Chief Inspector of Factories has reason to believe that there is a defect or deficiency in the machinery, plant or structure of a factory which in his opinion may endanger human life or safety, the occupier or manager of such factory shall, if called upon to do so by the Chief Inspector of Factories, supply such drawings, specifications or particulars, and carry out such examination or tests as may, in the opinion of the Chief Inspector of Factories, be necessary to determine whether such machinery, plant or structure may be used with safety.

PART V.

HEALTH AND SANITATION.

24. Standard of space.—In every factory, there shall be provided for each person employed at one time in any room a breathing space of at least 500 cubic feet. For the purpose of this calculation, no height above 15 feet from the floor of such room shall be taken into consideration.

25. Ventilation.—Every part of every factory where persons are employed shall be adequately ventilated to the approval of the Inspector.

26. Injurious Gases.—In every factory where injurious, poisonous and asphyxiating gases, dust, or other impurities are used for or are evolved from any process carried on, all practicable measures to the satisfaction of the Inspector shall be taken to protect the workers against inhalation of such gas, dust, or other impurity.

27. tively, namely :—

" May arrest without warrant	Summons ...	Bailable ...	Not com- poundable.	Presidency Magistrate or Magistrate of the first or second class."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The prevalence of malicious writings intended to insult the religion or outrage the religious feelings of various classes of His Majesty's subjects has made it necessary to examine the existing provisions of the law with a view to seeing whether they require to be strengthened. Chapter XV of the Indian Penal Code, which deals with offences relating to religion, provides no penalty in respect of writings of the kind described above. Such writings can usually be dealt with under section 153A of the Indian Penal Code as it is seldom that they do not represent an attempt to promote feelings of enmity or hatred between different classes. It must be recognized, however, that this is only an indirect way of dealing with acts which may properly be made punishable themselves, apart from the question whether they have the further effect of promoting feelings of enmity or hatred between classes. Accordingly it is proposed to insert a new section in Chapter XV of the Indian Penal Code, with the object of making it a specific offence intentionally to insult or attempt to insult the religion or outrage or attempt to outrage the religious feelings of any class of His Majesty's subjects. Certain amendments are also proposed in the Code of Criminal Procedure in pursuance of the object of the Bill, (27), dated the 7th June 1927, on the report of the Tariff Board (Cotton Textile Industry Enquiry).

2. It is considered undesirable to retain the 2½ per cent. ad valorem duty on printing machinery and material when the duty on other machinery is being removed. It is accordingly proposed to remove the duty on the articles included in Item 51 of the Import Tariff Schedule, as well as the duty on articles included in Items 51, 51-A and 51-B.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Bill was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 18th August, 1927:—

L. A. BILL NO. 37 OF 1927.

A Bill further to amend the Indian Tariff Act, 1894, in order to safeguard the manufacture of cotton yarn in British India.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Indian Tariff Act, 1894, in order to safeguard the cotton textile industry in British India against competition in cotton yarn produced under industrial conditions which enable such yarn to be produced at a cost below that at which it can be produced in British India; It is hereby enacted as follows :—

Short title.

1. This Act may be called the Indian Tariff (Cotton Yarn Amendment) Act, 1927.

Amendment of
of the Second
Schedule to Act
VIII of 1894.

2. (1) In Item No. 44 of the Second Schedule to the Indian Tariff Act, 1894, after the figure and words "5 per cent." the figure and words "or 1½ annas per pound, whichever is higher" shall be added.

(2) The amendment made by sub-section (1) shall have effect up to the 31st day of March, 1930.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The Tariff Board which was appointed to inquire into the depression in the cotton textile industry reported that, owing to the double shift working rendered possible by the night work of women, the Japanese mills producing cotton yarn possessed an unfair advantage over the Indian mills, and that this advantage amounted to 10 per cent. of the selling price at the time the Report was submitted. This advantage is only partially neutralised by the existing 5 per cent. duty. In the opinion of the Board, the Japanese mills will retain their unfair advantage until June 30th, 1929, when the night work of women will be prohibited by law.

2. More than half the total imports of yarn are of counts from 31s to 40s and about 80 per cent. of the imports of these counts are from Japan. The Board found that the unfair advantage of a mill spinning an average of 20s was 10 pies per pound, if a reasonable return on capital was taken into account, and of a mill spinning an average of 32s 16·55 pies per pound. On the basis of these figures, a duty of one and-a-half annas a pound on counts from 31s to 40s and a duty of one anna a pound on lower counts would suffice to neutralise the unfair competition of the Japanese mills. The imports of counts of yarn below 31s are, however, less than 5 per cent. of the total imports, and for administrative reasons it is not considered advisable to vary the rate of duty according to the count. It is, therefore, proposed in the Bill that up to the 31st March, 1930, the 5 per cent. duty on cotton yarn should be subject to a specific minimum of one and-a-half annas a pound. The effect will be that duty will be leviable on all imported yarn at the rate of one and-a-half annas a pound, unless the value exceeds Rs. 1-14-0 a pound, when the duty will be levied at five per cent. ad valorem.

3. For protective purposes, a specific duty is preferable to an ad valorem duty, the amount of which varies with the price and is highest when protection is least needed and lowest when the industry most requires assistance. It is for this reason that the specific minimum duty of one and-a-half annas a pound has been proposed and not an increase in the ad valorem rate.

4. The night work of women in the Japanese mills will terminate, it is expected, on the 30th of June, 1929, but yarn produced under double shift conditions will still be on the market for some months afterwards. For this reason, it is proposed that the specific minimum duty should continue in force until the 31st March, 1930.

CALCUTTA, THE 20TH SEPTEMBER 1927.

RESOLUTION—No. 642T.R.

READ—

The Final Report on the Survey and Settlement Operations in the district of Bankura.

Letter No. XXV-4—753, dated the 17th November 1926, from the Director of Land Records and Surveys, Bengal, submitting the report.

Bankura is one of the poorest and most backward districts in the province. A distinctive feature of the population is the preponderance of the Sonthals and other aboriginal tribes in the western part of the district. Physically also this tract has a distinctive character showing the beginning of those rocks and dense forests which overspread the Sonthal Parganas and Chota Nagpur. The settlement of the district was taken up largely with a view to protect these primitive tribes who were being ousted from their lands. The Bengal Tenancy Amendment Act of 1918 (Act II of 1918) imposes restrictions on the alienation of land by the Sonthals and Bhumijes, but the Act in question was passed too late to save a large proportion of these aborigines whose lands had already passed into the hands of Bengali Mahajans. Even in the subsequent period it has hardly had the effects anticipated from it, partly because it was not accompanied by the other reforms advocated in Mr. McAlpin's report which led to the passing of the Act, viz., the establishment of grain goldas to lend rice instead of money to the Sonthals and the regular appointment of Southal-knowing officials. The story is a tragic one, but the report of Mr. F. W. Robertson, I.C.S., the Settlement Officer, shows that the ruin of the Sonthals is mainly due to the fact that owing to their illiteracy, improvidence and simplicity they can never cope with their more intelligent and shrewd neighbours with a higher standard of culture and literacy. Those who lost their lands either migrated to other districts or were reduced to the status of bhagidars and under-raiyats.

2. The area of the district is 2,647 square miles of which about one-fifth is covered by jungle. The population according to the Census of 1921 is 10,19,941 or 385 souls per square mile against the total of 11,38,670 or 434 souls per square mile according to the Census of 1911. This alarming decrease of 10 per cent. of the population in course of a decade has been attributed partly to the influenza epidemic of 1918-19 which caused unprecedented loss of life, but mainly to malaria. The ravages of this disease are certainly increased by the extremely insanitary condition of the villages and the Governor in Council trusts that with the introduction of the Rural Public Health Organisation scheme it will be possible to effect an appreciable improvement in this direction.

3. Of the total population, 8,05,170 souls or 79 per cent. depend upon the land, 67 per cent. being actual cultivators and their dependants. But of the total area of the district only 47 per cent. is culturable, and even this moiety suffers so much from drought and unequal distribution of rainfall that a partial or total failure of crops occurs every third or fourth year. Even in a normal year, the Settlement Officer calculates that the total yield of paddy is barely sufficient to provide 84 per cent. of the population with two meals a day. The improvement of the economic position of the district seems to depend on the reforestation of the higher plains and the provision of ample irrigation facilities for the remainder. Both subjects have been receiving the anxious consideration of the departments concerned, and also of various local associations. Since the settlement operations were completed many co-operative credit societies have been formed for the excavation and maintenance of irrigation tanks and wells. The Irrigation Department of Government have just opened a new division at Bankura with a wholetime Executive Engineer. The Governor in Council hopes that the joint and concerted endeavours of these two progressive departments will not take long to effect a real improvement of the situation. In the meantime arrangements have been made by the Agriculture and Industries Department to start co-operative grain goldas.

4. Though not a single plot of land has been recorded as proprietor's private land under chapter XI of the Bengal Tenancy Act it is surprising to find that very nearly half of the area of the district is in direct possession of the landlords and the other half is held by the cultivating raiyats and under-raiyats, the latter holding only 4 per cent. of the area. 16 per cent. of the area is held by raiyats on produce rent and 9 per cent. on mixed cash and produce rent, i.e., one-fourth of the whole area of the district is held on produce rent in some shape. This abnormal disparity in the distribution of land and the large proportion of produce rent tenancies are the direct effects of alienation of lands by the aborigines who are now reduced to the status of mere labourers. This state of things is undoubtedly wrong, but it is probably too late to devise any practicable remedy.

5. Over 10 per cent. of the area is held by the raiyats at fixed rates and most of the under-raiyats have got occupancy rights by custom and even fixity of rent. The incidence of rent of occupancy raiyats is only Rs. 1-12-7 per acre. This is perhaps the lowest on record in Bengal, but it is partly due to the general unproductivity of the soil.

6. Traverse survey began in 1914-15, but the operations were stopped on account of the great European War and restarted in 1917-18. They were completed in the year 1924-25. The subdivision of Asansol in the district of Burdwan was included in the operations to meet the wishes of the Mining and Geological Institute for accurate 4" maps of the coal area. The total cost of the operations was estimated at Rs. 28,62,218, but the Settlement Officer is to be congratulated on managing to complete the operations at a cost of Rs. 28,39,894 despite the increase of prices due to the war. Recovery of costs was satisfactory and only about half per cent. of the recoverable amount had to be remitted. The Governor in Council desires to place on record his high appreciation of the services of Mr. F. W. Robertson, I.C.S., who in spite of many difficulties organised and carried through the operation in this backward and inhospitable district with efficiency. The good services rendered by the Assistant Settlement Officers specially commended by the Settlement Officer will be brought to the notice of the Appointment Department.

By order of the Governor in Council,

F. A. SACHSE,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, ASSAM.

Final Forecast of the Jute Crop of Assam, 1927.

[NOTE.—On the average of the five years ending 1925-26, the area under jute in Assam represents 5.1 per cent. of the total area under jute in British India.]

The character of weather during the season has been generally unfavourable for the cultivation and growth of the crop. The weather after the issue of the preliminary forecast improved slightly in the Surma Valley and the districts of Darrang and Sibsagar while in Kamrup and Garo Hills it became worse. The crop suffered to some extent from heavy rains in places. Some damage has been done to the crop by floods in all districts and also by insects in Goalpara, Kamrup, Darrang and Nowgong.

The total area under jute as estimated by the District Officers is 168,000 acres against 186,000 acres (revised) of last year and 177,900 acres shown in the preliminary forecast of this year. The decrease as compared with the final figures for last year is in the districts of Cachar, Sylhet, Goalpara and Darrang and is due to the fall in price of jute during last year and the unfavourable weather at sowing time. The decrease as compared with the preliminary forecast is only in the district of Goalpara due to the revision of area by the Deputy Commissioner. The figures shown in the preliminary forecast have been raised in three districts and reduced in one only.

The average outturn of jute fibre per acre has been estimated to be 78 per cent. of the normal against 85 per cent. of last year. Taking 3.5 bales (of 400 lbs.) as the normal yield per acre the total outturn of the province comes to 458,300 bales against 599,000 bales in 1926 (now revised), or a decrease of about 24 per cent.

APPENDIX I.

Final forecast of the jute crop of Bengal, 1927.

District.	Estimated area under jute, in acres.		Estimated outturn as a percentage of the normal yield per unit of area.		Estimated total yield in bales of 400 lbs.		Date by which harvesting generally commenced and whether that date was early, normal or late.	Remarks by District Officers.
	Last year.*	This year.	Last year.*	This year.	Last year.*	This year.
1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
	Acres.	Acres.			Bales.	Bales.
24-Pargannas ..	76,000	62,000	71	96	172,400	191,000	Second week of September. Late.	The high percentage of yield this year is due to favourable weather condition during the growing period. The late harvest is due to scarcity of water for steeping.
Nadia ..	97,000	79,000	87	83	268,600	211,000	End of August. Normal.	In some places the crop was damaged by insects and drought also affected the crop to some extent. Much difficulty is being felt at present for steeping for want of sufficient water and unless there be good showers within the next few days, the estimated yield will fall far below the estimate.
Murshidabad ..	41,000	33,000	70	84	91,800	89,000	Middle of September. Late.	The general decrease in comparison with last year is due to drought and to poor price obtained last year. The harvesting is being delayed for want of water for steeping.
Jessore ..	132,000	107,000	73	100	307,800	342,000	August. Late ..	Want of rain has affected the steeping but the recent showers have supplied the deficiency. The insufficient rain did not affect the growth very seriously. Steeping in bad water may affect the quality.
Khulna ..	48,000	39,000	105	93 7	161,200	117,000	End of August. Normal.
Burdwan ..	5,000	5,000	77	88	12,300	14,000	First week of September.	Drizzling rain made the jute grow well. But slight damage due to insects was done in some places though it did not amount to any appreciable loss.
Midnapore ..	11,000	9,000	80	93 75	28,000	27,000	Middle of September. Normal.	The decrease in area is due to low price of jute obtained last year. Some damage was done by insects and floods.
Hughly ..	34,000	31,000	53	112 5	58,200	111,000	End of August ..	The weather being very favourable all through, the yield expected is above the normal. There may, however, be difficulty in steeping in many places.
Howrah ..	15,000	12,000	93	91	44,800	35,000	Third week of August. Normal.	The condition and prospects of the crop are quite fair.
Rajshahi ..	126,000	105,000	91	86	399,600	315,000	Beginning of August. Late.	The weather was not favourable at the time of sowing. Subsequently, however, the condition improved and the plants thrived well. But owing to continuous drought the tanks, the ditches and khals have become dry and great difficulty is being experienced in steeping. As a matter of fact many cultivators are not cutting the plants for difficulty of steeping. The yield would therefore be necessarily far less than that of the previous year.
Dinajpur ..	83,000	73,000	89	81	258,600	208,000	By the end of August. Late.	The low outturn is due to short rainfall during the growing period of the crop.
Jalpaiguri ..	56,000	48,000	96	79	188,000	133,000	Normal ..	The damage done by hultorms in April and subsequent heavy rains gave the crop a non-uniform growth throughout the district. Subsequent favourable weather could not improve it much.
Darjeeling ..	3,700	3,700	69	69	9,000	9,000	Last week of August.	The condition of the crop is fairly good.
Rangpur ..	352,000	309,000	99	87	1,220,000	944,000	Lowlands—July. Normal. High-lands—Beginning of September. Late.	The decrease in outturn is due to unfavourable weather.
Bogra ..	104,000	105,000	85	85	308,900	312,000	End of June ..	Owing to scarcity of rain there was no water sufficient for steeping and washing jute. The quality of the fibre is therefore very poor and many cultivators have not harvested their crop.

District.	Estimated area under jute, in acres.		Estimated outturn as a percentage of the normal yield per unit of area.		Estimated total yield, in bales of 400 lbs.		Date by which harvesting generally commenced and whether that date was early, normal or late.	Remarks by District Officers.

Pabna ..	178,000	156,000	90	89	558,500	486,000	Sadar—Middle of August. Late. Sirajganj—Middle of July. Normal.	The decrease in area is due to abnormally low price of jute last year. Want of rain at sowing time and about a month after sudden rise of rivers in June affected the growth to some extent. Want of rain and fall of river subsequently affected the steeping to some extent in August but rise of the rivers Padma and Jamuna have removed the difficulty to a great extent from the beginning of September.
Malda ..	49,000	43,000	65	51	111,000	77,000	Beginning of September. Late.	The prolonged drought has affected the outturn and also caused the harvesting to be late. There is already difficulty of water for steeping and if there be not more rain shortly much of the crop may remain unharvested and in that case the outturn will be still less.
Dacca ..	379,000	350,000	86	83	1,202,100	1,080,000	July. Normal ..	The weather was favourable at sowing time. Sudden rise of water level in April and hailstorms damaged a small area. Growth was retarded by deficiency in rainfall especially in August. Hence the outturn falls below the normal.
Mymensingh ..	730,000	602,000	95	87.8	2,564,200	2,150,000	Middle of July. Normal. (Except for the area subject to early floods.)
Faridpur ..	311,000	272,000	99	84	1,138,300	840,000	Middle of July. Normal.	The weather conditions have been generally unfavourable until very recently. Highland jute is better than lowland. The quality of the crop is reported to be comparatively inferior. The shortage of flood water has made the steeping of highland jute difficult and also of lowland jute in non-riparian areas.
Bakarganj ..	62,000	50,000	102	86	235,000	160,000	Latter part of July. A little late.	The lowlying crop has suffered much due to unfavourable condition and as such the outturn is below the normal.
Chittagong ..	200	200	95	95	700	700	Second week of August. Normal.	The crop is cultivated here for domestic use as vegetables and rope-making and not for commercial purposes.
Tippera ..	350,000	319,000	84	84	1,080,100	989,000	Latter part of July. Normal.	The outturn is below the normal owing to too much rain at the early stage and hailstorm in Chhandpur is also partly responsible for this.
Noakhali ..	72,000	56,000	81	70	218,300	146,000	July and August. Normal.	The decrease in area is due to fall of price last year. Unfavourable weather almost throughout the year is responsible for the low outturn.
Total for Bengal	3,314,900	2,928,900	10,638,300	8,995,700
Cooch Bihar ..	43,000	29,000	78	50	117,500	51,000	Third week of June to beginning of August. Normal everywhere except in Sadar where it was late.	The decrease in area is due to low price of jute last year. Estimated total yield is low due to hailstorm and excessive rain in certain parts of the State.
Tripura State ..	6,000	4,200	60	52	13,400	8,000	Second week of August. Normal.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BIHAR AND ORISSA.

Final Forecast of the Jute Crop of Bihar and Orissa, 1927.

[NOTE.—On an average of the five years ending 1925-26, the area under jute, to which the Bihar and Orissa forecast relates, represents about 9.0 per cent. of the total area under jute in British India.]

Acreage.—The final district returns of the seven jute growing districts of the province show an area under jute of 193,200 acres, as against the finally revised figure of 297,000 acres last year. But these estimates have proved to be very much too low in recent years and I have reason to believe that the area sown in the current year will be approximately 241,000 acres. There has been a noticeable decrease in area in Purnea district due to the fact that the crop fetched a very low price last year.

Weather conditions.—In March light rain fell in all the jute districts, the fall being above the normal everywhere except in Cuttack and Balasore. In April light to moderate rain fell in Balasore and scanty showers in other jute districts. In May rain fell in all districts; the fall was above the normal in Champaran and Purnea only. In June moderate rain fell in all the districts. In July rain fell in all the districts, but the fall was below the normal in Champaran, Purnea and the Santal Parganas. In August rain fell in all the districts, the fall was above the normal in Santal Parganas, Cuttack and Balasore but much below normal in Purnea and other jute districts. In Purnea Sadar, the growth of the crop was retarded for want of sufficient rain. Floods have done some damage to the crop in Cuttack and Balasore.

Outturn.—In the important jute districts of Purnea and Cuttack, the outturn of the crop has been estimated as 70 and 84 per cent. of normal respectively. Champaran reports a normal crop, i.e., 100 per cent. Bhagalpur and Santal Parganas report 93 and 90 per cent., respectively, and Muzaffarpur and Balasore report 60 and 40 per cent., respectively.

On the basis of the area and percentage outturn reported by the District Officers the total gross outturn of the crop for the province this year comes to 412,900 bales, but on the assumption that the area approximates 241,000 acres, as suggested in the preliminary forecast, and taking the normal outturn as 3.17 bales per acre, the total gross outturn of the province will approximately be 667,000 bales against 763,500 bales, the revised final estimate for last year.

The import of jute from Nepal, estimated at 50,000 bales brings the total for the province to 717,000 bales.

I have no reason to believe that the reports as to the condition of the crop are pessimistic.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Final Forecast of the Jute Crop of Bengal, 1927.

[NOTE.—On an average of the five years ending 1925-26, the area under jute in Bengal, to which this forecast relates, represents some 84.7 per cent. of the total area under jute in British India.]

Season.—Early weather conditions were generally exceptionally favourable and on this account sowings were probably larger than otherwise might have been the case. On the whole later conditions have also been favourable for growth, though excessive rain caused damage in Noakhali, and a part of Tippera, also in parts of Northern Bengal, including Jalpaiguri and Cooch Behar. In many tracts the crop may be regarded as unusually well-grown; but during July, August and the beginning of September there was considerable anxiety regarding steeping water. Good rain and a recent marked rise of the Brahmaputra river system has eased the retting situation in Eastern Bengal, but there is still difficulty in Northern Bengal and in the Presidency and Burdwan Divisions. It is even apprehended in some parts that it may not be possible to steep a portion of the crop. Such conditions are likely to adversely affect the quality of fibre produced.

Condition of the crop.—The area under jute is 2,962,100 acres, as against 3,363,900 acres (revised) last year. Since the preliminary forecast Darjeeling and Bogra have increased their jute area, while Noakhali, Cooch Behar and Tripura States have reduced theirs.

Outturn.—As in former years, the percentage figures are calculated on the basis of divisional normals which remain as follows :—

Dacca and Chittagong Divisions—3.7 bales per acre

Rajshahi Division—3.5 bales per acre.

Presidency and Burdwan Divisions—3.2 bales per acre

The total outturn of the crop is estimated at 9,054,700 bales of 400 lbs. as against 10,769,200 bales (revised) last year, a decrease of 1,714,500 bales

Stocks of old jute.—It is advisable to remark that stocks of old jute carried over from last season appear to be appreciably greater than usual.

Director of Agriculture, Bengal.

Cachar	Acres. 300	Acres. 500	Acres. 300	75	80	Bales. 1,300	Bales. 800	Latter part of August. Normal.	The weather was unfavourable at the beginning of the season on account of heavy rain but it improved afterwards and the prospects of the crop appear to be somewhat satisfactory. There was a fall in the price of jute. The flood in April damaged the crop to some extent.
Sylhet	20,000	22,000	19,000	75	80	57,700	53,200	End of July. Normal.	There was heavy rain during the early part of the season which was subsequently followed by drought. The season was on the whole not quite favourable. The increase in the cultivation of rice and the fall in price of jute also account for the decrease in area. The increase in area as compared with the preliminary forecast is due to the revised estimate in the Habiganj Subdivision. The early flood caused certain damage to the crop.
Goalpara	60,000	68,100	52,000	90	75	214,500	136,500	First part of July. Early.	The season has been unfavourable for the cultivation and growth of the jute crop and this with the low price of jute last year is responsible for the decrease in area. The area shown in the preliminary forecast which was based on the estimates of the Thana officers is not correct. Damage has been reported by insects in some places and by floods in low lands.
Kamrup	15,000	11,700	11,700	90	80	36,000	32,800	15th August. Normal.	The weather at the time of sowing was generally favourable. Since then it became unsatisfactory affecting growth to a certain extent. Damage to some extent was caused by flood and insects. The area reported in the preliminary forecast has been revised.
Darrang	12,800	20,600	19,800	85	75	61,300	50,700	Middle of July. Early.	The sowing time was not favourable owing to inadequate rain. The weather however improved afterwards by subsequent rains and was beneficial for growth of the crop. The heavy rain in June interfered with growth to some extent. On the whole the season has not been favourable. Some damage has been done to the crop by flood and insects. The area now reported has been more carefully estimated than that shown in the preliminary forecast.
Nowgong	40,000	57,000	59,500	85	80	160,600	166,800	7th July. Early.	The increase in area is due to gradual extension of cultivation. The weather has been unfavourable throughout the season owing to irregular rains. Floods and insects caused some damage to the crop.
Sibsagar	300	300	300	80	80	800	800	Middle of August. Normal.	The weather was not favourable at the beginning. It became favourable afterwards but the sudden flood in the middle of the season damaged the crop considerably.
Lakhimpur	200	600	700	80	95	1,800	2,300	Ditto	There was extension of cultivation mainly by the influx of Mymensingh settlers in the North Lakhimpur subdivision. The season was generally satisfactory although there was heavy rainfall at sowing time. The heavy flood in July caused some damage to the crop.
Garo Hills (plains).	3,300	5,200	5,200	70	80	12,700	14,600	Middle of July. Normal.	The weather was favourable during the first part of the season but unsatisfactory in the latter part. Flood damaged the crop to some extent.

RAJBARI, the 26th September 1927.

DISTRICT REPORTS ON WEATHER AND CROPS.

For the week ending on the 25th September 1927.

Summary.—During the week the rainfall was generally light excepting in parts of 24-Parganas and some North and East Bengal districts where it was heavy. Transplantation of winter paddy seedlings and harvesting of autumn crops are nearly over. More rain is still wanted for the growth of the standing crops and for the steeping of jute in some places, especially in Birbhum, Bankura, Murshidabad, Burdwan, Rajshahi, Malda and Dinajpur and in the Bhola subdivision of Bakarganj. The present outlook of the standing crops is generally fair except in parts of the districts mentioned above, where the condition of the paddy crops is reported to be poor. Distress continues to prevail in parts of Birbhum, Malda and Dinajpur. Test relief works continue at Morarol, and Nalhati in Birbhum, where 821 persons worked on the 24th September, and also at Porsha and Patnitola in Dinajpur where 2,619 persons are working daily. The average price of common rice for the province has practically remained the same as compared with that of the previous week.

RESOLUTION.POLITICAL.

Simla, the 6th October 1927.

No. D-4169.—The question of the adequacy of the censorship exercised over cinematograph films in India has been attracting for some time past increasing public attention and has more than once been brought to the notice of the Government of India by resolutions in the Indian Legislature. The Government of India came to the conclusion that the subject was one of sufficient importance and complexity to demand a thorough enquiry by a special committee, which will take evidence and obtain opinions from all parts of India. At the same time the question had been raised by a resolution of the Imperial Conference of 1926 whether the various parts of the Empire could take any steps to encourage the exhibition of Empire films. As all Governments of the Empire have been invited to consider this question, it appeared to the Government of India that it would be appropriate that it should be examined by the proposed Committee. This extension of the scope of the Committee's enquiry would also enable it to address itself to a question which may have a far-reaching influence on the development of the cinematograph in India, namely, the possibility of encouraging the production and exhibition of Indian films.

2. A resolution embodying these proposals was moved on behalf of Government during the last session in both Houses of the Legislature. The resolution was passed without dissent in the Council of State, while in the Legislative Assembly the discussion was adjourned on the understanding that Government would be free to proceed with their proposals.

3. Accordingly the Governor General in Council has decided to appoint a Committee, which will start work at an early date. The terms of reference will be as follows :—

- (1) to examine the organization and the principles and methods of the censorship of cinematograph films in India ;
 - *(2) to survey the organization for the exhibition of cinematograph films and the film producing industry in India ;
 - (3) to consider whether it is desirable that steps should be taken to encourage the exhibition of films produced within the British Empire generally and the production and exhibition of Indian films in particular ; and to make recommendations. •
4. The Committee will be composed as follows :—

Chairman.

1. Dewan Bahadur T. Rangachariar, C.I.E., Vakil, High Court, Madras.

Members.

2. The Hon'ble Khan Bahadur Sir Ebrahim Haroon Jaffer, Kt.
3. Colonel J. D. Crawford, D.S.O., M.C., M.L.A.
4. Mr. K. C. Neogy, M.L.A., Vakil, High Court, Calcutta.
5. Mr. A. M. Green, I.C.S., Collector of Customs and Member of Bombay Board of Film Censors.
6. Mr. J. Coatman, M.L.A., Director of Public Information.

Mr. G. G. Hooper, M.C., I.C.S., will act as Secretary to the Committee.

5. The Committee will visit important centres, and will take evidence on the questions stated in the terms of reference. Persons who desire to be called as witnesses should apply in writing to the Secretary, care of Home Department, Government of India, Simla, giving their full names and addresses together with a brief memorandum of the points in regard to which they desire to give evidence. It will of course rest with the Committee to decide what evidence they will hear.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of the above resolution be published in the Gazette of India and communicated to all local Governments and Administrations for information. Also that a copy be forwarded to the Secretary to the Committee for information.

RESOLUTION.

No. 15039 For.—The 13th October 1927.—The following resolution published by the Government of India, Department of Education, Health and Lands, is republished for general information.

F. A. SACHSE,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

No. 1083-F., dated Simla, the 13th September 1927.

Resolution by—The Government of India, Department of Education, Health and Lands.

The Secretary of State for India in Council, in conjunction with the Government of India, has recently had under consideration the position of Indian students who have undergone, or are now undergoing, at their own expense, a course in Forestry in the United Kingdom, but have not yet taken the entrance examination for the Indian Forest Service and have now, by reason of recent changes in the regulations governing recruitment to that service, no chance of appearing as candidates at the examination. In order to give such students an opportunity of competing at the examination held in India, the Secretary of State, in consultation with the Government of India, has decided to admit to the Indian Forest Service entrance examination to be held in this country in 1928 candidates who fall within any of the four classes named below :—

- (a) Those who are not debarred by age from appearing at the competitive examination in 1926, i.e., were under 23 then, but were too old to appear at this year's examination by reason of being over 23 on 1st April 1927 ;
- (b) Those who had obtained a degree or diploma in forestry and were under 25 years of age on the 30th June 1926 ;
- (c) Those who were qualified to take the examination this year but did not do so, perhaps on account of short notice, and will be age-barred next year ; and
- (d) Those who, having obtained a diploma or degree in forestry, were under 25 on the 30th June 1927.

2. These concessions will be incorporated in the regulations for the examination to be held in India in 1928. They will apply solely to that examination. They will not operate to allow any of the candidates in question who has appeared once at the examination to appear a second time, and are confined to Indian students who are now undergoing forestry training outside India, or were undergoing such training during 1926.

ORDERED that a copy of the resolution be forwarded for information to all Local Governments and Administrations, the Public Service Commission and Inspector-General of Forests.

ORDERED that a copy be forwarded to the Foreign and Political Department for information and favour of communication to political officers and that the resolution be published in the Gazette of India.

RESOLUTION.POLITICAL.

Simla, the 6th October, 1927.

No. D.-4169.—The question of the adequacy of the censorship exercised over cinematograph films in India has been attracting for some time past increasing public attention and has more than once been brought to the notice of the Government of India by resolutions in the Indian Legislature. The Government of India came to the conclusion that the subject was one of sufficient importance and complexity to demand a thorough enquiry by a special committee, which will take evidence and obtain opinions from all parts of India. At the same time the question had been raised by a resolution of the Imperial Conference of 1926 whether the various parts of the Empire could take any steps to encourage the exhibition of Empire films. As all Governments of the Empire have been invited to consider this question, it appeared to the Government of India that it would be appropriate that it should be examined by the proposed Committee. This extension of the scope of the Committee's enquiry would also enable it to address itself to a question which may have a far-reaching influence on the development of the cinematograph in India, namely, the possibility of encouraging the production and exhibition of Indian films.

2. A resolution embodying these proposals was moved on behalf of Government during the last session in both Houses of the Legislature. The resolution was passed without dissent in the Council of State, while in the Legislative Assembly the discussion was adjourned on the understanding that Government would be free to proceed with their proposals.

3. Accordingly the Governor General in Council has decided to appoint a Committee which will start work at an early date. The terms of reference will be as follows :—

- (1) to examine the organization and the principles and methods of the censorship of cinematograph films in India ;
- (2) to survey the organization for the exhibition of cinematograph films and the film producing industry in India ;
- (3) to consider whether it is desirable that steps should be taken to encourage the exhibition of films produced within the British Empire generally and the production and exhibition of Indian films in particular ; and to make recommendations.

4. The Committee will be composed as follows :—

Chairman.

1. Dewan Bahadur T. Rangachariar, C.I.E., Vakil, High Court, Madras.

Members.

2. The Hon'ble Khan Bahadur Sir Ebrahim Haroon Jaffer, Kt.
3. Colonel J. D. Crawford, D.S.O., M.C., M.L.A.
4. Mr. K. C. Neogy, M.L.A., Vakil, High Court, Calcutta.
5. Mr. A. M. Green, I.C.S., Collector of Customs and Member of Bombay Board of Film Censors.
6. Mr. J. Coatman, M.L.A., Director of Public Information.

Mr. G. G. Hooper, M.C., I.C.S., will act as Secretary to the Committee.

5. The Committee will visit important centres, and will take evidence on the questions stated in the terms of reference. Persons who desire to be called as witnesses should apply in writing to the Secretary, care of Home Department, Government of India, Simla, giving their full names and addresses together with a brief memorandum of the points in regard to which they desire to give evidence. It will of course rest with the Committee to decide what evidence they will hear.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of the above resolution be published in the Gazette of India and communicated to all local Governments and Administrations for information. Also that a copy be forwarded to the Secretary to the Committee for information.

RESOLUTION.

No. 15039 For.—The 13th October 1927.—The following resolution published by the Government of India, Department of Education, Health and Lands, is republished for general information.

F. A. SACHSE,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

No. 1083-F., dated Simla, the 13th September 1927.

Resolution by—The Government of India, Department of Education, Health and Lands.

The Secretary of State for India in Council, in conjunction with the Government of India, has recently had under consideration the position of Indian students who have undergone, or are now undergoing, at their own expense, a course in Forestry in the United Kingdom, but have not yet taken the entrance examination for the Indian Forest Service and have now, by reason of recent changes in the regulations governing recruitment to that service, no chance of appearing as candidates at the examination. In order to give such students an opportunity of competing at the examination held in India, the Secretary of State, in consultation with the Government of India, has decided to admit to the Indian Forest Service entrance examination to be held in this country in 1928 candidates who fall within any of the four classes named below :—

- (a) Those who are not debarred by age from appearing at the competitive examination in 1926, i.e., were under 23 then, but were too old to appear at this year's examination by reason of being over 23 on 1st April 1927 ;
- (b) Those who had obtained a degree or diploma in forestry and were under 25 years of age on the 30th June 1926 ;
- (c) Those who were qualified to take the examination this year but did not do so, perhaps on account of short notice, and will be age-barred next year ; and
- (d) Those who, having obtained a diploma or degree in forestry, were under 25 on the 30th June 1927.

2. These concessions will be incorporated in the regulations for the examination to be held in India in 1928. They will apply solely to that examination. They will not operate to allow any of the candidates in question who has appeared once at the examination to appear a second time, and are confined to Indian students who are now undergoing forestry training outside India, or were undergoing such training during 1926.

ORDERED that a copy of the resolution be forwarded for information to all Local Governments and Administrations, the Public Service Commission and Inspector-General of Forests.

ORDERED that a copy be forwarded to the Foreign and Political Department for information and favour of communication to political officers and that the resolution be published in the Gazette of India.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Second Forecast of the Cotton Crops of Bengal, 1927-28.

[NOTE.—On an average of the five years ending 1925-26, the area under the cotton crops in Bengal has represented some 0·8 per cent. of the total area under cotton in India.]

There are two crops—early and late. The “early” crop is chiefly grown in the Chittagong Hill Tracts and in the Tripura State, and to a small extent in other districts. The “late” crop is grown in Bankura and Midnapore.

Character of the season.—During the initial stages the early crop suffered from lack of rain in Midnapore and Mymensingh and from excessive rain in the Chittagong Hill Tracts and Tripura State. Subsequently, however, the conditions improved except in the Tripura State, where scanty rainfall from July up till now hampered the growth to some extent. In Bankura the weather was favourable throughout. The present outlook is generally fair and a fair outturn is expected.

Sowings of late variety commenced in Midnapore under satisfactory conditions.

Area sown.—The area sown with the early crop is reported to be 76,773 acres this year as against 75,158 acres (revised) in the corresponding forecast of last year. Of the late crop, an area of 803 acres is reported to have been sown this year as against the same area reported in the corresponding forecast of last year.

Director of Agriculture, Bengal.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Second Forecast of the Sugarcane crop of Bengal, 1927-28.

[NOTE.—On an average of the five years ending 1925-26, the area under sugarcane in Bengal has represented some 7·5 per cent. of the total area under sugarcane in British India.]

Character of the season.—As indicated in the first forecast, the weather was generally favourable both for planting and for the growth of the early crop, but subsequent scanty rainfall up to first half of May interfered with the development of the young plants, especially in some West and North Bengal districts. Although good rainfall in the latter part of May and June improved the prospects, the crop suffered much from lack of rain in July and August again. Rainfall in the beginning of September, however, has proved beneficial, and the crop is expected to be a satisfactory one for the province on the whole.

Area planted.—The total area planted with the crop for the province is reported to be 208,800 acres this year as against 199,400 and 200,800 acres reported, respectively, in the corresponding and final forecasts of last year.

Outturn.—According to the estimates of District Officers, the average outturn of the crop for the province works out 83 per cent. of the normal this year as against 82 and 80 per cent. respectively in the corresponding and final forecasts of last year.

Condition figure.—The condition figure for the cane crop is estimated at 83 per cent. as against a ten years' average of 82·5 per cent. This means that the condition of this year's crop is equal to about 101 per cent. of the ten years' average.

DISTRICT REPORTS ON WEATHER AND CROPS.

For the week ending on the 12th October 1927.

Summary.—During the week the rainfall was generally light to moderate except in Malda, the Tripura State and parts of Burdwan, Bankura, Midnapore, Jalpaiguri, Dacca and Mymensingh where it was somewhat in excess of the normal. More rain is still needed for the growth of the standing crops and for the steeping of jute in some North Bengal districts. Reaping of autumn crops and transplantation of winter paddy seedlings are over. Preparatory tillage for spring crops and sowing of kalai are progressing. Distress continues to prevail in parts of Birbhum, Dinajpur and Malda. Test relief works continue at Nalhati in Birbhum, where 310 persons worked on the 10th instant and also at Patnitola and Porsha police-stations in Dinajpur where 1,262 persons are working. The average price of common rice for the province has fallen by about 1·93 per cent. as compared with that of the previous week.

Bills Introduced in the Council of State and Legislative Assembly, Reports of Select Committees presented to the Council and Assembly, and Bills published under Rule 18 of the Indian Legislative Rules.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Bill was introduced in the Council of State on the 30th August, 1927 :—

COUNCIL OF STATE BILL NO. 7 OF 1927.

A Bill further to amend the Indian Succession Act, 1925, and the Married Women's Property Act, 1874.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Indian Succession Act, 1925, and the Married Women's Property Act, 1874, for the purposes hereinafter appearing; It is hereby enacted as follows :—

Short title

1. This Act may be called the Indian Succession (Amendment) Act, 1927.

Amendment of sections 223 and 236, Act XXXIX of 1925.

2. In sections 223 and 236 of the Indian Succession Act, 1925, the words "nor, unless the deceased was a Hindu, Muhammadan, Buddhist, Sikh or Jain or an exempted person, to a married woman without the previous consent of her husband" shall be omitted.

Insertion of new section 10 in Act III of 1874.

3. After section 9 of the Married Women's Property Act, 1874, the following heading and section shall be inserted, namely :—

"VI.— Husband's liability for wife's breach of trust or devastation.

Extent of husband's liability for wife's breach of trust or devastation.

10. Where a woman is a trustee, executrix or administratrix, either before or after marriage, her husband shall not, unless he acts or intermeddles in the trust or administration, be liable for any breach of trust committed by her, or for any misapplication, loss or damage to the estate of the deceased caused or made by her, or for any loss to such estate arising from her neglect to get in any part of the property of the deceased."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

As the result of a judgment in the Bombay High Court, that Court drew attention to the advisability of altering sections 183 and 189 of the Indian Succession Act, 1865, so as to make the consent of the husband unnecessary before the grant of probate or letters of administration to a married woman, and drew attention to the provisions of sections 8 and 13 of the Probate and Administration Act, 1881. In the Indian Succession Act, 1925, which is a consolidating Act, the provisions of sections 183 and 189 of the Indian Succession Act, 1865, and of sections 8 and 13 of the Probate and Administration Act, 1881, have been reproduced in sections 223 and 236.

Sections 183 and 189 of the Indian Succession Act, 1865, were based on the English law as it then existed. Since 1865, however, the law in England has considerably changed and the consent of a husband is no longer necessary. It is desirable to bring the Indian law into conformity with English law, and amendments of sections 223 and 236 of the Indian Succession Act with this object are accordingly proposed.

In English law there is a provision that a husband is not liable for any breach of trust, loss or misapplication committed by any woman as a trustee, executrix or administratrix, unless he has acted or intermeddled in the trust or administration. It is desirable that in this respect also Indian law shall be brought into line with English law, and a new section is therefore proposed to be added to the Married Women's Property Act, 1874.

The following Bill was introduced in the Council of State on the 30th August, 1927 :—

COUNCIL OF STATE BILL NO. 10 OF 1927.

A Bill to enable bodies corporate to hold property in joint ownership.

WHEREAS it is expedient to enable bodies corporate to hold property in joint ownership; It is hereby enacted as follows :—

Short title and extent.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Bodies Corporate (Joint Ownership) Act, 1927.

(2) It extends to the whole of British India, including British Baluchistan and the Sonthal Parganas.

Power for corporations to hold property as joint owners.

2. (1) A body corporate shall be capable of acquiring and holding any moveable or immoveable property in joint ownership in the same manner as if it were an individual; and where a body corporate and an individual, or two or more bodies corporate, become entitled to any such property under circumstances or by virtue of any instrument which would, if the body corporate had been an individual, have created a joint ownership, they shall be entitled to the property as joint owners :

Provided that the acquisition and holding of property by a body corporate in joint ownership shall be subject to the like conditions and restrictions as attach to the acquisition and holding of property by a body corporate in severalty.

(2) Where a body corporate is joint owner of any property, then on its dissolution the property shall devolve on the other joint owner.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Section 4 (1) (a) of the Indian Securities Act, 1920, lays down that when a Government security is payable to two or more persons jointly, and either or any of them dies, the security shall be payable to the survivor or survivors of those persons. Though by virtue of section 3 (39) of the General Clauses Act, 1897, "persons" includes a company or association or body of individuals, whether incorporated or not, this definition has been held to be repugnant to section 4 (1) of the Indian Securities Act, as a corporation or association may be dissolved but cannot die and there can, therefore, be no survivorship as contemplated in the latter section. Thus the law as it stands precludes the possibility of a Government promissory note being held by a corporate body jointly with an individual or with another corporate body. The position as regards joint ownership of this nature was the same in England before the passing of the Bodies Corporate (Joint Tenancy) Act, 1899.

In accordance with the above view of the law, Government and the Public Debt Offices have been treating as invalid all endorsements on Government promissory notes in favour of a company jointly with an individual. The Public Debt Office, Bombay, has been addressed on more than one occasion by corporate bodies regarding the admissibility of joint ownership of Government securities on the lines recognised by the law in England, and the Controller of the Currency has recently reported that instances of such endorsements are coming to his notice and that he has been compelled to treat them as invalid. It is, therefore, necessary to undertake legislation to remove this technical difficulty. But as there is no reason why the principle of joint ownership should be confined to securities only, it is proposed to legislate generally on the lines of the Bodies Corporate (Joint Tenancy) Act, 1899.

The following Bill was introduced in the Council of State on the 30th August, 1927 :—

COUNCIL OF STATE BILL NO. 11 OF 1927.

A Bill further to amend the Presidency-towns Insolvency Act, 1909, for certain purposes.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Presidency-towns Insolvency Act, 1909, for the purposes hereinafter appearing ; It is hereby enacted as follows :—

Short title.

1. This Act may be called the Presidency-towns Insolvency (Amendment) Act, 1927.

Amendment of section 7, Act III of 1909.

2. To section 7 of the Presidency-towns Insolvency Act, 1909 (hereinafter referred to as the said Act), the following proviso shall be added, namely :—

“ Provided that, unless all the parties otherwise agree, the power hereby given shall, for the purpose of deciding any matter arising under section 36, be exercised only in the manner and to the extent provided in that section.”

Amendment of section 15, Act III of 1909.

3. After sub-section (2) of section 15 of the said Act, the following sub-section shall be added, namely :—

“(3) On the making of the order admitting his petition, a debtor shall—

(a) unless the Court otherwise directs, produce all his books of account, and

(b) file such lists of creditors and debtors and afford such assistance to the Court as may be prescribed, failing which the Court may dismiss his petition.”

Amendment of section 36, Act III of 1909.

4. In sub-sections (4) and (5) of section 36 of the said Act, for the words “ If, on the examination of any such person, the Court is satisfied,” the words “ If on his examination any such person admits ” shall be substituted.

Amendment of section 112, Act III of 1909.

5. After clause (k) of sub-section (2) of section 112 of the said Act, the following clause shall be inserted, namely :—

“(kk) filing of lists of creditors and debtors and the affording of assistance to the Court by a petitioning debtor.”

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Section 7 of the Presidency-towns Insolvency Act, 1909 (III of 1909), gives the Insolvency Court, subject to the provisions of the Act, full power "to decide all questions of priorities, and all other questions whatsoever, whether of law or fact, which may arise in any case of insolvency coming within the cognisance of the Court, or which the Court may deem it expedient or necessary to decide for the purpose of doing complete justice or making a complete distribution of property in any such case".

Section 36 empowers the Court inter alia to summon before it any person "supposed to be indebted to the insolvent," and to require such person to produce before it any documents in his custody or power relating to the insolvent, his dealings or property. If on such examination of such person, the Court is satisfied that he is indebted to the insolvent, it may, on the application of the Official Assignee, order him to pay to the Official Assignee the amount in which he is indebted. This section taken alone does not empower a Court to enquire into and decide a claim which the alleged debtor does not admit.

2. The two sections are to some extent opposed to each other, and the practice of the Courts, as a result, is not uniform. The Calcutta High Court gives the greater weight to section 36 on matters coming within the scope of that section, and realises debts from debtors of the insolvent only when those debts are admitted. The Madras High Court, on the other hand, gives greater weight to section 7 and decides, as part of the insolvency proceedings, disputes between the Official Assignee and the alleged debtors of the insolvent. The Civil Justice Committee discussed the matter in paragraph 29 of Chapter XIV of their report (page 241).

3. It is considered expedient to amend the Act so as to secure uniformity of practice, and references to the various High Courts have shown that the Calcutta practice is generally preferred. Clauses 2 and 4 of the Bill secure that this practice shall be generally followed and are designed to remove the opposition between section 7 and section 36 by providing that the latter section shall prevail in matters falling within its scope. The amendments are so drafted that they will not prevent the Court from deciding a dispute between the parties concerned if they submit themselves to its jurisdiction.

4. The amendments to section 36 also help to make the position clear, and bring the wording of that section into line with section 25 of the English Bankruptcy Act of 1914.

5. Further, under section 112 of the Act, the Bombay and Rangoon High Courts have made rules under which every debtor who files a petition for adjudication as an insolvent is obliged to lodge forthwith in the office of the Official Assignee all books, papers, writings, accounts, and vouchers relating to his estate with a list thereof signed by himself, and also a statement of his moveable and immoveable estates. The Calcutta High Court has, as a matter of practice but without making any rules, similarly required such a petitioner, except when very special reasons to the contrary were shown to exist, to lodge his books of account, explain the position of his affairs to the Official Assignee, and furnish a list of the names and addresses of all debtors and creditors, before the passing of an adjudication order. This practice has been declared to be ultra vires in a judicial decision of that Court, and as the legality of the rules framed by the other High Courts in this matter might also be successfully challenged, it is proposed to amend sections 15 and 112 of the Act in the manner indicated in the Bill. Clauses 3 and 5 are intended to give effect to this proposal.

The following Bill was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 18th August, 1927 :—

L. A. BILL NO. 38 OF 1927.

VIII of 1894.

VIII of 1878.

Amendment of Act XXV of 1925.

4. The second item of the Schedule to the Bamboo Paper Industry (Protection) Act, 1925, is hereby repealed.

XXV of 1925.

THE SCHEDULE.

AMENDMENTS TO BE MADE IN SCHEDULE II TO THE INDIAN TARIFF ACT, 1894.

(See section 2.)

For Items Nos. 155 and 156, the following shall be substituted, namely :—

“ 155	PRINTING PAPER (excluding chrome, marble, flint, poster and stereo), all sorts which contain no mechanical wood pulp or in which the mechanical wood pulp amounts to less than 65 per cent. of the fibre content.	Pound.	One anna.
156	WRITING PAPER—
	(a) Ruled or printed forms (including letter paper with printed headings) and account and manuscript books and the binding thereof.	Pound.	One anna or 15 per cent. ad valorem , whichever is higher.
	(b) All other sorts	“	One anna ”

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

This Bill amends in three respects the Bamboo Paper Industry (Protection) Act, 1925, which added entries 155 and 156 in the Import Tariff Schedule (Schedule II to the Indian Tariff Act, 1894).

2. Firstly, by entry 155 a protective duty of one anna per pound was imposed on printing paper containing less than 65 per cent. of mechanical wood pulp, the intention being to exclude newsprint (which usually contains 65 per cent. or more of mechanical pulp) from the protective duty, and leave it under the revenue duty of 15 per cent. ad valorem. It has recently been held, however, that entry 155, as worded, excludes from the protective duty not only 'newsprint' as defined by the Tariff Board, but also paper containing no mechanical wood pulp at all. The effect is that the protective duty does not apply to a class of imported paper with which paper manufactured in India particularly competes, and to this extent the Act fails of its intended purpose.

This Bill, therefore, makes printing paper containing no mechanical wood pulp liable to the protective duty of one anna per pound, with retrospective effect from the 21st September, 1925, the date on which the Bamboo Paper Industry (Protection) Act became law.

The Bill also empowers the Governor-General in Council to recover the difference between the protective duty and the duty at 15 per cent. ad valorem in the case of all paper containing no mechanical wood pulp on which duty has been paid at 15 per cent. ad valorem only, and which was imported between the 21st September, 1925, and the date on which this Bill becomes law.

3. Secondly, for more than a year after the passing of the Act, the Customs authorities calculated the percentage of mechanical wood pulp mentioned in entry 155 on the fibre content of the paper; but in January, 1927, it was held that the entry, as worded, required that the percentage should be calculated on the total weight of the paper, including 'loading'. It was represented by importers that the effect of this interpretation was to bring within the scope of the protective duty large quantities of imported 'newsprint' which it was the intention of the Legislature to exclude, and the Tariff Board was, therefore, asked to report whether any, and if so what, changes were desirable in those entries in the Tariff Schedule which regulate the duty payable on newsprint.

The Board has recommended that entry 155 should be amended so as to make it clear that the percentage is to be calculated on the fibre content and not on the total weight. The effect will be to exclude from the operation of the protective duty certain classes of newsprint which were actually excluded up to January, 1927, but have since been included. This Bill gives effect to the Tariff Board's recommendation.

4. Thirdly, by entry 156 a protective duty of one anna per pound was imposed on writing paper, including ruled or printed forms and account and manuscript books and the binding thereof. It has been represented that this protective duty is in some cases substantially less than the former revenue duty of 15 per cent. ad valorem. Thus the Act is not only causing an unnecessary loss of revenue, but is also depriving the printing trade in India of the tariff assistance which it previously enjoyed. This Bill, therefore, amends entry 156 so as to make the duty one anna per pound or 15 per cent. ad valorem, whichever is higher.

LOCAL SELF-GOVERNMENT DEPARTMENT.

DARJEELING, THE 8TH OCTOBER 1927.

RESOLUTION—No. 86T.-P.H.

READ—

The report on the working of the Asansol Mines Board of Health for the year 1926-27.

The constitution and personnel of the Board remained unchanged during the year under review.

Eleven ordinary and eight special meetings were held during the year : one special meeting failed for want of quorum.

The total income of the Board including an opening balance of Rs. 90,130 amounted to Rs. 2,25,955 during the year, of which Rs. 1,10,342 was collected from mine-owners and Rs. 20,508 from receivers of royalties.

The decrease was due to the reduction in the rate of cess. Miscellaneous receipts rose from Rs. 1,913 to Rs. 2,032. The total expenditure amounted to Rs. 1,20,328, leaving a closing balance of Rs. 1,05,628. This large balance is explained by (a) better collection of cess during the year and (b) the fact that owing to the non-completion of land acquisition proceedings the building programme for the year could not be carried out.

3. Owing to wholesale re-vaccination the epidemic of small-pox which threatened the mining settlement from the previous year was held in check, and there was a considerable fall in the number of cases from the month of May 1926. The total number of cases recorded during the year was 1,374, of which 162 cases proved fatal as against 1,129 cases with 126 deaths during the previous year. The number of primary and secondary vaccinations performed during the year was 16,736 and 46,096 as against 18,775 and 65,795, respectively, during the preceding year.

4. The settlement was practically free from malaria, the number of cases and deaths from this disease being much below the average. There was no case of plague or of epidemic dropsy throughout the year. There were altogether 815 cases of cholera with 462 deaths as against 415 seizures with 206 deaths in the previous year. It is satisfactory to note that the spread of the disease was in all cases prevented by the various routine measures of disinfection carried out by the Board's staff and by the regular administration of essential oils, cholera prophylactic to all house contacts.

The birth-rate decreased from 30·20 per mille to 26·16, while there was an increase in the death-rate which was 18·48 against 16·83 per mille in the preceding year. The total number of births recorded during the year was 8,733 against 9,945 in 1925-26, while the number of recorded deaths increased from 5,544 to 6,086.

There was an increase in the rate of infantile mortality which was 138 per thousand of births registered against 120 during the preceding year. The infantile mortality rate for the year under review, though a little higher than that of the previous year, continues to compare favourably with that recorded anywhere else in India. It is gratifying to note that as, in previous years, not a single maternal death occurred amongst several hundred deliveries attended by the Board's midwives.

The Board continued to pay attention to such special measures as anti-malarial investigation, improvement of rural water-supply, medical inspection of school children, and delivery of weekly lectures by the sanitary assistants in primary schools on hygiene and public health, while the midwives of the Board, in addition to their specific duties, paid house to house visits and delivered simple lectures on the general principles of cleanliness and domestic hygiene to women of the settlement.

The sanitary administration of the settlement area maintained the same degree of efficiency as in the preceding year. The Government of Bengal desire once more to congratulate the Board on the high standard of their administration.

It may, however, be added that the value of the reports submitted by the Board would be greatly enhanced if they contained more detailed information regarding health conditions in the various parts of the area under the Board's control. When full effect has been given to the Bengal rural public health organization scheme the whole province, apart from certain outlying areas, will be provided with a sanitary staff similar to that employed by the Board but dealing with larger units of area and less thoroughly equipped with funds and legal powers. The experience gained on the data collected by the Asansol Mines Board of Health should be at the disposal of the Department of Public Health in the completest possible form to assist that department in directing the activities of the staff employed under the rural public health organization scheme.

J. G. DRUMMOND,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

CALCUTTA, the 20th October 1927.

DISTRICT REPORTS ON WEATHER AND CROPS.

For the week ending on the 19th October 1927.

Summary.—During the week the rainfall was light to moderate in East and in parts of North Bengal excepting in the district of Chittagong where the fall was heavy. Elsewhere it was generally scattered. More rain is badly needed especially in the Burdwan and in parts of the Rajshahi Divisions for the growth of standing crops. Preparatory tillage for and sowings in some places of spring crops continue satisfactorily except in Malda where the progress is slow for want of adequate rain. Distress continues to prevail in parts of Birbhum, Dinajpur and Malda. Test relief works continue at Nalhati in Birbhum, where 144 persons worked on the 16th instant and also at Patnitola and Porsha police-stations in Dinajpur where 1,318 persons worked on the 11th instant. The average price of common rice for the province has risen by about 1·66 per cent. as compared with that of the previous week.

Candidates who at the ordinary session fall short of this adequate proficiency but show such minimum proficiency as is evidence that with a moderate amount of practice they can attain full proficiency, will receive marks ranging between 1 and 100; they will be allowed to proceed to India and will on their arrival there be subjected to such further tests in riding as may be prescribed by their Local Government.*

Any candidate who at the ordinary session fails to show a minimum proficiency will be examined again at a special session. If he then attains adequate proficiency he will not be subjected to further tests in India. If he attains minimum proficiency he will be allowed to proceed to India under the same condition as if he had attained minimum proficiency at the ordinary session. No credit in marks will be given for any performance at a special session.

Probationers may also be examined in riding at such time or times as the Commissioners may appoint during the course of the probationary period.

(11) The selected candidates whose performance in the compulsory subjects† of the Final Examination is such as to satisfy the Civil Service Commissioners, and who have also satisfied the Commissioners of their eligibility in respect of nationality, age, health, character, and conduct during the period of probation, shall be certified by the Commissioners to be entitled to be appointed to the Indian Civil Service, provided that they shall comply with the Regulations in force, at the time, for that Service.

(12) If any candidate is prevented by sickness or any other adequate cause from attending the Final Examination, the Commissioners may, with the concurrence of the Secretary of State for India in Council, allow him to appear at the Final Examination to be held in the following year, or at a special examination. A selected candidate absent for such adequate cause from the Intermediate Examination may, under similar conditions, be allowed to appear at the Intermediate Examination a year later or at a special examination, or may be excused the Intermediate Examination and allowed to appear for the Final Examination in regular course.

Any candidate who at the Intermediate Examination shall appear to have wilfully neglected his studies, or to be physically incapacitated for pursuing the prescribed course of training, will be liable to have his name removed from the list of selected candidates.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

made by the Civil Service Commissioners with the authority of the Secretary of State for India in Council:—

(i) Selected candidates will be allotted to the various provinces upon a consideration of all the circumstances, including their own wishes; but the requirements of the Public Service will rank before every other consideration.

* Such candidates will receive no increase to their initial pay until they have passed the further tests in question to the satisfaction of their Local Government.

† The compulsory subjects include riding, and a candidate who fails at the end of the period of probation to satisfy the Civil Service Commissioners that he has reached the minimum standard of proficiency in riding will be liable to have his name removed from the list of selected candidates.

(ii) An allowance of £300 a year, or, in the case of selected candidates possessing an Indian domicile, an allowance of £350 a year, will be given to any candidate who passes his probation at one of the universities or other institutions that have been approved for the purpose by the Secretary of State for India in Council.

In the case of selected candidates on probation for one year the allowance will be payable in four equal instalments on the following dates respectively: December 24th after his selection, March 25th, June 25th and after signature of Covenant on appointment to the Service.

In the case of selected candidates on probation for two years the allowance will be payable in eight equal instalments, the first on the December 24th after selection, the second to the seventh on the six following quarter days, and the eighth after signature of Covenant on appointment to the Service.

The payment of the various instalments of the allowance except the final instalment, and, in the case of the two-year probationers, the instalment payable at the end of the first year of probation, will be conditional on the receipt by the Secretary of State through the Civil Service Commissioners of a certificate that the candidate has fulfilled up to date the requirements of the authorities and shown satisfactory conduct at the approved institution.

If an Indian Government scholar becomes a selected candidate for the Indian Civil Service, his scholarship stipend shall cease to be paid with effect from the 1st October of the year in which he becomes a selected candidate. He may, however, provided he has executed the agreement referred to in (iv) below, be granted on, or at any time after, the 1st October, an advance on account of the instalment of the allowance payable on the 24th December.

The whole probation must ordinarily be passed at the same institution. Migration will not be permitted except for special reasons approved by the Secretary of State.

N.B.—The Secretary of State for India gives notice that the amount of the allowances will be reconsidered in 1928, with a view to a possible reduction with effect from the instalment payable in December, 1928.

(iii) A first class passage to India will be engaged for selected candidates with a view to their proceeding to India during the November following their Final Examination.

(iv) Each candidate will be required before receiving the first instalment of his allowance to execute an agreement binding himself and one surety jointly and severally to refund all moneys he may have received from the Secretary of State for India in the event of—

- (1) his failure to pass the Final Examination within the time prescribed by the Regulations, and to satisfy the Civil Service Commissioners of his fitness for admission to the Indian Civil Service, or
- (2) his subsequent failure to execute the usual covenant, and to proceed to India, as and when he shall be directed by the Secretary of State for India.

(v) All candidates obtaining certificates will be also required to enter into covenants by which, amongst other things, they will bind themselves to make such payments as under the rules and regulations for the time being in force they may be required to make for the pensions of their families. The stamps payable on these covenants amount to £1.

(vi) Candidates appointed to the Indian Civil Service after undergoing one year's probation will be senior to those appointed in the same year after undergoing two years' probation. The seniority of candidates of each class inter se will be determined by the order in which their names appear on the lists referred to in clause (10) of the Regulations.

(vii) Candidates who fail to satisfy the Civil Service Commissioners at the Final Examination held in any year will be definitely rejected, and will not be allowed to present themselves for re-examination, unless it shall appear to the Secretary of State in Council, after reference to the Civil Service Commissioners, that such failure is due to circumstances wholly exceptional and beyond the control of the candidate.

(viii) "Overseas pay" will not be admissible to Indian members of the Indian Civil Service selected at Open Competitive Examinations held in London in 1925 and subsequent years.

73. The Embarkation Agent, Goalundo, or other officer shall thereupon examine the fittings; and, after satisfying himself that the requirements of the rules have been complied with, may grant a certificate of approval, in Form No. 5, specifying the number of emigrant passengers that the vessel may carry.

74. The master of any vessel intending to carry emigrants as passengers under his license shall provide the following:—

- (a) Stores, medicines, medical comforts and cooking utensils in accordance with the requirements of Schedules A, B and C.
- (b) A medical officer licensed by the Embarkation Agent, Goalundo.
- (c) The establishment of attendants as prescribed in schedule D.

Every medical officer licensed under this rule shall be a registered medical practitioner unless the special permission of Government is obtained to the appointment of a qualified compounder. So much of this and other rules framed under the Assam Labour and Emigration Act as relates to the appointment and functions of a medical officer on vessels carrying emigrants shall be inapplicable in the cases of vessels proceeding to the districts of Cachar and Sylhet with less than fifty emigrants on board:

Provided that—

- (i) the Medical Inspector of Emigrants at Goalundo may declare that in any particular case a medical officer of the compounder class shall be carried and for the purposes of this proviso two compounders shall be kept in reserve;
- (ii) where there is no medical officer on board, all intending emigrants shall be carefully examined before embarkation, and
- (iii) the master shall put in at the nearest dispensary in the event of an accident occurring or of disease or illness breaking out, and disembark the emigrants affected for examination and treatment.

75. A special examination shall invariably be made by the Medical Inspector of any vessel in which much sickness has occurred on the voyage immediately preceding; and the license applied for by the master shall not be granted unless the master carries out such measures of cleaning, disinfecting, deck-caulking, etc., as the Medical Inspector may think necessary: If a vessel is found to be recurringly unhealthy for emigrants after material alterations and improvements have been made in her accommodation, a license shall be refused her.

76. After everything has been examined and approved, the master and the medical officer shall sign the prescribed provision and medical store lists and final landing statements (Forms Nos. 8, 9 and 10 respectively), and when the Embarkation Agent is satisfied that all is correct, and that the master of the steamer has a copy of the Act and rules, he may grant a license in Form No. 6 or 7 to the master of the vessel.

77. Persons other than emigrants may be accommodated on board the same vessel with the emigrants and on the same deck provided that the total number under conveyance does not exceed the maximum number specified in the license; but such persons shall on no consideration be permitted to locate themselves within the spaces specially allotted for the use of emigrants proceeding under the Act.

78. Horses, pigs and other animals shall not be allowed on the same deck with the emigrants.

79. The master shall see that the deck space for emigrants is kept clear of cargo, etc., so long as emigrants are under conveyance, and that ladders, stages, etc., are safely secured and railed with a double railing.

80. The master of an emigrant vessel and the medical officer in charge shall conjointly be responsible for the care and good treatment of the emigrants during the passage. The medical officer shall strictly carry out the special instructions contained in Form No. 11 delivered to him by the Embarkation Agent for his guidance.

81. The medical officer shall insist upon the establishment specially entertained for attendance on the emigrants discharging their duties punctually and properly; and the master shall render all the assistance in his power to the medical officer, in order that he may maintain discipline on board and conform strictly with all the requirements of the rules regulating transport.

82. Peons, garden sardars or other persons in charge of emigrants shall obey the instructions of the master and the medical officer, and shall immediately report to them any neglect of duty or occurrence of disease or accidents or disagreements affecting the emigrants. The master and the medical officer shall thoroughly investigate the matter under report as soon as possible thereafter.

83. Peons and sardars shall have their day and night duties fairly divided and clearly defined. When there are sick emigrants in hospital, peons, sardars and tonazes shall be deputed to hospital duty so that the sick may constantly be cared for, and the attendants on duty shall be regularly relieved by others in rotation. The careful night nursing of the sick by the attendants shall be strictly insisted on and looked to by the medical officer.

84. As soon after the embarkation as possible, the emigrants shall be comfortably berthed and their bundles searched for any indigestible food, grain or old rags they may have contrived to take with them, all of which shall be thrown overboard or burned either in the engine furnaces or on shore in the presence of the medical officer. This precaution shall receive repeated attention throughout the passage.

85. It shall be the duty of the steamer companies to adopt such measures as may be considered necessary for preventing the sale of unwholesome food to emigrants at the steamer ghats.

86. The decks shall be swept morning and evening and after every meal and shall always be kept clean and dry, but shall be washed only when weather, time and other circumstances permit the emigrants being landed or accommodated on another deck till their deck is thoroughly dry. The emigrants' deck space shall not be encroached upon in any way by either crew or passengers other than emigrants, nor shall they be permitted to interfere with the emigrants.

87. The latrines shall be constantly cleaned and disinfected. Attention shall also be paid to the cleanliness and disinfection of the bed-pans when in use.

88. Whenever the weather permits, the side curtains shall be raised to admit of free perfiation of air, and under all circumstances thorough ventilation shall be promoted by every available means.

89. The emigrants on rising in the morning shall, after well shaking them, fold and sling their blankets out of the way.

90. The emigrants shall be mustered every morning and examined by the medical officer. Those who are well shall, weather permitting, bathe daily, and wash their clothes at least twice a week.

91. Emigrants' clothes, mats and blankets shall be aired and put in the sun as often as possible, especially after damp weather.

92. Rations shall be issued daily by the medical officer according to the scale prescribed in schedule A, and sufficiently early to admit of the food being prepared for distribution punctually at 9 o'clock in the forenoon and 4 o'clock in the afternoon; and all such issues, as well as those of medical comforts, shall immediately thereafter be entered by such officer in the prescribed provision and other lists, and certified by him and the master concerned. Boiling rice in bad water shall not be permitted; and when the food is ready, the medical officer shall invariably satisfy himself as to its being properly cooked, and shall see that it is fairly distributed. Stale food shall not be kept by either cooks or emigrants and all utensils shall be cleaned out and shown to the medical officer after each meal. Motherless infants and invalids shall have suitable and freshly prepared food (milk, soup, sago, etc.), ordered for them every three or four hours.

In the case of those emigrants who object to eat the food prepared for them on board, flour, in the prescribed quantity, shall be supplied to them, together with the other articles of uncooked rations (except rice) prescribed in schedule A, and every facility shall be afforded them to cook their own food. Should they, however, prefer it, they may be supplied with chura and gur or suttoo, according to choice.

93. A constant supply of good drinking water shall be kept up in the tanks. These shall be used alternately, the water in each being allowed to settle after the addition of alum in the proportion of 6 grains to the gallon; and pinked with permanganate and every effort shall be made to prevent emigrants from drinking the river-water fresh drawn from the side of the vessel. The water shall be pumped directly into the tanks from the river in midstream and clear from all possible risk of pollution from the latrine, etc.

94. Emigrants on board streamers and flats shall not be allowed to draw water from the river over the sides of the vessels and thereby to incur the risk of accidents.

95. Emigrant passengers, as a rule, shall not be required to labour during the passage, but in exceptional cases of urgent necessity only such of them as are considered by the medical officer to be well fitted for work may be employed, provided that such work is free from extraordinary risk to life, and that the master supplies those so employed with extra rations at the rate of two-and-a-half chittaks of rice and half a chittak of dal for each man per diem.

96. The master of every licensed vessel on arrival at every port of inspection shall report to the Magistrate or Civil Surgeon the number of passengers and crew on board, the general state of their health and the number of deaths that occurred on the passage; and omission to do so shall entail prosecution or refusal of license to carry emigrants thereafter.

97. The master or the medical officer shall place the way-bill (Form No. 14) of the vessel received from any Embarkation Agent before the inspecting officers at each port of inspection, in order that they may enter their remarks on the several points indicated in such way-bill.

98. The master and the medical officer shall furnish to inspecting officers all necessary information, and shall afford them every facility for the satisfactory discharge of their duties under the provisions of the Act and rules.

99. The master of a licensed vessel at the close of every trip shall prepare in duplicate a mortality return (Form No. 15) in the prescribed form showing the deaths that occurred during the trip among the crew and passengers and shall forward one of these returns to the Embarkation Agent at Goalundo, for information and transmission to the Superintendent of Emigration, Calcutta, and the other to the Director of Public Health, Assam.

100. Every medical officer proceeding in charge of emigrants shall keep a medical diary in the prescribed form (No. 12), as well as a journal of the principal events of the passage, and shall write them up daily and carefully. He shall moreover, on arrival at every inspection station, place the above documents before the inspecting officers for their initials against the latest entry. Every death shall be reported immediately to the master of the steamer, who, if there be no relatives on board entitled thereto, shall take over charge of any property or money left by the deceased, and shall deliver the same to the Magistrate at the next station, or at the last place of debarkation for disposal.

The master of the steamer shall forward the medical diary direct to the Director of Public Health, Assam, and the journal to the Embarkation Agent, Goalundo, at the close of every trip.

101. The medical officer shall also keep a separate cholera register in the prescribed form (Form No. 13) and shall enter in it all necessary particulars regarding each cholera case that occurs. At the close of each trip on which any case of cholera has occurred this register will be sent to the Director of Public Health, Assam, along with the way-bill and the medical diary. A copy of the cholera register should also be sent to the Embarkation Agent at Goalundo.

102. Every medical officer proceeding in charge of emigrants shall, in case of misconduct or neglect of his duties, or of the requirements of the rules regulating transport, be liable to dismissal on the requisition of any Medical Inspector or other officer so empowered.

103. The medical officer shall be responsible for keeping up those parts of Forms Nos. 8 and 9 which relate to the daily issue of provisions and of medical stores and comforts, they shall be filled in regularly every day and submitted for inspection to the inspecting officers when they visit the vessel at the close of the passage.

104. All extra food and any change in diet shall be regulated by the medical officer only, on his own responsibility.

PART IV—PENALTY.

105. Whoever commits a breach of any of the rules contained in this chapter shall be punishable with fine which may extend to five hundred rupees.

CHAPTER VII.

Procedure to be followed on the occurrence of cholera and other infectious diseases as small-pox, plague, influenza, etc.

106. (1) In the event of cholera, small-pox, plague, enteric, kala-azar, influenza or other epidemic or infectious disease, occurring in any place of accommodation, or in any rest-house on the emigrant route, the person in charge shall take immediate steps to secure the removal of the emigrant attacked to the hospital approved by Government.

(2) All cases and deaths from infectious diseases shall be notified at once to the nearest local authority.

(3) A separate register shall be maintained for cases and deaths of infectious diseases by the Superintendent of Emigration.

(4) Disinfectants, e.g., (i) chlorinated lime, (ii) permanganate of potash, (iii) cyllin, (iv) cyllin soap, (v) towels, basins, etc., shall be stored in a sufficient quantity in all places of accommodation and rest houses.

107. When any emigrant has been removed to hospital the person in charge shall carefully disinfect the clothing and belongings of all others occupying the same shed, whether they belong to the infected batch or not, and shall in the meantime supply to each one fresh clothing and shall remove each such one from such shed to the segregation shed which shall be built apart from the rest house, or place of accommodation, and shall provide sufficient accommodation for at least twenty-five per cent. of the number for which a certificate is granted for the rest house. If the segregation shed is not large enough to hold all, the excess number may be accommodated in some vacant shed within the premises of the rest house, or place of accommodation. It is at the discretion of the Superintendent of Emigration or District Magistrate to exempt such place of accommodation, as he may think fit, from the necessity of having a segregation shed.

108. (1) When any shed in which a case of cholera has occurred has been vacated in pursuance of rule 107, the person in charge shall, under the advice and superintendence of the Medical Inspector or Emigration Officer, as the case may be, (i) have the wood-work, floor and other parts of the shed thoroughly cleaned and disinfected, (ii) freely admit light and air, (iii) have the floor dug up and the earth disinfected and burnt or buried. If the floor is a cemented one, however, it will be sufficient to have it thoroughly washed with disinfectants.

(2) Cholera stools or vomit shall not be thrown into or near any tank or well nor kept exposed to flies but shall be immediately disinfected by covering it with quicklime (chlorinated lime) or pouring on them a disinfectant, e.g., cyllin solution.

(3) Soiled clothes shall not be washed in or near any source of water-supply nor exposed to flies nor buried in the ground. They shall be burnt immediately or thoroughly disinfected by keeping them immersed in a disinfectant such as chlorinated lime or cyllin lotion for at least 15 minutes.

(4) The inmates of the rest house shall be provided with water that has been chlorinated or treated with permanganate of potash. All food should be protected from flies.

(5) Wells or tanks situated in the rest house should be chlorinated or treated with permanganate of potash and protected from pollution.

(6) Every one who attends a patient or touches his or her body or clothing or assists at his or her funeral shall wash his hands with soap and hot water and a disinfectant such as chlorinated lime solution or cyllin lotion.

109. Contacts of small-pox and plague cases shall, if necessary, in the opinion of the medical officer, be vaccinated or inoculated as the case may be.

110. Emigrants who are detained in a segregation shed under observation shall not leave the precincts of such shed until permitted by the Emigration Officer or Medical Inspector, as the case may be, to do so.

111. The period of segregation shall be three days in cholera, 12 days in small-pox, 8 days in plague and influenza and such period shall be calculated from the time of their admission into the segregation shed, provided that no fresh case occurs during the said period, in which case the days shall begin to count from the date of the last case that may occur during their segregation.

112. No fresh batch of emigrants shall be admitted by the person in charge into any shed in a rest house, or place of accommodation in which a case of infectious disease has broken out—

(a) until those attacked are removed to the segregation shed if such be practicable, and all the other emigrants occupying the shed, in which the case occurs, are removed to a segregation shed with the prescribed accommodation required by the rules. The segregation shed to be at such distance from the rest house, or place of accommodation as the Superintendent of Emigration, Emigration Officer or Magistrate thinks necessary;

(b) nor until the shed in which cholera and other infectious diseases have broken out and into which it is desired to again admit the emigrants is thoroughly cleaned and disinfected, in the case of depots or rest houses, to the satisfaction of the Medical Inspector or Emigration Officer concerned, whose permission to receive other emigrants into the rest house will not be given until this is done.

113. When cholera and other infectious diseases broke out in a rest house, the person in charge shall advise the persons in charge of the place of accommodation or other rest house along the route, not to despatch more emigrants, or intending emigrants, until the provisions of rule 112 have been fully complied with and until authorised to do so by the Emigration Officer.

114. To each person detained in a segregation shed, the person in charge of the rest house, or place of accommodation, shall supply two meals of any of the three kinds specified in rule 31 according to the choice of each emigrant, every day during the period of segregation.

115. The daily charge for the treatment of each emigrant in hospital shall be eight annas, and shall be paid by the local agent, or the person in charge of the rest house or place of accommodation, from which the emigrant was taken to hospital.

116. The charge for the removal of each sick emigrant from any railway station or from any rest house, or place of accommodation to the hospital, shall be borne by the local agent or garden sardar or person in charge of the emigrant, or of the rest house, or place of accommodation.

117. The person in charge of the rest house, or place of accommodation shall make all necessary arrangements for the disposal, either by burning or burial, of the bodies of emigrants, or intending emigrants, in his charge who die either in his rest house, or place of accommodation, or in the cholera hospital, and shall defray all expenses connected therewith.

118. Emigrants suffering from slight illness may be attended in their berths; but all serious cases shall be treated in hospital. Patients attacked by cholera or other dangerously communicable disease, with all that belongs to them, shall be instantly and thoroughly isolated from the healthy, and the family or batch in which such disease occurred shall be kept as far apart as possible from the rest of the emigrants without exciting alarm.

The following procedure should be followed when small-pox appears on board a steamer carrying emigrants:—

(a) Emigrants or dependants attacked with small-pox shall be at once segregated and landed at the next landing place at which there is a depôt hospital.

(b) The medical officer proceeding in charge of emigrants shall at once parade and examine all the emigrants and dependants on board and make out a list of all who have not been already vaccinated or inoculated, or who have not already suffered from small-pox. These emigrants and dependants shall be brought for vaccination before the inspecting medical officer at the next port of inspection reached by the steamer. The number of emigrants and dependants to be vaccinated should be entered in the steamer way-bill.

The medical officer shall, on the appearance of a case of small-pox among the emigrants or dependants, at once vaccinate all of them.

119. Places originally occupied by emigrants removed on account of communicable disease shall be instantly cleaned, and the deck shall be thoroughly scraped and scrubbed with hot sand and disinfecting fluid, and if circumstances admit, fumigation with burning sulphur shall also be carried out.

120. Besides immediate isolation and treatment of the first case of dangerously communicable disease, every precaution shall be taken to prevent an epidemic, strict attention being paid to premonitory symptoms, general and personal cleanliness, careful disinfection and disposal of excreta, disinfection and destruction of infected articles, free ventilation, and care of the healthy.

121. All clothes, blankets, mats, and other things that have been in any way in contact with those suffering from serious communicable disease, or have been soiled or are suspected of infection or impurity, shall be placed in disinfecting fluid and disposed of by burial or burning. They may be burnt in the ship's furnace or on shore according as the medical officer may direct.

122. When cholera or any other disease in an epidemic form breaks out, a special report should be prepared showing, if possible, the probable cause of such an occurrence. The register of cholera cases (Form No. 13) should be carefully filled in, and the medical diary should show the details of treatment of each case from day to day. Every precaution should be taken to prevent the spread of the disease, and its occurrence should be reported to the Magistrate of the first station arrived at thereafter. The Civil Surgeon of the district shall without delay pass on the information to the Civil Surgeon of the next district concerned.

123. (a) On the death of an emigrant in a place of accommodation or in a hospital, the local agent or the medical officer in charge of the hospital, as the case may be, shall hand over the property of the deceased emigrant to his or her relatives who may be present. In the absence of any relative or when there is dispute among several relatives, the local agent or the medical officer shall make a list of the property and forward such property with the list to the nearest district or subdivisional Magistrate, who shall, after making enquiry as to the heirs, dispose of the property.

(b) When, however, the emigrant dies in a rest house, or during journey by road or rail, the forwarding agents concerned shall make a list of the property as early as may be practicable, and forward such property, together with the list, to the Manager of the garden to which the emigrant was proceeding, for delivery to any relative who may be present, but when there is no relative or there is a dispute among several relatives, the garden Manager shall send the property and the list to the District Magistrate or Subdivisional Magistrate within whose jurisdiction deceased's home is situated for disposal.

124. Whoever commits a breach of any of the rules in this Chapter shall be punishable with fine, which may extend to five hundred rupees.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

NOTIFICATION.

New Delhi, the 8th November, 1927.

No. F-8-VI-27-A.—Whereas the validity of the election of Mr. Yacoob Cassim Ariff by the Calcutta and Suburbs (Muhammadan Urban) constituency as a Member of the Legislative Assembly has been brought in question by an election petition duly presented by Mr. Muhammad Rafique under the provisions of Part VII of the Legislative Assembly Electoral Rules;

CALCUTTA AND SUBURBS MAHOMEDAN CONSTITUENCY.

(INDIAN LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.)

Muhammad Rafique ... Petitioner,

versus

Yacoob Cassim Ariff ... Respondent.

Calcutta, 20th October 1927.

This is an Election Petition under Part VII of the Legislative Assembly Electoral Rules to have the election of the Respondent declared void, and to have himself declared the duly elected candidate, mainly on the ground that the result of the election has been materially affected by the improper reception of votes, and by corrupt practices under Part II, Schedule V, of the Electoral Rules alleged in the petition of which particulars have been furnished.

Respondent denies the allegations made in the petition, and submits that his election is perfectly valid, and adds that petitioner was less than 25 years of age on the date of his nomination, and that therefore the petition is not maintainable, and petitioner cannot claim to be declared duly elected.

Upon the several allegations in the petition, and details in the written statement the following issues have been framed:—

Issues.

1. Was the petitioner a duly nominated candidate and is he entitled to maintain the petition?
2. Is the petitioner's claim to be returned as the duly elected candidate maintainable?
3. Did the persons mentioned in list A vote in the disputed election? If so, were their votes void?
4. Are the persons mentioned in list B Non-Muhammadan and disqualified to vote?
5. Did the persons mentioned in list C vote more than once in the constituency?
6. Where the persons mentioned in list D (A) dead and the persons mentioned in D (B) absent and were persons named in list D (C) personated by other persons?
7. Was the person named in Appendix F unable to vote, some one else having voted for him?
8. Are the tendered votes, votes of real voters and ought they to be included in the poll?
9. Were the ballot papers named in Appendix G wrongly rejected by the returning officer?
10. Has the security been furnished by the petitioner as required by law? If not, is he entitled to succeed? Is the Tribunal competent to decide this point?
11. Has the result of the election been materially affected on the grounds involved in the above issues?
12. Is the election of the respondent liable to be set aside and is the petitioner entitled to be declared duly elected in his place?
13. Is the petitioner entitled to the costs of this petition?

Decisions.

Issue (1).—This issue is framed upon the defence contention that the petitioner being under 25 years of age was not a duly nominated candidate, and was therefore not competent to present the petition. The petition is presented under Rule 32 of the Electoral Rules, which lays down that an election petition may be presented by any candidate or elector. Rule 30 defines candidate as a person who has been nominated as a candidate, etc. Upon paragraph (1) of the written statement it is an admitted fact that the petitioner was nominated. So far as the maintainability of the petition is concerned, no question of due nomination or of the age of the candidate presenting the petition can arise. Where Rules require due nomination, they clearly so lay down (see Rules 12 and 13). The fact that the word nomination in Rule 32 is not qualified shows that mere nomination is sufficient. The English Law on the subject is:—"A person disqualified for nomination, who has in fact been nominated, is a candidate and may petition." (Rogers on Elections, page 250.) This is consistent with the wide definition of candidate in Rule 30, and with the wording of Rule 32. We do not therefore consider it necessary to decide whether the petitioner was duly nominated, and find that the petitioner is entitled to maintain the petition.

Issue (2).—This issue is based upon the contention of the defence that the petitioner being under 25 years of age, and therefore not eligible to be a candidate, his claim to be returned as duly elected candidate is not maintainable. Such a question can only be raised on recrimination under Rule 42. It is not shown that respondent gave notice of his intention to recriminate within 14 days from the date of publication of the election petition under clause (b) of sub-rule (2) of Rule 36 and made the deposit and procured the execution of the bond referred to in Rules 35 and 36 respectively. In these circumstances under the proviso to Rule 42 respondent is precluded from giving evidence that petitioner was under age, and the evidence that has been taken on the point is not legal evidence. It is said for respondent that under Order VIII, Rule 2 of the Civil Procedure Code, apart from recrimination, respondent may raise the question that petitioner's claim to the seat is not maintainable he being under 25 years. Under Rule 37 of the Electoral Rules, every election petition shall be enquired into by the Commissioners as nearly as may be in accordance with the procedure applicable under the Code of Civil Procedure (1908) to the trial of suits, subject to the provisions of the Electoral Rules. As rule 42 lays down special procedure to be followed to enable the respondent to give evidence to prove that the election of the petitioner would have been void if he had been the returned candidate and a petition had been presented complaining of his election, in a case where the petitioner claims the seat for himself, as in this case, it follows that respondent cannot raise the question under Order VIII, Rule 2.

It is further said for respondent that under Rule 45 the Commissioners are to report if the returned candidate or any other party to the petition who has claimed the seat has been duly elected, and in so reporting shall have regard to the provisions of Rule 44; consequently under Rule 44 in this case the Commissioners will have to see if the result of the election has been materially affected by the improper reception of the nomination of petitioner. We hold however that Rule 44 is to be read subject to Rule 42, which precludes the respondent from adducing evidence of petitioner's age, and that it cannot be contended that petitioner's claim to be returned as a duly elected candidate is not maintainable.

Issue (3).—The seven persons in Appendix A have no asterisk against their names in the electoral roll, so they are not voters for the Legislative Assembly. Six of them voted in this election, five for respondent and one for petitioner. The remaining one, Nasiruddin, does not appear to have voted. Votes of persons who are not on the Register will be struck off on a scrutiny (Rogers on Elections, Vol. II, page 239). Five votes for respondent and one for petitioner must therefore be struck off.

Issue (4).—The persons named in Appendix B (witnesses 13—15) say they are Hindus. There is no evidence in rebuttal and no reason to disbelieve them. Under proviso (2) of Rule 5 (f) of Schedule II, they are not qualified to vote in a Mohammadan constituency. The Electoral Roll shows that ballot papers were issued to them, though they had no right to vote. Two of them say they did not vote, and the third is silent about voting. It has not been possible to trace their votes as the counterfoils concerned show only the serial number of the voter in the Ward Roll, without any Ward number. This is a serious irregularity, as it renders it impossible to check those votes, but in view of our finding on the petition it is not necessary to discuss the effect of it.

As it is impossible to tell for which candidate these persons voted, if either, no action can be taken on our finding on this issue.

Issue (5).—Appendix C gives the names of persons who are said to have voted twice. Petitioner has examined five of them (P. Ws. 4, 7, 17, 21 and 25). One of them (P. W. 17) admitted voting twice but only one of his ballot papers could be traced. The rest say that they voted once. On examination of the counterfoils it appears that Solomon Ariff Bham voted twice. His ballot papers show that both votes were given to respondent. One of these votes is invalid, and must be struck off. We have not been able to trace any other invalid vote under this issue.

Issue (6).—Appendix D (a) gives the names of electors who are said to be dead, P. W. 5 proves the death of voter Ahmad Khan, P. W. 8 of voter Marai, P. W. 26 of voter Jaker Khan and P. W. 23 of his father-in-law Uzir, supported by respondent's witne No. 1. There is no sufficient evidence in rebuttal. The ballot papers and counterfoil show that votes were recorded for these dead persons, in favour of the respondent. These votes must be struck off. The death of Abdul Hakim, Mithu, Gulmir and Haji Sukur Gani has also been proved, but it has not been possible to trace whether any votes were recorded in their names, the same difficulty being encountered as under Issue (4).

Appendix D (b) gives the names of persons who are said to have been absent at the time of the Election, and not to have voted. Hafiz Golam Sarwar (P. W. 16) and Abdul Hosain (P. W. 30) say they were away in Ajmere at the time of the election and did not vote. P. W. 22 proves the account books of Hafiz Golam Sarwar showing an entry of Rs. 121 and odd annas spent on Railway tickets on 6th January 1927. This witness also says that Hafiz Golam Sarwar was absent at the time of the election. We find no reason to disbelieve those witnesses. Ballot papers show that votes were recorded in their name for respondent. This must have been done by some other persons, and these two votes must be struck off.

Appendix D (c) gives the names of electors who are said to have been personated at the election. We found the same difficulty in tracing the votes of those persons as we refer to under Issue (4). It is therefore useless to discuss the evidence regarding each. No action is possible.

Issue (7) was not pressed at the trials.

Issue (8).—This issue deals with tendered votes. Jahoor (P. W. 18), Makbul (P. W. 1), and Hamid Mistri (P. W. 11) (Nos. 1, 3 and 2 respectively of the Tendered Voted List) each says that he tendered his vote on being told that a vote had been recorded in his name. P. W. 13 says he identified Jahoor at the voting. P. W. 33, Polling Agent, says that he identified Mangru and that the latter tendered his vote. Ashraf Ali (P. W. 2) says he went to vote and was given a paper to sign which he signed and then was asked to leave. He says he did not vote. His tendered ballot paper shows a vote recorded for petitioner. We consider the most probable explanation to be that not being allowed to vote in the ordinary way he thought his vote was not accepted, though the ballot paper shows that he did vote. It is proved that Jahur came to the polling station and repudiated the vote given in his name and that he tendered a vote for petitioner.

We do not think there is any sufficient reason to disbelieve these witnesses. The tendered ballot papers of Makbul, Mangru, Ashraf, Jahur and Hamid Mistri show that they tendered votes for the petitioner. These five votes must be added to the petitioner's total. Ordinary ballot papers show that votes were recorded in the names of Jahur, Mangru, Ashraf and Hamid for the respondent. These must be bad votes, and should be struck off from respondent's total.

Issue (9).—The ballot papers in Appendix G do not appear to have been wrongly rejected.

Issue (10).—This issue was not pressed.

Issues (11) and (12).—For reasons given in the decision of the several issues considered above, the votes of six persons named in Appendix A are void. Five are for respondent and one for petitioner: they must be struck off. One vote under Appendix C for respondent is to be struck off. Votes of four persons in Appendix D (a) are void being votes in the names of dead persons. They are for respondent and must be struck off. Two votes were recorded for absentees named in Appendix D (b) on behalf of respondent and must be struck off. Ordinary votes given in the names of four persons named in the tendered votes list are for respondent and must be struck off. Thus in all sixteen votes for respondent and one for petitioner must be struck off. Five persons in the tendered votes list voted for petitioner, and those votes must be added to his total. Respondent polled 1,421 votes. This will be reduced to 1,405. Petitioner had 1,402 votes, which after one vote is deducted and five added, will be raised to 1,406, thus giving the petitioner a majority of one.

As a result of this finding we recommend that the election of the respondent be set aside, and that the petitioner be declared duly elected to the seat.

Issue (13).—The petitioner in giving particulars of persons whose votes should be struck off was not as careful as he should have been. This has put respondent to unnecessary expenses but respondent has put himself to further unnecessary expense by examining a number of unnecessary witnesses, instead of restricting himself to the case petitioner had attempted to make out. Petitioner on the other hand when adducing evidence showed greater care and restraint. Taking these circumstances and the number of sittings into consideration, we assess the costs at Rs. 750 (seven hundred and fifty) to be paid by respondent to petitioner.

J. G. DRUMMOND,*Secretary to the Government of Bengal.PUBLIC HEALTH.*Minister-in-charge: The Hon'ble Sir P. C. Mitter, Kt., C.I.E.*No. 2559 P.H.—The 19th November 1927.—In pursuance of section 37F of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1884 (Bengal Act III of 1884), it is hereby notified

24-Parganas. for general information that the Bhatpara improvement scheme submitted by the Commissioners of the Bhatpara Municipality, in the district of the 24-Parganas, has been approved by the Government of Bengal (Ministry of Local Self-Government) and that the particulars of the said scheme are as follows :—

(a) The scheme may be described under three heads—

- (i) sewerage and sewage disposal,
- (ii) water-supply,
- (iii) incidental town planning.

(i) The sewerage scheme provides for sewers in all the important roads of the town, these being laid in such a manner that they can be extended further when required. Sewage will be flushed into the sewers at special depôts, and the discharge from public latrines, septic tanks, and surface drains will be taken into the sewers. The sewage will gravitate to a central pumping station, from which it will be pumped to an outfall works on the east of the railway line. Here the sewage will be dealt with in detritus tanks and sedimentation tanks, and the effluent from the latter will be used to irrigate about 67 acres of land. The present system of sewage disposal by nightsoil cart and trenching ground will be done away with when this new water carriage system comes into operation.

(ii) Water-supply scheme provides for extension of water mains to most of the town area. Water will be supplied by the mills at ten gallons per head of population. The distribution system will be divided into zones, each zone being supplied by the mill within it.

(iii) As a subsidiary part of the scheme certain new roads will be made in order to open up undeveloped areas of the town. Most of these roads will be provided with water mains and sewers.

(b) The estimated cost of the scheme is as follows :—

					Rs.
Sewerage	13,10,000
Water-supply	3,92,500
Land	4,07,865
					<hr/>
			Total	...	21,10,365
					<hr/>

(c) The estimated cost of maintenance is as follows :—

					Rs.
Sewerage	18,000
Water-supply	2,500
					<hr/>
			Total	...	20,500
					<hr/>

(d) The capital cost of the combined scheme will be met as follows :—

	Rs.
Government contribution	7,00,000
Contribution from the mills	11,50,000
Amount already paid for the preparation of the scheme	30,954
Balance in hand in the bank and treasury	1,54,105
Loan to be taken by the Municipality	75,306
Total	21,10,365

(e) The Municipality proposes to take a loan of Rs. 75,306 when required.

(f) The recurring charges will be met as follows :—

(i) Sewerage—

	Rs.
Savings out of the conservancy fund on account of the introduction of sewerage scheme	11,000
Extra on account of increase of latrine rate from 6 to 6½ per cent.	3,000

General fund	1,500
Total	18,000

(ii) Water-supply—

	Rs.

(g) The incidence of water rate per head of population will be about 2·14 annas.

No. 4734 Edn.—The 10th December 1927.—The following rules, which will come into operation with effect from the 1st January 1928, are published for general information :—

Rules of the Government Provident Fund Scheme for Teachers in Non-Pensionable Service.

1. Scope of the Scheme.—The scheme shall be applicable to the following classes of employes :—

- (a) Whole-time teachers of schools for Europeans and Anglo-Indians.
- (b) Whole-time teachers of secondary schools for Indians, whether managed by District Boards, Municipalities or private persons.

2. Nature of the Scheme.—It will be optional for any institution belonging to one or other of the classes specified in rule 3 to elect to come under these rules, but no such institution and no teacher of any such institution, shall be allowed to come under these rules, until such time as all the teachers of such institution other than those declared inadmissible under rule 4 have agreed in writing to join the Government provident fund scheme in accordance with these rules. When a school has been permitted to come under these rules, subscriptions by the teachers other than those excluded under rule 4 or exempted under rule 4A shall be compulsory on existing and future members of the teaching staff. The number of institutions admitted under these rules will be limited by the amount of the annual provision for grants-in-aid made from time to time by the Government.

3. Eligibility of Institutions.—The following classes of institutions may exercise the option to join the scheme :—

- (a) Secondary schools in Bengal recognised by the University of Calcutta for the purpose of presenting candidates for the Matriculation Examination.
- (b) Secondary schools* recognised by the Dacca Board of Secondary and Intermediate Education.
- (c) Secondary schools* recognised by the Department of Education, Bengal.
- (d) Schools recognised under the European Schools Code.

4. Persons not admissible.—The scheme shall not be extended to—

- (a) Persons rendering pensionable service whether under Government, under local bodies, or in privately managed institutions.
- (b) Law lecturers practising as lawyers.
- (c) Teachers working in an honorary, or mainly honorary, capacity, e.g., those belonging to a religious order.
- (d) Teachers for whom a separate provident fund is maintained.
- (e) Persons working in educational institutions other than as bona fide teachers.
- (f) Persons holding temporary posts.
- (g) Teachers below 20 or over 55 years of age*.

A person already subscribing to another provident fund maintained in connection with the institution in which he is working shall not be allowed to subscribe to this scheme, but an existing scheme may be converted into this scheme with the sanction of the Director of Public Instruction. The managers of schools which have provident funds of their own, and desire such conversion, shall apply through the controlling authority specified in rule 7 to the Director of Public Instruction to have their provident funds merged in the Government provident fund, and the Director may sanction such applications. The managers shall thereupon wind up their funds and deposit in the post office savings bank the amount standing to the credit of each subscriber. Such amounts shall thereupon become subject to these rules.

4A. Exemption.—The controlling authority mentioned in rule 7 may exempt from the operation of these rules any teacher who holds

*N.B.—(i) "Schools" includes Junior and Senior Madrasahs and also schools and madrasahs to which intermediate classes have been added.
(ii) The term "recognised" includes schools which have been provisionally recognised.

* A teacher once admitted may remain in the scheme till the age of 60.

a policy in a life assurance company and pays thereon as premium an amount equal to or in excess of the monthly sum payable by him as subscription to the Government provident fund. Such exemption will be granted only so long as the said premium continues to be paid.

5. Amount of Subscription.—The amount of subscription shall be a percentage of $6\frac{1}{2}$ of a subscriber's pay, except in the case of a subscriber whose pay is less than Rs. 25 a month, in which case it shall, if he so desires, not exceed Re. 1 a month. In the case of subscribers who pay at the rate of $6\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. subscription will be calculated to the nearest anna. Voluntary subscriptions in excess of the regular amount shall not be admissible. Subscriptions during leave with or without allowance other than casual leave or during suspension shall be optional on the part of the subscriber.

When a subscriber is on reduced pay on account of absence on leave or for other causes, his subscription, if paid, as well as the contribution of the managers, shall be reckoned on the substantive pay of his post. No Government grant will be made in such cases for any period of leave in excess of one month in any one year, except that, in cases where a subscriber has not been on leave other than casual leave during a consecutive series of years, a Government grant will be made in respect of one month for each of these years up to a maximum of four at any one time.

Pay for the purpose of reckoning subscriptions is substantive pay, and excludes recompense for special occasional services, or acting or personal allowances.

The managers shall communicate to the controlling authority all changes affecting the pay of a subscriber under these rules.

6. Contribution by the managers assisted by Government.—The managers shall contribute a sum equal to the teacher's subscription. To assist the managers in making this contribution a monthly grant equal to one-half of this contribution will be sanctioned to the institution by the Education Department, provided the controlling authority specified in rule 7 is satisfied that the management of the institution can raise the other half from funds not derived from Government. The managers' contribution with the subscription of the teacher will be paid into the subscriber's account every month.

Example.—A teacher's subscription to the fund amounts to Rs. 5 a month. The managers will contribute a like amount and place the total sum of Rs. 10 to the credit of the teacher's account in the provident fund. Government will then increase the normal grant-in-aid to the school by Rs. 2-8 a month or make a new grant of Rs. 2-8 in respect of this subscriber.

In no case shall the adoption of these rules involve any reduction of the actual monthly emoluments received by subscribers from those existing at the time of the adoption of these rules by the school, other than by the amount of the monthly subscription of the subscriber.

It is left to the managers concerned to decide how their share of the contribution shall be provided, but in the case of institutions already aided by Government, except where the monthly credit balance of such an institution after meeting all charges is already sufficient to cover the cost of its contributions under these rules, the extra amount required for the purpose shall come out of a special levy, i.e., a special increase of the fees for the purpose, or from other additional revenue from private sources. This condition, however, shall not apply to aided schools which already maintain a provident fund to which the managers and the teachers each contribute equal amounts of not less than $6\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. of salary, and such schools shall be permitted by the Director to come under these rules without any such special increase in income from private sources. In no case shall that half of the managers' contribution which has to be found from their own resources be derived from Government in the shape of additional grant or in any other manner whatsoever, nor shall it be obtained by a reduction in the total scale of expenditure sanctioned by the Inspector of Schools as a condition of the grant-in-aid.

7. Control of the fund.—Subject to such rules as may be framed by Government from time to time, the controlling authority shall be—

(a) The Divisional Inspector or Circle Inspectress of Schools in the case of secondary schools for Indians.

(b) The Inspector of European Schools, Bengal, in the case of European schools.

(c) The Chairman of the Dacca Board of Secondary and Intermediate Education in the case of schools controlled by the Board.

NOTE.—The controlling authority referred to in these rules is the appropriate authority as defined in this rule.

8. Management of the fund.—(a) The fund shall be managed by means of the post office savings bank system. The subscriber's subscription, together with the contribution of the managers, shall be deposited in a post office savings bank. The following procedure shall be adopted.

(b) The post office shall open individual accounts for each of the subscribers to the provident fund. The managers of the school shall arrange to have subscriptions to the fund due from the subscribers deducted from their salaries when they are disbursed each month and shall remit these amounts, together with the managers' contributions, to the particular post office at which the accounts stand open, accompanied by—

(i) the post office savings bank pass books of the subscribers; and

(ii) a list in the form given below showing in detail the amount to be credited to each account and the total amount of the deposits and refunds :—

(Name of Institution.)

Month of.....19 ..

Account number as in the pass book.	Name of subscriber.	Monthly pay of subscriber.	Monthly subscription of teacher.	Contribution by the managers.	Amount of advance refunded.	Total.
		Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
	Total ..

(c) The money received in the post office shall be credited to the different accounts in accordance with the entries in the list and the postmaster, after satisfying himself that this has been done and that the amount of the deposit has been correctly entered in each pass book, shall sign the list, stamp it with the post office date stamp and return it with the pass books to the managers of the institutions from which they were received. The managers shall compare the entries made in the pass books with the entries in the list to see that the former are correct. Any error that may be detected shall be brought at once to the notice of the postmaster.

(d) So far as the post office is concerned the list need not be in duplicate as the deposits will be entered in the usual course in the Post Office Savings Bank Ledger and Journals which will furnish a complete record of the transaction. The managers of the school shall furnish a true copy of the list to the controlling authority. The controlling authority during his periodical visits to the schools shall audit the monthly list of payments into the post office savings bank with reference to the original pay bills or acquittance rolls and satisfy himself that subscriptions and contributions are not received in excess or defect from the subscribers or managers.

(e) Deposits will ordinarily be made monthly before the 15th of the month. In exceptional circumstances, however, deposits may be made at any time and as often as desirable, so that if owing to the temporary absence of a subscriber or for any other cause the subscription of and the contribution on behalf of one or more subscribers cannot be deposited at the same time as the other deposits, they can be deposited singly or collectively at a later date, a separate list being sent along with the pass book in the manner already described. The provisions of sub-sections (c) and (d) will apply to such supplementary lists.

(f) When a pass book is used up, and a fresh pass book issued, a subscriber should apply to the postal authorities, through the managers of his institution, for the return of his used up pass book and it should be forwarded to the controlling authority when received for record and production when the account is finally closed.

(g) When a subscriber leaves one school and obtains employment in another and the Government provident fund scheme applies to both schools, the controlling authority of the school which he has left shall sanction the transfer of his account less any deductions permissible under rule 11 to the post office at which the accounts of the school which he has joined stand open. Any deductions made in accordance with rule 11 shall be credited to Government in the Treasury or to the management in accordance with the provisions of rule 11.

The controlling authority shall maintain a register in the form prescribed in Appendix C of the transfer of accounts sanctioned by him. The managers of a school shall furnish every subscriber who leaves the school with a certificate, which shall bear the countersignature of the controlling authority, specifying the period for which subscriptions to the fund were made by the subscriber and contributions by the management on his behalf.

(h) If a teacher in an institution with its own provident fund joins an institution to which the Government scheme applies, the amount at his credit may at his option, with the approval of the controlling authority, be placed in the fund to his credit in such new institution. In the event of the resignation of a subscriber from an institution to which the Government provident fund scheme applies, and his acceptance of a post in a school possessing its own fund, such sum as may be to the credit of the subscriber may, by private arrangement between the subscriber and his new school managers, be made over to the provident fund of the new school; but Government can accept no responsibility in the matter, and the provisions of rule 11 (f) will apply to such cases.

(i) Subscribers under these rules on whose behalf accounts are opened under the provisions of this scheme are not deprived of their right to open ordinary private accounts in the post office savings bank. The limits to annual and maximum deposits and to the amount on which interest may be calculated in the case of ordinary accounts in the post office savings bank do not apply to accounts opened under these rules. The officer to whom certain specified powers may be delegated under section 45A (c) of the Post Office Rules for Teachers' Provident Fund accounts is, for the purpose of the present rules, the appropriate controlling authority specified in rule 7.

(j) A register shall be maintained by all schools which join the Government provident fund in the form prescribed in Appendix C.

(k) The savings bank account shall be closed at the time the depositor retires or is permitted to withdraw in accordance with these rules. Whenever a subscriber wishes to withdraw from the fund he shall submit an application to the controlling authority, through the managers of the school, giving his reasons therefor. In cases where the controlling authority decides that the subscriber is entitled to the full sum at credit, that authority shall sanction the closure of the account and issue a certificate to the effect that the subscriber has quitted the fund in circumstances which give him a title to the full amount standing to his credit in the pass book. The postmaster shall thereupon close the account in the Savings Bank pass book, and, on receipt of an application for withdrawal signed by the subscriber and endorsed in favour of the school clerk or peon or other person authorised by the managers of the school, pay the latter on behalf of the subscriber the total amount standing to his credit. The managers of the school shall, after receiving the amount from the post office, disburse it to the subscriber concerned on acquittance rolls which shall be filed in the school, an attested copy being forwarded immediately to the controlling authority for information. In cases where the controlling authority decides that a subscriber who has applied for permission to withdraw from the fund is entitled to less than the total sum at his credit, he shall issue a certificate accordingly, sanction the closure of the account, and instruct the postmaster to pay the managers of the school the sum declared by him to be due to the subscriber and the postmaster shall, on receipt of an application for withdrawal signed by the subscriber and endorsed in favour of the clerk or peon or other person authorised by the managers of the school, pay the latter the sum due to the subscriber's credit. The managers shall, after receiving the amount, pay the subscriber the amount due to him, as decided by the controlling authority. All applications to the postmaster to close the account must be supported by the controlling authority's order in original, which should specify the actual amount allowed to be withdrawn. The balance of the account, forfeited by the subscriber under the orders of the controlling authority, shall be drawn under the order of the controlling authority by the managers, less the sum due to be paid into the Treasury under the note to rule 11, which shall be drawn by the controlling authority and credited to the Treasury. The managers, on receipt of their share of the balance, shall credit it to the school funds or to such school fund as they shall think fit, and thereupon send a formal acknowledgment of receipt to the controlling authority, who will file the receipt in his office. The controlling authority shall maintain a register in the form prescribed in Appendix D of closures of accounts sanctioned by him.

The procedure prescribed in this clause shall apply mutatis mutandis to payments made on the sanction of the controlling authority on the death of the subscriber. The controlling authority shall maintain a register in the form prescribed in Appendix F for these payments.

(l) The pass books issued by the post offices on behalf of the subscribers shall be in the custody of the managers of the school, who will annually appoint one of their members to keep custody of the pass books and act on their behalf in the management of the fund. The name of the manager selected shall be notified annually to the controlling authority as also shall all changes immediately upon their taking place. Every subscriber shall, once in each official year, be permitted to look into his account to satisfy himself as to its correctness and shall sign a certificate in token of his acceptance thereof. The certificates obtained under this rule shall be forwarded to the controlling authority for check and record in his office.

(m) If the managers of a school allow their own contribution or the subscription of a subscriber employed by them who has joined the fund to fall into arrears, the controlling authority may take such steps to enforce payment as he may deem necessary and are within his power. Failing all other measures, the fund shall be closed and the school excluded from the scheme.

(n) When a school belonging to the fund ceases to exist, or is excluded from or leaves the fund, steps shall be taken to close, or in cases covered by clause (g) of this rule, to transfer, each individual account. The provisions of rule 11(e) shall be regarded as applying to all cases which are not capable of being brought under clause (g) above. Schools excluded from or leaving the fund shall be ineligible for readmission for a period of five years. When for any reasons the controlling authority considers it essential in the interests of the subscribers, he shall have power to direct that the postmaster pay the sum due on all or any of the accounts to such person or persons other than the managers as he may select for distribution in accordance with the rules of the fund.

(o) Every subscriber on joining the fund shall sign a certificate in the form given in Appendix A in token of acceptance of the rules. These certificates shall be filed with the managers of the institutions concerned.

9. The Registers to be kept by the managers of Institutions.—The following registers shall be maintained by managers of institutions, the employés of which contribute to the fund:—

- (a) A card catalogue register in the form prescribed in Appendix B showing the names of subscribers to the fund.
- (b) A register in the form prescribed in Appendix E showing the advances sanctioned from the fund and their refund.
- (c) A register in the form prescribed in Appendix C showing the transfer of accounts sanctioned by the controlling authority of subscribers who have left the school, and the certificates issued to them of the amounts due to them in the fund.
- (d) A register in the form prescribed in Appendix D showing the names of the subscribers whose accounts have been closed.
- (e) A register in the form prescribed in Appendix F showing the payments made on the death of a subscriber.

10. Interest to the depositor.—Interest shall be allowed on all deposits at such rates as may from time to time be determined for deposits in post office savings banks.

The deposits in the post office savings bank account of each subscriber may, as they accumulate, be invested through the post office in short-term loans or other securities of the Government of India, in the manner prescribed for such investments in the Post Office Savings Bank Rules. The securities in such cases shall be left in the custody of the Accountant-General, Posts and Telegraphs, who will, under rule 49 of the Savings Bank Rules, draw the interest due and advise the post office concerned to credit the amount in the investor's account.

When any subscriber has conscientious or religious objections to the receipt of interest, the manager will notify the post office at which the account stands open and interest will thereupon not be credited.

11. Withdrawal of Deposits.—The total sum at the credit of a subscriber shall be payable to him on his leaving the service of the managers of the institution, in which he is employed, subject to the right of the managers, with the sanction of the controlling authority, to deduct therefrom any sum due to the managers, provided that the total sum deducted shall not exceed the total of the managers' contributions credited to his account and provided that—

- (a) A subscriber who resigns his post within less than two years after his admission to these rules will receive, subject to the provisions of clause (f) of this rule, his own subscriptions and the complete accrued interest of the fund, and with the sanction of the controlling authority, given for good reason, the contributions of the management.
- (b) A subscriber who resigns his post in a school admitted to the Government provident fund scheme, within less than two years of his appointment to that post, will receive, subject to the provisions of clause (f) of this rule, his own subscriptions, the complete accrued interest of the fund, and the managers' contributions, if any, prior to his appointment to that post, and with the sanction of the controlling authority, given for good reasons on the proposal of the managers, the contributions of the managers subsequent to his appointment to the post above mentioned. The managers shall have full authority to decline to make the proposal in cases where less than two years' service has been given by the subscriber to their institution, though the managers are permitted to suggest that a shorter period of service than two years shall qualify for the managers' contributions, when service, though short, has been of value to the school.
- (c) If a subscriber is permanently disabled or invalided, he will ordinarily receive his subscriptions, the managers' contributions, and the whole of the accrued interest at whatever stage of his service he is disabled or invalided. The managers' contributions for the preceding two years may, with the sanction of the controlling authority, be withheld in a case where a subscriber has been incapacitated through his own fault.
- (d) If a subscriber is dismissed or removed from service on grounds regarded as reasonable by the controlling authority, the managers' contributions for a period not exceeding two years may be withheld at the discretion of the controlling authority. Such a subscriber will receive his own subscriptions, the balance of the managers' contributions and the complete accrued interest of the fund.
- (e) If the services of a subscriber are dispensed with for no fault of his own, he shall, with the sanction of the controlling authority, receive the total sum to his credit, including the managers' contributions and the interest accrued, or if he seeks re-employment in a school which has been admitted to the fund, may continue to participate in the scheme without subscription until the date of re-employment, provided the period of unemployment does not exceed one year.
- (f) If a subscriber resigns his post in an institution to which these rules apply for the specific purpose of accepting a post to which he has been appointed in an institution which has not been admitted to the Government provident fund scheme, or which has a provident fund not working under these rules, he may, with the sanction of the controlling authority, receive the sum found to be due to him under these rules, but if he resigns his post without having been appointed to any other post, he shall continue to participate in the scheme without subscription or contribution, until he obtains employment either in an institution working under these rules, in which case his account shall be transferred to such institution subject to the provisions of rule 8 (g), or in an institution not working under these rules, in which case his account shall be closed and he shall be entitled to receive the sum found due to him under these rules; provided that such participation without subscription or contribution shall not extend beyond one year, at the close of which period the account shall be closed and the subscriber shall be entitled to receive the sum found due to him under these rules; and provided also that if the subscriber is fifty or more years of age, and the controlling authority is satisfied that he is retiring from the teaching profession, he shall sanction the payment to him of the amount due in accordance with these rules, without postponement.

N.B.—In all cases where the contributions of the Managers are withheld under Clauses (a), (b), (c) and (d) of this rule, half the amount withheld shall be paid under the orders of the controlling authority to the managers and half shall be paid by the controlling authority to the credit of Government in the Treasury.

12. Payment on the death of a subscriber.—(a) On the death of any subscriber, the managers shall, with the sanction of the controlling authority, pay to the subscriber's nominee, or person producing probate or letters of administration or succession certificate, as laid down in clauses (c), (d) and (e) of this rule, the total sum of money that was at the credit of the subscriber, subject to the right of the managers, with the sanction of the controlling authority to deduct therefrom any sum or sums due to the managers, provided that the total amount of such deductions shall not exceed the total of the managers' contributions credited to the account of the subscriber.

(b) Every subscriber shall be permitted to nominate a dependant or dependants to whom the whole or part of the amount standing at his credit shall be payable in the event of his death. But if the nominee is a minor, the subscriber shall, at the time of nomination, also appoint a person of full age to whom, in the event of the subscriber dying before the minor nominee attains his majority, the amount standing at the subscriber's credit is to be paid on behalf of the minor nominee.

(c) All nominations must be in writing signed by the subscriber and attested by two witnesses and must be sent to the managers. The nominee named in any such written nomination received by the managers shall be and remain fully entitled to receive and give discharge for such amount as the subscriber has nominated him to receive from the sum at his credit until the nominee's decease, or until his nomination has been modified or revoked as hereinafter mentioned. A nomination once made in writing and received by the managers as aforesaid can only be modified or revoked when a modified nomination in writing, or the nomination in writing of a fresh nominee, or the complete cancellation of a previous nomination or nominations under the hand of the subscriber and attested by two witnesses, has been made and duly received by the managers.

(d) In case any subscriber shall die and at his death has not nominated, or has failed in the case of a minor nominee or nominees duly to appoint a person or persons of full age, and any moneys or the balance of any moneys not disposed of by nomination does not exceed Rs. 5,000, inclusive of interest, standing at his credit, and probate of will or letters of administration or succession certificates be not produced to the managers, or if notice in writing of the existence of a will and intention to prove the same, or to take out letters of administration or to obtain a succession certificate, be not given to the managers within the period of one month from the death of such subscriber, or if such notice be given but such will be not proved, or letters of administration be not taken out or succession certificate obtained, and the probate or letters of administration or succession certificate (as the case may be) produced to the managers within the period of six months from the death of the subscriber, the managers, after the period of one or six months, as the case may be, may, with the sanction of the controlling authority, pay such money to any person appearing to them to be entitled to receive them according to the Provident Funds Act No. XIX of 1925.

(e) In case any subscriber shall die, and, at his death, has not nominated, or has failed in the case of a minor nominee or nominees duly to appoint a person or persons of full age, and any moneys or the balance of any moneys not disposed of by nominations exceed Rs. 5,000, such money shall be paid to the executor or administrator only on the production to the managers of the probate of the will or letters of administration or succession certificate of the estate or effects of such subscriber.

13. Withdrawal of advances.—(i) A proportion of the total deposit not exceeding four months' pay of a subscriber may, with the sanction of the controlling authority, be allowed to be withdrawn in cases of urgent necessity when the deposit has reached a sum of not less than one year's pay and the pecuniary circumstances of the subscriber are such that the indulgence is necessary. The following are cited as examples of occasions on which the grant of advances may be considered:—

(a) To pay expenses incurred in connection with the illness of a subscriber or of a member of his family.

(b) To pay expenses in connection with marriages, funerals or ceremonies which by the religion of the subscriber it is incumbent upon him to perform and in connection with which it is obligatory that expenditure should be incurred.

Advances though not confined rigidly to the objects laid down in clauses (a) and (b) above will be made with due regard to the principle expressed in clause (i) of this rule as illustrated by the foregoing examples.

(ii) In determining the advance to be sanctioned, regard shall be paid to the amount lying at the credit of the subscriber. The amount of the advance should be a sum expressed in whole rupees, and should be so fixed as to allow of the monthly instalments fixed under rule 13 being also in whole rupees, the advance applied for being raised or reduced if necessary to enable the instalments to be so fixed.

(iii) When one advance has already been granted to a subscriber a subsequent advance shall not be granted to him, except for strong reasons to be recorded in writing by the controlling authority until at least twelve months have elapsed since the complete repayment of the last advance taken.

(iv) Applications for the withdrawal of any advance sanctioned shall be signed by the subscriber and duly endorsed in favour of the clerk or peon or other person authorised by the managers of the institution and must be supported by the controlling authority's sanction in the original. The manager of the institution shall, after receiving the money, disburse it to the subscriber concerned on acquittance rolls.

(v) Controlling authorities shall maintain a register in the form prescribed in Appendix E of advances sanctioned by them.

(vi) No fresh advance from the fund shall be sanctioned if there is any balance still to be refunded out of any advance already drawn from the fund.

14. Recovery of advances.—The following procedure for the recovery of advances shall be observed:—

(a) Advances shall be made recoverable, at the discretion of the controlling authority, in not less than twelve instalments or more than twenty-four. A subscriber may, however, at his option, make repayment subsequently in less than twelve instalments or may repay two or more instalments at the same time.

(b) Recoveries shall be made monthly, commencing from the first payment of a full month's salary after the advance is granted, but no recovery shall be made from a subscriber while he is on leave of any kind, except leave (or vacation) on full pay.

(c) The instalments shall be paid by compulsory deductions from salary and shall be in addition to the usual subscription.

(d) When an advance is repayable in 12 instalments, an additional instalment, representing interest, and equivalent to 4 per cent. of the amount of the advance shall be paid in the month following that in which the last instalment is paid. Similarly, two additional instalments representing interest, each equivalent to 4 per cent. of the total amount of the advance shall be paid when the advance is repayable in more than 12 instalments.

15. Protection of deposits.—(i) A deposit in the Government provident fund shall not in any way be capable of being assigned or charged and shall not be liable to attachment under any decree or order of any civil, revenue or criminal court in respect of any debt or liability incurred by the subscriber, and neither the Official Assignee nor any Receiver appointed under the Provincial Insolvency Act, 1920, shall be entitled to, or have any claim on, any such deposit.

(ii) Any sum standing to the credit of any subscriber to the fund at the time of his decease and payable under these rules to any dependant of the subscriber, or to such person as may be authorised by law to receive payment on his behalf, shall, subject to any deduction authorised by these rules and, save where the dependant is the widow or child of the subscriber, subject also to the rights of an assignee under an assignment made before the commencement of the Provident Funds Act, 1925 (XIX of 1925, as amended by Act XXVIII of 1925), vest in the dependant, and shall, subject as aforesaid, be free from any debt or other liability incurred by the deceased or incurred by the dependant before the death of the subscriber.

NOTE.—“Dependant” means any of the following relatives of a deceased subscriber to the Government provident fund, namely, a wife, husband, parent, child, minor brother, unmarried sister and a deceased son's widow and child, and, where no parent of the subscriber is alive, a paternal grand-parent.

16. The decision of the Director of Public Instruction on all questions arising out of these rules shall be final.

This rate is subject to reconsideration should the rates, at which the Government of India borrow, undergo modification, six months' notice being given to members before any alteration is made.

(iii) The sum which thus accumulates to the credit of an officer is paid to him on quitting the service; or in the event of his death before retirement, to his legal representatives.

Gratuities.—Officers of Indian State Railways are also eligible on retirement, at the discretion of the Railway Board, for gratuities for good, efficient, faithful and continuous service, on the following conditions:—

- (a) Completion of 30 years' service, or
- (b) Attainment of the age of 50 years, or
- (c) Retirement on account of permanent incapacity due to bodily or mental infirmity, or
- (d) Abolition of appointment due to a reduction of establishment, if other suitable employment cannot be found for the officer.

The amount of gratuity admissible is as follows:—

- (a) For service not exceeding 18 years, half a month's pay for each year of service, subject to a maximum of six months' pay;
- (b) For service in excess of 18 years, six months' pay plus half a month's pay for each year after the eighteenth, subject to a maximum of 12 months' pay or Rs. 25,000, whichever is less.

In case of an officer's death while in service, the gratuity is paid to his widow or children dependent on him.

3. The candidate's height will be measured as follows:—He will remove his shoes and be placed against the standard with his feet together, and the weight thrown on the heels and not on the toes or outer sides of the feet. He will stand erect without rigidity, and with the heels, valves, buttocks and shoulders touching the standard; the chin will be depressed to bring the vertex of the head level under the horizontal bar and the height will be recorded in inches and parts of an inch to quarters. No fixed limit of height is enforced.

4. The candidate's chest will be measured as follows:—He will be made to stand erect with his feet together, and to raise his arms over his head. The tape will be so adjusted around the chest that its upper edge touches the inferior angles of the shoulder blades behind, and its lower edge the upper part of the nipples in front. The arms will then be lowered to hang loosely by the side, and care will be taken that the shoulders are not thrown upwards or backwards so as to displace the tape. The candidate will then be directed to take a deep inspiration several times, and the maximum expansion of the chest will be carefully noted, and the minimum and maximum will then be recorded in inches, 33-35, 34-36½, etc. In recording the measurements, fractions of less than ½ inch should not be noted.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

NOTIFICATIONS.

New Delhi, the 6th December, 1927.

No. 86-I/27-C & G.—The following Interim Report of the Delegates of India to the Eighth Assembly of the League of Nations is published for general information:—

To the Right Honourable the EARL OF BIRKENHEAD, His Majesty's Secretary of State for India.

MY LORD,

We beg to submit our Report on the Eighth (Ordinary) Session of the Assembly of the League of Nations held at Geneva from the 5th to the 27th September, at which we had the honour to represent India.

2. Following the precedent of previous years we have prepared an Interim Report, because we feel that those to whom we are responsible, and the public in India, are entitled to early information of our proceedings, and because the preparation and printing of the complete record of the work of the delegation will necessarily take a considerable time. This report, therefore, consists of a survey of matters of general interest, and a description of those in which the interests of India are affected, and of the part played by delegates of India in the discussions. The Final Report will reproduce the bulk of this report, together with the text of the Resolutions adopted by the Assembly, and certain reports of Committees and speeches.

The Indian and British Empire Delegations.

3. Numerically the Indian Delegation was the same as last year, but we had the advantage of including among us four members—His Highness the Maharaja of Kapurthala, Sir C. P. Ramaswami Ayyar, Sir Edward Chamier and Sir B. K. Mullick—who had had previous experience of the work of the Assembly. We held no meeting of the Delegation before leaving London, on account of the practical difficulty of assembling a sufficient number of delegates. On most occasions such a meeting would be desirable, if not necessary, but on this occasion there was in fact no question of outstanding importance affecting India except the resolutions of the Economic Conference, and the majority of us were generally familiar with the position and were not in need of guidance on matters of practice and principle. A meeting of the Delegation was held on the day on which we reached Geneva, and on the same day we attended a meeting of all the Delegations of the British Empire convened by the leader of the British Delegation, Sir Austen Chamberlain. Throughout the period of the Assembly we maintained coherence among ourselves by meetings of the Delegation and otherwise, and co-ordination was effected between the Empire Delegations by meetings of leaders and by meetings of the delegates who represented the Empire Delegations on the several Committees. It will be obvious that the Delegations of the British Empire exercise a very great influence in the League so long as they are united, and on the big political questions in which other groups of Powers who are not united by an Imperial bond such as ours act in concert, it is especially desirable that the British Empire should pursue a single policy. The Indian Delegation is not constitutionally in the same position as those of the Dominions, but we believe that the obligation to make the action of the Indian Delegation conform to that of the British Delegation is practically confined to those questions on which the Empire Delegations must of necessity, and in fact do, act together, and that Indian policy is determined on independent lines in those matters in which India really possesses an independent interest. Moreover, those problems of a political character in which the attitude of India might be affected by her present constitutional position are predominantly of an European character and have little direct interest for India, whereas those departments of the work of the League in which India has the greatest practical interest are scarcely, if at all, influenced by political and constitutional relations. It follows accordingly that, in our view, the actual liberty of the Indian Delegation to follow an independent policy corresponds to the liberty which the Indian Delegation would in fact exercise if the constitutional status of India within the Empire were different.

Opening of the Eighth Session.

4. The proceedings of the Assembly were opened on the 5th September by His Excellency M. Enrique Villegas (Chilian Ambassador at Rome and representative on the Council of the League), acting as President of the Council. The credentials of the delegates were verified by a Committee on which His Highness the Maharaja of Kapurthala served. A list of the members of each Delegation will be found in our Final Report.

5. Forty-nine States were presented out of a total number of 55 States, Spain, Brazil, and certain other South American States being absentees. The Assembly was attended by a larger number of Foreign Ministers (21) than has ever previously been present, by the President of the Swiss Confederation, and by the Prime Ministers of Luxemburg and Lithuania. His Excellency Dr. Alberto Guami (first delegate of Uruguay) was elected President after a close contest, in which His Excellency Count Mensdorff (the first delegate of Austria) was the other candidate. The election of Vice-Presidents, members of the General Committee and of the Agenda Committee proceeded in accordance with the usual routine which has been described in reports of previous delegations.

6. The Assembly opened in an atmosphere of some uncertainty and even depression as to the present position and future outlook of the League. This atmosphere had been precipitated by the resignations not long before the date on which the Assembly met of Viscount Cecil and M. de Jouvenel from the British and French Delegations respectively. These resignations were taken as indicating a view that the Great Powers were showing a tendency to settle problems among themselves without resort to the League, and that too uncompromising an attitude was being adopted in regard to the great problem of Disarmament by some of those on whose attitude progress mainly depended. The general debate was expected to range over these two topics, and it was felt in many quarters that the Eighth Assembly, although having before it an agenda of no abnormal importance, might be of critical significance in regard to the future of the League. These expectations were not falsified. There were a number of subjects in which fundamental questions were treated from all points of view, and there was a tendency to precipitate dramatic developments. If some of the results which emerged were of moral, rather than of political or constitutional importance, it should be realised that the ideals on which the League is based represent a fundamental change in the practice of international politics: that such a change can only proceed with safety on evolutionary lines, and that for the purpose of such an evolution a moral stimulus may be effective when instruments of precision would be premature and dangerous. Before indicating in greater detail the lines of the debate, we shall express our belief that the general issue afforded no justification for pessimism, while at the other end of the scale it emphasised the necessity for a proper relation between ideas and facts. The need for tempering enthusiasm with patience is, in our view, admirably expressed in the Report of the Director of the International Labour Office for 1927 which was placed before the Assembly, from which the following passage may be usefully reproduced:—

“It is impossible not to realise the immense gulf which separates what has been achieved from what was hoped in 1919, when mankind, for a brief moment rose to heights unknown before. At that time, immediately after the great catastrophe of the war, an effort was made to organise human life on a basis of solidarity and peace, and the nations collaborated with one another in setting up a new structure. At that time almost everyone cherished the illusion that international life would at once come into being and that a new era was on the point of beginning.

“The reality is not what was then supposed. International institutions can only establish themselves by long, obstinate and patient efforts. This has been the experience of the League of Nations as regards international security and disarmament. The apprehensions and anxieties which have been deeply rooted in the heart of mankind by centuries of war cannot be uprooted all at once. The sovereign States are still inclined to rely on themselves for securing the necessary guarantee of security.”

7. Although these political and constitutional subjects dominated the debate, many speakers concerned themselves with pointing out that other subjects might be regarded as of no less importance; that for non-European Members these subjects might even be of greater importance, and that while there might be an apparent and temporary lack of success in the League's treatment of political subjects, notable successes in the non-political spheres of activity did much to restore the balance. Conspicuous among these is the success of the International Economic Conference of last May, and other spheres in which valuable work has been, or is in course of being, done are those of Health, Intellectual Co-operation, International Law and Social Reforms.

Speech of Sir C. P. Ramaswami Ayyar.

8. The General Debate in the Assembly was opened by Sir C. P. Ramaswami Ayyar, in a speech which emphasised this aspect of the work of the League. The text will be found in our Final Report, but we will reproduce here a summary.

9. After congratulating the Secretary-General and his staff on the comprehensiveness and thoroughness of which the documents before the Assembly were an indication, he referred to the unique position of India in the League, and spoke of the effect which the world opinion developed by the League might have upon India. He said that the quest of the ideal was one of the strongest characteristics of his race, and that as an Indian he felt at home in an Assembly which expected and indeed assumed the existence of idealism in all its members. While appreciating the value to his own country of its participation in the League, he expressed the hope that the presence of delegates from India and other distant countries was of some value to the League by preserving its character of universality and marking the distinction between a real League of Nations and a mere concert of Powers. He then referred, with examples, to the way in which India had been fulfilling in practice the ideals of the League. It was a matter for sincere congratulation that the League was in its turn realising the importance of Indian and eastern problems. But it was not easy for his countrymen, remote and absorbed in their own problems, to realise in a concrete way how the ideals of the League were being converted into practice, and he would welcome any increase in the relations between the practical work of the League and the actual interests of India. He stated his belief that it was through the technical organisations of the League that the ideals of the League could be most adequately realised in the non-European countries, and he therefore proceeded to deal in some detail with its work in the spheres of health and economics. He spoke of the importance of the Health Organisation, and in particular of its Bureau at Singapore, in assisting the control of epidemics, and he welcomed the projected tour in India of medical officers associated with the League as the first occasion on which a League organisation would come into direct personal contact with India, a contact from which he anticipated valuable results, both from the technical and from the wider aspect. He emphasised the special interest of India in the work of the Economic Conference from which the important and extremely encouraging fact had emerged that in spite of the diversity of theories and the legitimate national sentiments of those who took part there was a unanimous desire that the Conference should mark the beginning of a new era in international commerce. He referred to the present fiscal policy of India and showed that it was harmonious in principle with the conclusions of the Conference. He greatly hoped that the attitude of the League towards the work of the Conference would demonstrate its interest in the problems and conditions of countries far removed from the scene of European economic life, but forming nevertheless important factors in the sum total of world economy. He finished by saying that India was not only content but most willing and anxious to take part in the labours of the League.

The Technical Work of the League.

10. The position which this speech occupied in the order of the debate assured it of the attention which it deserved, and we believe that it, together with speeches made by members of the Indian Delegation later on in the Second Committee, did much to fortify the position of India in regard to an effective participation in the technical work of the League, which is, as we have already indicated, that part of the League's work most directly beneficial to India in present circumstances. There were other speakers also who set themselves to emphasise the success as well as the importance of the League's technical activities, and particularly those in the economic sphere. Chief among them was the British delegate, Sir E. Hilton Young, who opened his speech by saying that the indirect attack upon the economic problem might be of equal importance to the cause of peace as the direct enforcement of security. It was a dramatic revelation, he said, that in the material sphere, as in the ideal sphere, there was no necessary conflict between the interests of nations, and he considered that the results of the Economic Conference were welcome because they expressed the ideas which were fundamental in the League, the ideas of harmony between nations. They not only expressed these ideas but gave them the most practical assistance in pointing out the path which would lead away from war. It was not always the most direct path which led straightest to a given objective. The course of disarmament, of direct reduction of military armaments, seemed to be crossed by some very difficult precipices, but there were skilled guides to show the way round. He asked whether it was not possible that the skilled guides of the Economic Conference were actually showing what is the path by which permanent and established peace would be achieved sooner and more directly than by any straight proceeding through difficult country. The instincts of hostility which led to war were the resultant of many different causes, and amongst them economic causes were not the least. The League could have no higher or more direct occupation than to attempt to get rid of that economic strain which was the direct outcome of the causeless fears left by the war.

Relation of Greater and Smaller Powers.

11. We must now describe briefly the main currents of the debate on political topics. In the first place, there was some tendency to suggest that the events of the last year had indicated an increase in the relative disparity of the authority exercised respectively by the Great Powers, that is to say in effect those Powers who have permanent seats on the Council, and by the main body of League Members. It was implied that there was a diminution of the effective participation of the latter in international politics owing to an increasing disposition on the part of the former either to keep certain subjects outside the League's purview or to deliberate upon them in private in such a manner that they came before the League virtually as choses jugées. In particular this point of view was expressed with emphasis by Mr. Hambro of Norway, who referred among other matters to the increasing preponderance of diplomats, as compared with statesmen, in representation of Governments at League meetings, and criticised the extent to which elections to appointments of authority in the Assembly were managed behind the scenes. His speech was received with interest, and evidently with a certain degree of sympathy, but we believe that the points which he made were rebutted to a large extent, and perhaps entirely, by subsequent speakers to the satisfaction of the Assembly as a whole. The best answer to his general complaint was supplied by M. Motta, President of the Swiss Confederation, who said that he had never favoured the endeavours of those who wanted to set the small nations against the great, or to sow seeds of difference between great and small, and that he knew that the Great Powers could very well do without the League of Nations, and that it was the small nations which needed the League if they were to have any influence on international affairs. It has to be remembered, we consider, that the League gives the less powerful States opportunities of participation in international affairs which they never enjoyed before and would never enjoy otherwise. Under the Covenant each State represented at the Assembly has one vote and no more than one vote, but it is necessary to appreciate the inevitable fact that that vote cannot be exercised by all with equal freedom and authority. We believe that those in India who are qualified by a knowledge of facts to appreciate the position from the point of view of India will be disposed to agree rather with M. Motta than with Mr. Hambro. Mr. Hambro referred to a view that the General Debate in the Assembly on the Annual Report on the work of the Council was tending to become an exchange of complimentary banalities and that Members of the Council preserved silence in the Assembly on any comments that were offered. If that has ever been true, it was certainly not true of the Eighth Assembly. No important voice was silent. The debate was searching and frank in its mode and lacked nothing in range.

Elections to Council.

12. At this point it is relevant to mention the election of non-permanent Members of the Council, because the result is an indication of the effective assertion of their views by the lesser Powers. Under the rules adopted last year non-permanent seats are tenable for three years, and the three States which retire from the Council each year must normally wait for three years before being eligible for re-election. But a retiring State may be declared eligible for immediate re-election by a two-thirds majority of the Assembly. Of the three States which retired this year, Belgium, Czecho-Slovakia and San Salvador, the first named applied for a declaration of re-eligibility and it was known that her application was regarded with favour by Great Britain, France and Germany on the ground that the presence on the Council of all the Locarno Powers was desirable. The application failed because of the evident determination of the lesser Powers to make the principle of rotation a reality. Consequently Cuba, Finland and Canada were elected. The election of Canada is notable because this is the first occasion on which a Dominion member of the British Empire has acquired a seat on the Council.

Assembly Debate on Arbitration, Security and Disarmament.

13. We have now to deal with the subject of Disarmament, with which are associated those of Arbitration and Security. It will be remembered that at its Seventh Ordinary Session in September 1926, the Assembly adopted a resolution requesting the Preparatory Committee on Disarmament, appointed in 1925, to hasten the completion of its work so that it might be able to draw up a programme for a Conference on Disarmament early in 1927. The Conference has not yet been convened, but much useful work has been done. The Preparatory Committee has prepared what has been called a "first reading" draft of a Convention on Disarmament, though it has not been able to secure anything like unanimity on several of the most important points. It has also devoted much time to the consideration of such subjects as the working of the organs of the League in times of crisis, technical methods for the reduction and limitation of armaments, and the relations between the economic and military resources of States, and to special questions such as chemical warfare, civil aviation and defence budgets.

14. At the opening of the Assembly this year it seems to have been felt by many that little more could be done by the Preparatory Committee until greater international security had been attained, and most of the proposals that were put forward in the Assembly and in the Third Committee were designed to deal with this difficulty. At the third meeting of the Assembly the Dutch Delegation submitted a draft resolution to the effect that the time had come to resume the study of the principles on which the Geneva Protocol of 1924 was based, and it was suggested that the study of those principles along with the report of the Preparatory Committee on Disarmament should be referred to the appropriate Committees of the Assembly. It will be remembered that the Geneva Protocol of 1924 was designed to secure compulsory arbitration in international disputes if conciliation by the Council failed, and to provide for individual and collective action by States at the request of the Council against a recalcitrant State. This proposal received some support in the Assembly, but several Delegations objected to it on the grounds that it would inevitably reopen the discussions of 1924, that there was no hope of agreement, and that the proposal would probably do little more than call attention once more to the reasons why several States had been unable to accept the Protocol. Sir Austen Chamberlain stated that the British Government was still unable to accept compulsory arbitration of the kind contemplated by the Protocol or to undertake responsibilities such as the Protocol would lay upon the British Government. The Dutch Delegation then modified their proposal by substituting "the principles of arbitration, security and disarmament" for "the principles of the Geneva Protocol." So modified the Dutch proposal was referred to the Third Committee for consideration. There was also referred to the Third Committee a proposal by the Polish Delegation that the Assembly should record a declaration that all wars of aggression are and always shall be prohibited, that every pacific means must be employed to settle disputes of every description which may arise between States, and that States Members of the League are under an obligation to conform to these principles. Many Delegations pointed out that this resolution would add nothing to what was already contained in the Covenant, but others maintained that a solemn declaration of this kind was of great value. In deference to the views of the latter the Third Committee accepted the proposal and the Assembly passed a resolution accordingly.

15. The debate in the Assembly was of intense interest, and all aspects of the question were frankly and fully deliberated. It would be impossible to summarise the discussion briefly, and we must content ourselves with indicating some of its leading features. Jonkheer Beelaerts van Blokland, the first delegate of the Netherlands, referring to the Dutch resolution which we have alluded to above, reminded the Assembly that in 1926 the first delegate of the Netherlands had used the following words: "The Protocol is not dead; it is most certainly not buried; it but slumbers. Do not let us seek now to remodel or perfect it, rather let it rest." He said that, while these words were fully justified and entirely reasonable on the eve of the conclusion of the Locarno Treaties, he thought that if this state of rest were to be prolonged it might degenerate into lethargy. It was necessary to continue the study of the important principles underlying the Protocol, and the Assembly must realise that public opinion in different countries was moving in this direction, and that, particularly in overseas countries, there was a growing current of opinion which had adopted as its watchword "The outlawry of war." The principle of compulsory international jurisdiction was a necessary complement of these ideas, but if this end was to be achieved the Great Powers must not continue to shirk obligations. The speech of the Dutch delegate and the resolution which he moved profoundly influenced the current and character of the subsequent debates, and it is a conspicuous example of the part played by the lesser Powers in the Eighth Assembly. M. Politis, the Greek delegate and one of the authors of the 1924 Protocol, said that, if he had rightly understood the speech with which the Dutch proposal was introduced, the purpose in view was to revert to the idea of general compulsory arbitration. This would be the idea of the Protocol, with its fundamental basis of compulsory arbitration but without the system of sanctions. He did not believe that, in the present state of affairs, it would be wise or practicable to bring up the Protocol again, this belief being based on the fact that the obstacles which wrecked its progress before were still unchanged. Circumstances hardly warranted the hope that there was at present any likelihood of overcoming the obstacles to compulsory arbitration, and even if that were not so he could not conceive of compulsory arbitration as an element of security unless accompanied by an adequate system of sanctions. The cause of the Protocol would be hindered rather than served if a demand were made to take it up in fractions or segments, and he thought that the counsel of wisdom was to wait patiently in the belief that public opinion would soon declare itself in a manner which would enable the Protocol to emerge as an international reality. He went on to say that if security was a necessary preliminary to disarmament, and if security itself was founded on justice, justice in its turn was based on the existence of law, and he therefore attached great importance to the work which the League had done and would continue to do in the development and enrichment of international law.

16. Dr. Stresemann, the German Foreign Minister, said that he could not be content with the pessimistic policy of waiting which had been advocated by M. Politis. He could not believe that the proposal of the Polish Delegation for a solemn declaration prohibiting all wars of aggression if adopted by the Assembly would have no effect on the present situation. Many might prefer to work by means of Conventions having binding force, but he felt that faith in an ideal could be as important as a legal formula. It was not the mere clauses of a treaty which brought about peace, but the spirit of the peoples and the consciences of their responsible leaders. As evidence of the belief of the German Government in arbitration, he intended during the present session of the Assembly to append his signature to the optional clause of the Statute of the Permanent Court of International Justice. A promise had been made that the disarmament of the nations which were vanquished in the war should be a preliminary to general disarmament, and he appealed to the Assembly not to betray the faith which had been placed in the sanctity of this pledge. Dr. Stresemann further developed the German view in regard to disarmament in a speech in the Assembly after the report of the Third Committee had been presented. He said that Germany was emphatically of opinion that the commencement of general disarmament should not be dependent on fresh guarantees of security, which was indeed the standpoint of the Assembly of 1926. He welcomed the resolutions of the Third Committee as being a satisfactory result of difficult negotiations. Every step forward in general disarmament would itself provide fresh elements of security for the whole world. Armaments could not, and should not, form the basis of security, and they were not even the most effective protection. The success of Germany in overcoming the psychological difficulties of disarmament presented by her great military traditions ought to make it easier for other countries to follow suit. He concluded by saying that the entire institution of the League could not live and be effective until the duty of general disarmament had been discharged and until in consequence the conditions necessary for that atmosphere required for a common and collective guarantee of peace had been fulfilled.

17. M. Briand made a speech such as the Assembly has learnt to expect of him, which appeared to be designed rather to create a favourable atmosphere and to restore confidence than to make any precise or concrete contribution to the subject matter of the debate. He said that the strength of the League lay in the trust of the peoples; they did not always reason, but they had an instinctive feeling of trust in the League; they knew that without the League there was always the danger of a renewal of strife. Alluding to the speech of M. Politis, he said that the peoples were prepared to wait, but not to wait indefinitely.

18. Sir Austen Chamberlain, who was the last of the representatives of the Great Powers to speak in the opening debate, said that Great Britain had proved by her deeds her desire to see a real and large reduction of armaments; the British Army had been reduced immediately peace was secured to less than its pre-war level, and the British Fleet could not be compared with the Fleet which Great Britain had maintained not merely during the war but before the war. Turning from disarmament to arbitration, he asked the Assembly to bear in mind the special conditions of the British Empire, which was not a unitary system of government, such as prevailed in other countries, but a great community of free and equal nations, each autonomous, united in the oldest League of Peace in the world. It was not easy for such an Empire to accept obligations which could be readily undertaken by a homogeneous State speaking with the voice of a single Government. He claimed that Great Britain had arbitrated more grave problems than any other country in the world, and gave as a special instance the case of the Iraq frontier, in which Great Britain had used the verdict which had been given in her favour to open negotiations with Turkey and to make acceptable to her an award which could have been rigidly enforced. Passing on to security, he said that Great Britain had not merely accepted all the obligations of the Covenant, but had also become parties to the Locarno Agreement, knowing what it was to give a guarantee and the cost of keeping a guarantee. He asked whether other parties could not accept liabilities similar to those accepted at Locarno with a view to guaranteeing other troubled frontiers in the same way as Great Britain had guaranteed the western frontiers of France. Those who asked Great Britain to guarantee every frontier as she had guaranteed one in the Treaty of Locarno were asking her to undertake an obligation which was beyond her strength. All parties did not look upon the League in the same way; their faith was the same and their purpose was the same, but the way in which they would reach their purpose varied with their circumstances, their temperaments and their responsibilities. In the organic world it was not those organisms which came most quickly to maturity that reached the greatest strength or lasted the longest; and he regarded the League in the light of this analogy.

19. This speech naturally made a deep impression and had a decisive influence in ensuring that the subsequent discussion, which might otherwise have wasted itself in theory and idealism, was directed into channels calculated to lead to important practical results. Dr. Nansen, of Norway, in a speech in the Assembly on one of the last days of the session, paid a notable tribute to the force and conviction of Sir Austen Chamberlain's speech. He said that no one who had worked at Geneva had failed to realise that Great Britain, since the beginning of the League, had given the most consistently powerful support to it and its existing provisions. If Great Britain had hesitated to increase those commitments, they all realised that it was chiefly because she took those commitments so seriously and that she was anxious not to weaken her power to honour existing engagements by contracting new ones. They also realised the special position of Great Britain and of the Empire, and also the fact that owing to the British Navy any additional commitments in regard to arbitration and sanctions would be more onerous for Great Britain than for other countries. Even if they might regret the course which events had taken, they understood the reasons which in a large measure determined it. It is an important fact that Governments of the British Empire should thus receive recognition of their policy of not accepting obligations unless they fully intend and are assured of their ability to carry them out scrupulously. India, we believe, can claim to enjoy this reputation as much as any other part of the Empire.

Sphere of Action of the League.

20. At the Seventh Assembly Viscount Cecil had proposed that a Committee should be appointed to consider and report what questions are, and what are not, within the sphere of action of the League, within the meaning of the Preamble to, and Articles III and IV of, the Covenant. Lord Cecil had explained that this proposal was not animated by any desire to restrict or diminish the legitimate activities of the League; but it was felt in some quarters that there was a tendency which should be checked, to encourage the League to take up subjects which were foreign to the purpose for which it was founded, viz., to secure international co-operation making for the peace of the world. The proposal to set up a Committee was not accepted, and the Seventh Assembly not being able to agree upon any alternative formula, decided that the question should be postponed for further consideration at the Eighth Assembly. But before the Eighth Assembly opened the British Government informed the League that they believed that the consideration which the matter had already received had to a large extent met their object, and lessened the probability of the recurrence of those dangers to which attention had been called. In these circumstances they proposed that the question should not be further pursued for the present. Accordingly no further discussion occurred at the Eighth Assembly. We think that the ventilation of the question has undoubtedly been useful in creating a public opinion which will cause each new proposal for an extension of the League's operations to be carefully scrutinised. This was evident on several occasions this year, and notably when the proposal for taking up the question of alcoholism came before the Second Committee.

COMMITTEE I.—Legal and Constitutional Questions.

22. The First Committee dealt with various matters of a technical character, including the legal aspect of certain of the proposals submitted to the Third Committee in regard to Disarmament, Arbitration and Security. But the only one of sufficient general interest to require mention in this Report is the following:—

CODIFICATION OF INTERNATIONAL LAW.

23. Last year the First Committee was unable to arrive at any definite conclusion as to the instructions to be given to the Committee of Experts appointed to consider the possibility of codifying international law, of which Sir Mohammad Rafique is a member as an expert on Moslem law. That Committee accordingly continued its work as before and in April 1927 presented a report to the Council to the effect that seven subjects were in certain of their aspects ripe for regulation by international action, namely:—

- (1) Nationality.
- (2) Territorial waters.
- (3) Diplomatic privileges and immunities.
- (4) Responsibility of States for damage done in their territory to the person or property of foreigners.
- (5) Piracy.
- (6) The procedure of International Conferences and procedure for the drafting of treaties.
- (7) Exploitation of the products of the sea.

24. The Committee of Experts recommended that subject No. 6 should in the first instance be studied by the Secretariat, and that subject No. 7 should be examined by the Economic Committee of the League or by the Permanent International Council for the Exploration of the Sea at Copenhagen, and that the Council should then consider whether any further action was possible or desirable. Doubt had been expressed whether subjects Nos. 3 and 5 were of sufficient interest at the present time to justify the inclusion of them in the programme of an International Conference, but recommended that after the completion of such preparatory work as might be necessary, an International Conference should be convened to deal with subjects Nos. 1, 2 and 4. This report was referred by the Assembly to the First Committee.

25. After a lengthy discussion of the report and of a proposal made by the Paraguayan Delegation, that a Committee of Experts should be entrusted with "the preparation of a general and comprehensive plan of codification of International Law, paying due regard as far as possible to the work of codification which is being carried on in America," the First Committee appointed a strong Sub-Committee to examine the whole subject and eventually submitted a report to the Assembly recommending that an International Conference should be convened to deal with subjects Nos. 1, 2 and 4 only, and that to that end a Preparatory Committee consisting of five persons possessing a wide knowledge of international practice, legal precedents and scientific data relating to those questions should be appointed to prepare a report detailing the bases of discussion at the Conference. The Committee recommended also that the Council should attach to the invitation to be issued to States to join in the Conference draft regulations for the procedure of the Conference indicating the general rules which should govern the discussions.

26. The Dutch Government had offered to convene the Conference and also supervise the necessary preliminary work, but the First Committee considered that this should be undertaken entirely by the League. It recommended, however, that the Council should, if possible, arrange to have the Conference held at The Hague, and expressed the hope that the Dutch Government would agree to this. As regards the method of dealing with subjects Nos. 6 and 7, the First Committee approved generally the proposals of the Committee of Experts. The Assembly passed a resolution adopting all the recommendations of the First Committee on this matter. There was, however, a considerable controversy as to the provision of funds to enable the Committee of Experts to continue its work in 1928. This is referred to later in connection with the Budget and Supplementary Estimates.

27. With reference to the proposal of the Paraguayan delegation, the Assembly, on the recommendation of the First Committee, requested the Committee of Experts to consider at its next session under what conditions the work referred to in that proposal could be undertaken, and reserved a decision as to the course to be adopted until the Committee of Experts had made its suggestions and the Council had had an opportunity of considering them. The speeches delivered in the First Committee indicated that the general opinion was that the Paraguayan proposal was too ambitious, and that in any case it was desirable to await the result of the efforts to be made to deal with the three subjects specified above before attempting anything in the nature of the general codification of International Law. But the Assembly seemed to be in general agreement with the view that the classification and extension of International Law had a close relation with the problem of security, as it would extend the scope of arbitration. In principle, therefore, the work of codification has acquired a new importance.

COMMITTEE II.—Technical Organisations.

WORLD ECONOMIC CONFERENCE.

28. The success of the Economic Conference held at Geneva in May was the most important achievement of the League in the last 12 months. We have already referred to the subject in general in our account of the opening debate of the Assembly. With the exception of the group of questions relating to arbitration, security and disarmament, this was the most vital topic on the agenda of the Eighth Assembly. Broadly speaking, the issue which the Report of the Conference raised was whether, both in principle and in practice, it would be reasonable to recognise and possible to effect in the domain of economics a closer international relationship than in the past.

29. Two main questions presented themselves, viz., the degree in which the Assembly should accept the conclusions of the Conference and advocate their pursuance, and the developments which would accordingly be necessary in the economic organs of the League for the purpose of the new policy.

30. Those who wish to study the problem in detail are advised to refer to the Report of the Conference and the Report of the Indian Delegation which have been published in a convenient form in India. Many countries had already found themselves able to endorse the conclusions of the Conference and to express their intention to co-operate in carrying them into effect. This was not yet possible in the case of India for reasons which were explained in a declaration made in the Second Committee by our leader. This declaration will be reproduced verbatim in the Final Report, and the following is a summary:—

31. The Earl of Lytton said that India supported unhesitatingly the general principle that the economic policy of States should be directed towards the peace and prosperity of the world, and would welcome the elimination of any economic factors calculated to cause friction or misunderstanding. He believed there was no important recommendation of the Conference which was inconsistent with the past or present economic policy of India, and that India on the whole stood to gain by the adoption throughout the world of the general recommendations of the Conference. If on minor points there were any inconsistencies the Government of India would seek to reconcile them. The future policy of India was likely to be as much in conformity with the recommendations of the Conference as that of the past. His inability to accept those recommendations without reserve was due not to the fact that any action was contemplated in the future which was inconsistent with them, but rather to the lack of opportunity of ascertaining public opinion in India during the short time that had elapsed since the Conference was held and the undesirability of committing the peoples of India to agreement with a document which they had not yet studied. It would militate against ultimate acceptance by India were she committed in advance of the study and discussion of the Report for which facilities were being provided. He referred to the recent grant of a large measure of fiscal autonomy to India and to the natural desire of the Indian people to guard their recently gained freedom. The policy of discriminating protection did not conflict with the principles laid down by the Conference. He had very little doubt that the Report of the Conference, when it had been fully examined by the public in India, would be found to be in general conformity with Indian economic policy, and that if the decision of India was left unhampered by premature commitments the spirit in which the Conference performed its task would be appreciated and its recommendations generally accepted.

32. A Resolution was submitted to the Second Committee by one delegate proposing to endorse the conclusions of the Conference as a whole and without reserve, but we were instrumental in influencing the form of the resolution finally adopted so that it gave satisfaction to our point of view. This resolution noted with satisfaction that many Governments had made declarations accepting the principles and stating their intention of co-operating in their application, while no declaration in the contrary sense had been made. It expressed a belief that there was every reason to hope for universal approval when the public opinion of all countries had been sufficiently instructed, and it recommended the resolutions of the Conference to the favourable consideration of all Governments, and trusted that those Governments which had not yet declared their support would shortly be able to do so.

33. The development of the economic organisation of the League had been much discussed at the Economic Conference itself, which in the end had contented itself with recording a resolution to the effect that, while offering no suggestions for a permanent organisation, it could not do better than draw the Council's attention to the well-balanced composition of the Preparatory Committee, which had achieved excellent results in the preparatory work of the Conference. The problem was referred by the Council to the Assembly, and it is a fact of some significance that it was the Assembly and not the Council which worked out the scheme of organisation described below. The possibilities ranged from a continuance of the Economic Committee in its existing form—that is to say, a committee of 14 members nominated for their personal expert qualifications—to an independent organisation on the lines of the International Labour Organisation. Each extreme had its advocates. The continuance of the Economic Committee on its existing footing was advocated on the ground of practical efficiency, while those who proposed other schemes were influenced by a desire to introduce the principle of representation, whether it should be national or functional representation, so as to secure the widest possible authority and the greatest support. The resolution which embodied the conclusions of the Second Committee was a compromise combining both ideas. The Economic Committee will be increased from 14 to 15 members and the basis of appointment will remain the same, with some modification of its actual membership. It will continue to be the organ through which the Council deals with economic affairs, and its principal work in the near future will lie within the sphere of the economic relations between States and their economic policies so far as they have international aspects. Under a new provision it will have power, subject to Council provision, and in consultation with the States in question, to name economic correspondents in countries which have no member on the Committee. In addition to the Economic Committee there is to be created an Advisory Committee, the object of which will be to follow the application of the recommendations of the Economic Conference. It will be similar in numbers, and in the equilibrium of interests represented by its members, to the Preparatory Committee for the Economic Conference, and will include persons competent in industry, commerce, agriculture, finance, transport, labour questions, and questions relative to consumption. The International Labour Office will be invited to submit the names of three Labour members, and arrangements will be made to secure the co-operation of the International Institute of Agriculture and of the International Chamber of Commerce. Its meetings will be attended by five members of the Economic Committee. It will submit its report directly to the Council of the League, at the same time forwarding a copy of its decisions to the Economic Committee and to the other technical organisations concerned.

34. The respective functions of the two bodies are not very clearly defined, and this lack of clarity is the result of a certain divergence of views. But the differences in the constitution and in the character of membership of the two bodies will probably tend in themselves to produce a differentiation of function, and will lead empirically to a solution of the difficulty which could not be entirely resolved in debate.

35. India has not hitherto been represented on the Economic Committee, but she was represented on the Preparatory Committee for the Economic Conference. We think that she has much to gain from representation, and a strong claim to it. That claim has been presented in the proper quarter, and Sir C. P. Ramaswami Ayyar referred to it in a speech in the Second Committee in which he pointed out not only the necessity for representing agricultural interests, but also the special difficulty of doing so owing to the comparative lack of organisation in agriculture. In the report which he presented to the Second Committee, and which was approved, M. Loucheur pointed out that the programme which the Economic Conference had drawn up for the League could not be successfully carried out unless agricultural interests were represented as widely as possible in the economic organisation of the League, and declared that it was the unanimous recommendation of the Second Committee that the Council should give very special attention to this important question of the representation of agriculture. There is further a need for the representation of Asia. We believe that the claim of India has since been recognised.

WORK OF THE HEALTH ORGANISATION.

36. Sir C. P. Ramaswami Ayyar had indicated in his speech in the Assembly, of which we have already given a summary, that the Health activities of the League had a special interest for India. It was, therefore, a very appropriate compliment to India and to the Indian Delegation that he was elected Rapporteur for the general work of the Health Organisation. The report which he presented, first to the Health Committee and later to the Assembly, and his remarks in connection with it, will be reproduced in our Final Report. It will suffice to say here that, in the resolution which he submitted to the Second Committee, and which was in turn submitted by the Second Committee to the Assembly and approved, the Indian point of view was explicitly recognised. In the report note was made of the tendency towards universality in the work of the Health Organisation and of the circumstance that the activities of the Singapore Bureau form the chief physical link between Eastern countries and the League Organisation. The report stated further that those countries, some of whom like India are large contributors to the general budget, appreciated this aspect of the League's work, as was evident from their close co-operation with it. It also referred to the interchange of Public Health officers which is being arranged to take place in India in the approaching winter, and of the possibility that the President of the Health Committee and the Director of the Health Section might be able to join the party. It referred also to the hope of the Government of India that the League's Malaria Commission might be able to visit India during the latter part of 1928. Reference was also made to the participation by Colonel Graham in the Health Committee's work and to the departmental Rabies Conference in which India was represented. It is particularly satisfactory to record that the necessity for an assurance of the permanence of the Singapore Bureau, and of its adequate financing, was emphasised.

37. The universality of this department of the League's activities was further marked this year by the initiation of health work in Latin America.

ALCOHOLISM.

38. At the Assembly of 1926 the delegations of Finland, Poland and Sweden submitted a proposal to the effect that the League of Nations should include the question of Alcoholism in the programme of its work. Consideration of this proposal was adjourned until the Eighth Assembly. Meanwhile, the Foreign Ministers of Finland, Poland and Sweden, with whom were also associated the Foreign Ministers of Belgium, Denmark and Czecho-Slovakia, had sent in a memorandum giving a more precise description of what they had in mind. This memorandum contained two definite proposals: (1) that the Assembly should request the Council to convene a conference with a view to the framing of a general International Convention regulating the smuggling of alcohol, and (2) that the Assembly should request the Council to appoint an Advisory Committee on Alcoholism, or a Sub-Committee of the Health Committee to deal with Alcoholism, which the various organs of the League might consult when studying questions connected with the problem and which might be generally available for information or investigations.

39. Although these were the specific proposals which the Committee had primarily to discuss, their presentation raised a general question of some importance, because, except in the isolated cases of the Mandated Territories and the Protection of Women and Children, the League had not hitherto had occasion to touch the subject of Alcoholism, and it was felt in various quarters that the general subject would be an unsuitable, and even dangerous, one for the League to take up.

40. As soon as the question was raised in the Committee the delegation responsible for its promotion was challenged as to its admissibility under the Articles of the Covenant. In reply paras. (c) and (f) of Article 23 were quoted, referring respectively to the Traffic in Opium and other Dangerous Drugs and to the Prevention and Control of Disease. A considerable debate followed, and the weight of opinion in the Committee was against acceptance of the proposal in the form in which it was presented. No general agreement was reached as to the admissibility of Alcoholism under the Covenant, but it seemed to be recognised by all that, whether or not a subject was admissible under the Covenant, it might be taken up by the League with the consent of all the States Members. Eventually the Finnish delegate and those associated with him agreed not to pursue the proposals in their existing form, but declared their intention of bringing up the question of Alcoholism later in another form. Accordingly at one of the final sessions of the Assembly an application was made for the subject to be placed in a new form on the agenda of the Ninth Assembly.

41. As to the position taken up in the debate by the Indian Delegation, our instructions were to oppose the proposal for the creation of a new Advisory Body for Alcoholism, on the grounds that no case had been made out for the necessity of such a body, as there were other sources from which advice and information could be obtained, and that it was undesirable, from the general, and especially the financial, point of view, to sanction the creation of a new body except for imperative reasons. But we had been given discretion as to the attitude we should adopt towards the proposal for a conference on smuggling. Intervening in the debate, Sir Fazl-i-Husain stated that opinion in India in regard to Alcoholism was very strong and decidedly in favour of a policy of controlling the supply of liquor, while there was a strong body of public opinion actually in favour of prohibition. If prohibition had not yet been adopted in India it was chiefly for the reason that it would be so difficult to enforce it. He said that Alcoholism was treated in India as an evil, although it was not yet a very serious problem there. But, as elsewhere, it tended to spread with the growth of industrialism. In regard to the question whether Alcoholism should be dealt with as an international matter, he wished to reserve his opinion, but he recognised the existence in the Committee of a strong body of opinion against the proposals, and he found himself in complete agreement with those who maintained that in this debate the case for the proposals had not been made out. He felt that it would be wiser that those who supported the proposals should not pursue them further for the present, but should wait for a more appropriate occasion. He urged those in favour of them to realise that the result of a division might be prejudicial to the cause which they had at heart. {

INTELLECTUAL CO-OPERATION.

42. This Organisation consists of (1) a League Committee formed on the initiative of the French to carry out a resolution of the First Assembly on "the educational influence which it is the duty of the Council to exert with a view to developing a liberal spirit of goodwill and worldwide co-operation," and (2) an Institute which was founded in Paris some years later, at the expense of the French Government, to act as the executive organ of the Committee. The Indian Delegation has always been sympathetic in its attitude to this Organisation, and India is represented on the Committee by Sir Jagadis Bose.

43. It would be impossible to describe briefly the numerous activities of a scientific, artistic and literary nature which the Organisation at present has in hand. The resolution which was adopted by the Assembly this year refers to projects for the creation of an international co-ordination service of information offices attached to libraries, for co-ordination between the organs of bibliography for the various sciences, for an international office for annual tables of constants and mathematical quantities, for a congress on popular arts, for an international agreement with regard to casts, and for an extension of the work of museums as a means of artistic education.

44. When the work of this Organisation was under discussion in the Second Committee, Sir Fazl-i-Husain made a speech in which he said it was impossible to overestimate this work in the scheme of League activities, for in his opinion the disarmament of ideas, which was in fact the breaking of the barriers of prejudice, was no less important than Disarmament strictly so called. He paid a tribute of appreciation and admiration to those who had served on the Committee and to the beneficial character, both for all Members of the League and for non-members as well, of the various schemes which were in hand. It seemed to him that the work might possibly gain in its character of universality if kindred fields of work in the Orient were included within its scope, and he mentioned Indian and Mesopotamian archaeology as being at least comparable with that of Europe. The term "international" was not limited in any way to the nations of Europe, and the evolution of international culture should afford every opportunity for the culture of the East to contribute towards it equally with that of the West. He finally appealed to the authorities of the Organisation to consider means of ensuring that what was best in the culture of the Orient should be reflected in the texture of the international culture of the future. His remarks were afterwards referred to with sympathy and approval by the delegates of Great Britain and Germany.

45. The Assembly, in the resolution which it adopted, expressed its appreciation of the increase in the number and activity of the national committees on Intellectual Co-operation, and stated that the regular co-operation between well-organised national committees and the International Committee was of everincreasing utility to the work of Intellectual Co-operation. The Assembly accordingly invited States which had not already done so to consider the possibility of providing the necessary funds to meet the expenses of their respective national committees. We understand that the League was informed in 1925, as regards India, that the Inter-University Board wished to be recognised as an institution with which the Intellectual Co-operation Committee might correspond with a view to the formation of a national committee in India. But, so far as we know, no progress has been made in this direction. We therefore venture to bring to notice suggestions which have been made by Sir Fazl-i-Husain, who, as already mentioned, acted as the Indian representative on this subject, and who is much impressed with the belief that India might derive great benefit from contact with this Organisation. His view is that, education being a transferred Provincial subject, there is need of a central agency to disseminate information to the various Provinces such as existed until a few years ago in the All-India Advisory Board on Education. He considers that there should be the same liaison between the intellectual activities of the Indian Provinces as the Intellectual Co-operation Organisation serves to create under the League between those of the different nations. Such an institution would enable India both to derive benefit from the international movement and to contribute to its success.

46. Two years ago there was set up, under the Organisation for Intellectual Co-operation, a Sub-Committee of Experts for the instruction of children and youth in the existence and aims of the League of Nations. Its Interim Report came before the Assembly of 1926, and it had since held further meetings and had drawn up a more comprehensive Report which was submitted to the Eighth Assembly. The Indian point of view has been represented on this Sub-Committee by Mr. S. N. Chaturvedi. The Interim Report has already been under the Government of India's consideration and we were informed that the Government of India were in general agreement with the recommendations, save that on several points modifications would be necessary to suit the present educational conditions of India. We were further informed that, as education was a Provincial subject, action would have to be taken by Local Governments responsible to their Legislatures and by Universities which are partially autonomous bodies. Unfortunately, this information reached us after the discussion of the subject in the Second Committee was finished. We venture to express the hope that the later and more comprehensive Report of the Sub-Committee will be examined in India with every desire to carry out its recommendations as far as possible, because we believe that the purpose of these recommendations must be considered of first class importance by all who recognise the necessity for consolidating the principles on which the League is founded. Incidentally, we would call attention to one recommendation of the Sub-Committee proposing the establishment of a corps of international lecturers, with special reference to countries where geographical or other considerations render League instruction particularly difficult. We understand that the circumstances of India were specially present to the Sub-Committee when this recommendation was proposed to it and adopted. For financial reasons consideration of this recommendation has been deferred.

CREATION OF AN EDUCATIONAL CINEMATOGRAFICAL INSTITUTE.

47. The Italian Delegation submitted for the approval of the Assembly an offer on the part of the Italian Government to create at Rome an International Educational Cinematographical Institute. This Institute would be under the direction of the League of Nations, but would be carried on at the expense of the Italian Government, and established in a palace offered by that Government. The proposal was referred to the Second Committee, which dealt with it in connection with Intellectual Co-operation. Some anxiety was felt in regard to it by those who chiefly espouse the cause of the Institute of Intellectual Co-operation in Paris, which had already given some consideration to cinematography. It was obviously necessary to avoid any possibility of duplication or conflict between two League bodies, and it was further desirable to establish safeguards in regard to an institution which would be in a special relation to a particular national Government and would have as its object the guidance or inspiration, in the name of the League, of the policy of other Governments in a branch which is likely to be of increasing importance of such a subject as education. A Sub-Committee was appointed to reconcile the divergent opinions, and Sir Fazl-i-Husain served on this Sub-Committee. The Sub-Committee agreed upon a formula eventually approved by the Second Committee and by the Assembly, which acknowledged with gratitude the generous offer of the Italian Government, and left the decision as to the steps to be taken to the Council of the League, after consultation with the competent organisations, more particularly the International Committee on Intellectual Co-operation, and in agreement with the Italian Government. It is understood that the Second Committee will have a further opportunity of discussing the subject in detail next year.

48. It was in consequence of this discussion that the Hon'ble Mrs. Alfred Lyttelton, of the British Delegation, submitted to the Assembly a proposal that the general question of the relations between the League of Nations and institutes or bodies set up under its authority but not forming part of its organisation should be studied, and that the principles which should govern their acceptance by the League should be laid down by the Council. The Second Committee examined this proposal, and on its recommendation the Assembly invited the Council to have the question studied, and asked that a report should be submitted to next year's Assembly.

ECONOMIC COMMITTEE.

49. This Committee has hitherto dealt with a number of matters of a severely technical character, and of somewhat second class importance. As a result of the resolution which we have already described in the Report of the Economic Conference, these activities are in future to be broadened, and the Committee will have a certain measure or responsibility in regard to the first class questions of economics, including, above all, the question of tariffs. During the last year the normal activities of the Committee have been subordinated to those connected with the Economic Conference, and some of the subjects under consideration, for instance, the abolition of import and export prohibitions and restrictions, became merged in the agenda of the Conference. It has, however, continued to do useful work, and one subject which requires to be mentioned here is the draft Protocol on the execution of foreign arbitral awards.

50. A Protocol on commercial arbitration was adopted at the Fourth Assembly recognising the universal validity as between Signatory States of clauses for the settlement of disputes by arbitration, which are voluntarily inserted in commercial contracts between the nationals of different countries. This Protocol has been ratified on behalf of Great Britain and various parts of the British Empire, and a considerable number of foreign countries, but not by India. On the whole, the number of accessions has been considered disappointing, and this is believed to be due to the absence of any arrangements for the execution of arbitral awards. The Economic Committee has further been engaged in drawing up provisions to supplement the Protocol in this respect, and the result of their labours came before the Eighth Assembly in the form of a draft supplementary Protocol for the execution of awards. The Second Committee, to whom this draft was referred, determined to refer it, together with the comments and observations of various Governments, to a Sub-Committee of legal experts for final preparation. A member of our Delegation, Sir Edward Chamier, served on this Sub-Committee, and his knowledge of the British and Indian system of law was of great value in ensuring that the protocol was not modified to meet the requirements of Continental law in such a manner as to make it unacceptable to countries in which the other system prevails. The new Convention (the Protocol form having been replaced by that of a Convention) is now open for signature, together with the original Instrument, and we understand that the Government of India will be prepared to consider adhesion to the two Instruments taken together. We understand that this Convention which, owing to its highly technical character, did not receive much general attention, may be ranked among the most solid achievements of the Eighth Assembly.

51. Sir Fazl-i-Husain spoke in the debate in the Second Committee on the work of the Economic Committee, and congratulated the Economic Committee on a good year's work in spite of the fact that its activities had been naturally overshadowed by the Economic Conference. With reference to the approaching conference for the abolition of import and export prohibitions and restrictions, he said that India welcomed this conference because, like other such conferences, it would contribute to the mutual understanding which followed a frank examination of circumstances. He stated that India was prepared to incur responsibilities which others were ready to incur, to the same extent and simultaneously, and that it was on reciprocity that a country in the position of India was bound to rely. With regard to the subject of the treatment of foreign nationals and enterprises he called attention to a defect in the draft resolution, and proposed an addition which was accepted. He stated the position of India with regard to the Protocol on commercial arbitration and expressed the view that the objection which had hitherto been taken to this Protocol on the part of India might be withdrawn when it and the Convention which was being drawn up on the execution of awards came to be considered together. On the subject of economic statistics he agreed that there could be no two opinions as to the desirability of unification, but he pointed out that the statistics which were desired might not be always available, and that their collection might be so costly that some States would not feel justified in incurring the requisite expenditure. He stated, finally, that the importance of economic barometers could not be over estimated. The economic barometer of the future would have to be one which was extremely sensitive and delicate, and which served for all countries, all climes and all continents. He thought that the work was one which in its universality was an ideal work for the League to accomplish.

FINANCIAL COMMITTEE.

52. This Committee has hitherto played a more prominent rôle than that of its twin organisation, the Economic Committee, but the result of the resolution adopted by the Assembly in regard to the Economic Conference will no doubt be to adjust this disparity. The principal tasks of the Financial Committee have been the restoration of the Austrian and Hungarian currencies and a number of other financial measures of almost equal importance, such as those in connection with Danzig and Estonia, and the financial supervision of the settlement of Greek and Bulgarian refugees. Probably the League has not up to date made any contribution to the general cause of peace, and prosperity greater than those which are covered by these headings. These important and valuable works have been mainly of interest to Europe, but another problem which has been under the consideration of the Financial Committee, viz., that of double taxation and fiscal evasion, is of more general application. The latter questions have now reached a stage at which four draft Conventions have been drawn up after long and exhaustive technical examination, and have been circulated to Governments for consideration.

53. The Committee has also made much progress with an interesting new scheme, which is believed to contain great possibilities. This is a scheme for the financial assistance of States which may be the victims of aggression. It arises from proposals submitted by the Finnish Delegation to the Preparatory Commission for the Disarmament Conference, and its importance lies in the fact that it is a concrete application of the principle of Article 16 of the Covenant, which provides in principle that Members of the League who are attacked by another State should receive economic and financial assistance from other Members. The project had only been circulated a short time before the Assembly, and many Governments, including the Government of India, had not had an opportunity of examining it and formulating their attitude. In these circumstances the Assembly could not do more than recommend it for further favourable consideration in the light of the views of Governments, when these have been collected. The British Delegation welcomed the scheme, and undertook to co-operate in it on the understanding that it formed part of a general settlement of the Disarmament problem. This scheme is referred to further in paragraph 59.

54. Sir Fazl-i-Husain spoke in the course of the debate in the Second Committee on the work of the Financial Committee. He referred to the valuable work which the Committee had done in enabling countries which were suffering from acute financial crises to stabilise their currency and to effect budget equilibrium, and to obtain through the credit and prestige of the League necessary loans at a lower rate of interest than would have been possible otherwise. Help given in this way was, he said, help to individual countries, and in countries outside Europe there was a section of the public which was disposed to emphasise the fact that the beneficent work of the League was limited to a certain tract in Europe, and was therefore not international in the larger sense of the term. As a rule it was only delegates from countries directly affected by the work of the Financial Committee who took part in this debate, and he felt obliged, as a delegate from a country which could not be included in this description, to meet the criticism which he had indicated. This work showed emphatically that the League was not a body of talkers, and it proved how effectively the League could deal with practical problems. He rejoiced in this work because it enabled the League to consolidate its position, and he was sure that if requests similar to those which had come from Austria, Hungary and other countries were to come from another continent they would receive the same sympathetic consideration as was extended to the European countries.

ORGANISATION FOR COMMUNICATIONS AND TRANSIT.

55. Apart from the general Conventions drawn up at the First and Second General Conferences of this Organisation at Barcelona and Geneva in regard to questions of navigation and maritime ports, etc., the activities of the Organisation have been almost entirely confined to Europe, including such questions as navigation of the Danube and the international railway services. The Assembly Resolution of 1926 had expressed a hope that the Third General Conference would consider the question of improving, as far as possible, technical liaison between the work of the Organisation and the specialised administrations and experts of non-European countries. The Third General Conference was held at Geneva just before the Eighth Assembly, and it adopted a new constitution which is designed to facilitate the representation and participation of distant countries.

56. We had the advantage of being represented in the Second Committee, when the report of the Third General Conference was under discussion, by Sir C. P. Ramaswami Ayyar, who had been the delegate of India at the Conference, and who was therefore acquainted with the work of the Organisation and with its plans for the future. In recognition of the fact that the Organisation was endeavouring to broaden its hitherto somewhat restricted activities, Sir C. P. Ramaswami Ayyar spoke in the Second Committee and said that the labours of the Third Conference had marked a great advance towards the mutual understanding of national and international problems. He noted the fact that States, which were not Members of the League, such as the United States of America and Egypt, and also powerful organisations like the International Chamber of Commerce, had co-operated. He referred to the proposal which had been adopted in regard to the application of a system of identity certificates in lieu of national passports to persons who were without nationality or whose nationality could not be ascertained, and was glad that this scheme had been adopted in a form which tended to obviate the objections which had been felt by certain countries. The decision on these proposals was in the form of a recommendation, and not of a resolution binding upon Governments. With regard to the proposals for the collection and exchange of information on communications he was glad that the Conference had dispelled the fears which were entertained at one time that a special organisation of considerable size charged with new work was going to be created. The scheme as it left the Conference had been restricted to the collection of information of a non-confidential character which was already at the disposal of Governments, and the provision of which would involve Governments in no additional expense. It may be noted, however, that when this scheme came before the Fourth Committee for approval of a supplementary estimate of the League budget, the Fourth Committee took the view, in which the Indian delegate concurred, that, desirable as the collection of this information might be, the work was of less urgency and necessity than other tasks for which supplementary estimates were demanded, and it therefore decided by a majority vote not to approve the supplementary estimate. It may be observed that, since the General Conference, and under the new constitution of the Organisation which was approved at the Conference, the interests of Asia in the work of the Organisation have been recognised by the appointment of a Siamese member to the Advisory and Technical Committee.

COMMITTEE III.— Arbitration, Security and Reduction of Armaments.

57. In addition to the material describing the preparatory work during the last 12 months for the Disarmament Conference, which included various studies of legal questions in regard to security arising out of the Covenant, the Third Committee had before it the Dutch proposal for the further study of the principles of arbitration, security and disarmament, and the Polish proposal for the prohibition of all wars of aggression, both of which had been referred to it by the Assembly. Further proposals, which will be referred to shortly, were introduced in the course of the discussions of the Committee by the French, German, Belgian, Norwegian and Finnish Delegations. The Committee had thus to deal with a bewildering, and to some extent conflicting, mass of material, and it was no small achievement to produce from this a series of propositions which were coherent, lucid and of great value. The Committee held 11 meetings, each of which lasted for several hours.

LORD LYTTON'S SPEECH.

58. Speaking towards the end of the general discussion in the Third Committee, Lord Lytton described the position of India. He said that India was less intimately concerned with the subject of the debate than other countries whose delegates had taken a prominent part in it. The army maintained in India for internal security and for the defence of its land frontiers had been considerably reduced in recent years. The task upon which it was engaged was different from that which most delegates had in mind when they spoke of war and the alternatives to war. The majority of the Members of the League were nations whose armaments existed to deal with a contingency which they believed to be remote and they hoped would never arise. India, on the contrary, had on her frontiers tribes whose traditions and instincts and habits of life were those of war; not war as a resort to force as a final measure after all the resources of diplomacy had been exhausted, but war in a more primitive sense as an almost daily occupation and as a profession of brigandage. With such neighbours the securities which the League had to offer could be of no value. He therefore addressed the Committee rather as a sincere believer in the value of the League than as a delegate of a country which derived any special advantage from the security offered by the League. He had been struck by the value which speakers seemed to attach to the re-affirmation of principles which had already been accepted not merely as ideals but as practical obligations. The danger was not that the principles of the League should be forgotten, but that they should come to be regarded as no more than formula or counsels of perfection which belonged to the region of ideals rather than to the practice of States. He said it was the business of the Committee not merely to dream of disarmament, or to re-affirm general principles, but to work out their practical application in a world of realities. Some were inclined to insist on the need for action, others on the difficulties of action; both lines of thought were helpful. It was the public opinion of the world which was the motive force of the League; some currents of opinion might appear to be opposed to their wishes or ends; they could not be ignored, and it was impossible to go against them, but by tacking either to the right or to the left it might be possible to make even those currents serve for progress towards the goal. It was a question in that Committee not of defining the goal, but of finding means of approaching it. If one means proved abortive, another must be sought. If one conference on disarmament failed, it was better to explore the causes of its failure than to bewail the fact. The task of the League was to improve, if possible, the machinery of arbitration, to make that method of settling disputes more attractive to the nations of the world, to increase, if possible, the security which could be afforded against aggression and so to make possible that progressive disarmament which every country desired for its well-being and development.

DEBATE IN COMMITTEE.

59. The French Delegation submitted a draft resolution recommending the conclusion of arbitration agreements between States in order to create the mutual confidence which was indispensable to the effective continuance of the work of the Preparatory Committee; secondly, requesting the Council to direct that Committee to study simultaneously with the preparation of a draft Convention for the limitation and reduction of armaments, measures calculated to give all States such guarantees of security as would enable them to reduce their armaments to the lowest possible figure in their proposals at the Conference; and thirdly, expressing the opinion that such measures would be found in special security agreements, and a modification of the provisions of the Protocol of 1924 in the direction of greater elasticity which would enable States to graduate their commitments according to the relations existing between themselves and other States. The German Delegation, with reference to the suggestion that the Preparatory Committee should not continue its work until further international security had been attained, observed that Germany and certain other States had already been disarmed, and urged that the Conference should be held on the basis of the existing conditions of security. Count Bernstorff proposed that the Preparatory Committee should be urged to complete its work as soon as possible and thus enable the Council to convene the Disarmament Conference before the next ordinary session of the Assembly. The Dutch, French and German proposals were referred to a Sub-Committee which threw them into the form of a single draft resolution. Two noticeable modifications were introduced. As drafted by the Sub-Committee the resolution provides for the appointment of a Special Committee to study measures relating to guarantees of security instead of leaving this to the Preparatory Committee and suggests that one of those measures might consist in invitations from the Council to the several States to inform it of the measures which they would be prepared to take to support the Council's decision in the event of a conflict breaking out in a given region. After some discussion as to the meaning of the second alteration, the draft of the Sub-Committee was in substance approved by the Third Committee. It was specially made clear that it was for the individual States in their replies to indicate what, if any, was the "given region" in which they would be prepared to take measures to support a decision of the Council. The Belgian Delegation drew attention to the difficulty of limiting air armaments without interfering with civil aviation and to the recommendations of the Preparatory Committee on this subject, and proposed a Resolution to the effect that it was desirable that the development of civil aviation should be directed solely towards economic ends, to the exclusion of military considerations. This proposal was approved. The Norwegian Delegation proposed the opening of an optional Convention for obligatory arbitration of disputes. After a reference to the First Committee it was decided that the subject should be considered by the Preparatory Committee on Disarmament. Lastly, the Third Committee accepted a resolution proposed by the Finnish Delegation on the subject of giving financial assistance to a State which might be the victim of aggression. Lord Lytton stated that he had had no instructions regarding this proposal, and made it clear that by voting for the resolution he would not commit the Government of India to any financial liability. It was stated in reply to Lord Lytton that in accepting the resolution the Assembly would only be authorising further study of the scheme.

60. At the close of its proceedings the Third Committee submitted to the Assembly a series of five resolutions dealing comprehensively with the Dutch, French, German, Norwegian, Belgian and Finnish proposals, also with reports of the Council regarding the methods to be employed in order to enforce the obligations of the Covenant as expeditiously as possible and the working of the organs of the League in times of emergency. The resolutions were in due course approved by the Assembly.

SUMMARY OF RESOLUTION ON DISARMAMENT.*

61. The leading features of the fifth and most important of these resolutions, which deals with the Preparatory Committee for the Disarmament Conference, are briefly as follows: It records a conviction that the principal condition of success in the work of disarmament is "that every State should be sure of not having to provide unaided for its security by means of its own armaments, and should be able to rely also on the organised collective action of the League of Nations." It asks for the completion of the technical work of the Preparatory Committee to be hastened, and for the Conference on the limitation and reduction of armaments to be convened immediately this work has been completed. This meets the view of the German Delegation that disarmament is possible and should be proceeded with under existing conditions of security. At the same time, to meet the view that increased security must be found, the resolution requests that the Preparatory Committee should be authorised to create without delay a Committee whose duty would be to consider, on the lines indicated by the Preparatory Committee, "the measures capable of giving to States the guarantees of arbitration and security necessary to enable them to fix the level of their armaments at the lowest possible figures in an international disarmament agreement." The resolution goes on to indicate that these measures should be sought in a variety of ways, and in enumerating these ways it advocates the principle of regional agreements, of which the Locarno Treaties are the type. These agreements are described as those "which the States Members of the League may conclude among themselves, irrespective of their obligations under the Covenant, with a view to making their commitments proportionate to the degree of solidarity of a geographical or other nature existing between themselves and other States." The resolution concludes with the idea to which we have already referred that the Council should invite the several States to inform it "of the measures which they would be prepared to take, irrespective of their obligations under the Covenant, to support the Council's decisions or recommendations in the event of a conflict breaking out in a given region."

PRIVATE MANUFACTURE OF ARMS AND PUBLICITY OF THE MANUFACTURE OF ARMS, AMMUNITION AND IMPLEMENTS OF WAR.

62. The Assembly passed a resolution on this subject last year and acting on that the Council referred the draft Convention which had been drawn up to a Special Committee with instructions to prepare a final draft which might serve as a basis for an International Conference. The Special Committee met in March 1927 and prepared a report which showed that there were fundamental differences of opinion between the members. Several speakers referred to the subject in the Third Committee. The Committee appeared to be unanimous in thinking that a solution of the problem was indispensable in connection with the question of disarmament. The majority seemed to be inclined to the view that the private manufacture of arms must be dealt with in a manner different from that provided for State manufacture. The Third Committee proposed, and the Assembly approved, a resolution re-affirming the great importance of the subject and suggesting a Convention providing for the superintendence of the private manufacture of arms and for publicity with regard to the manufacture of arms either by a State or by a private person or firm.

COMMITTEE IV.—Financial Questions.

THE LEAGUE BUDGET.

63. Those who remember the Report of the Indian Delegation at the last Assembly will be aware that the Assembly approved a Resolution of the Fourth Committee which was moved by Sir C. P. Ramaswami Ayyar, the Indian delegate on that Committee, to the effect that it was desirable, without putting obstacles in the way of the development of the League, to keep in view a maximum limit of expenditure with the object of securing that the contributions of individual States should not normally in future exceed their contributions for that year. It was naturally the object of the Indian Delegation this year to remind the Fourth Committee and the Assembly of this Resolution and to secure as far as possible that this principle was not disregarded.

64. In the budget which was presented to this year's Assembly, the total estimates for 1928 were placed at 24,879,622 francs, the real increase of expenditure on the basis of these estimates as compared with the budget approved for 1927 being about 100,000 francs. The estimates for the Secretariat and the Permanent Court of International Justice taken together showed a small decrease, and the increase of the total was caused by an increase in the estimates for the International Labour Organisation. It had been stated, on the authority of the Secretary-General, that although the gross expenditure contemplated for 1928 was greater than that for 1927, the net burden on each Member of the League would not in all probability be heavier in view of the distribution among the Members of the League of the greater part of the surplus for 1926. This statement was welcome to us as showing incidentally the effect of the Indian Delegation's Resolution last year, but we had to take into account (1) the normal practice of bringing Supplementary Estimates of considerable amounts before the Assembly, (2) the possible retirement of Spain and Brazil next year, and (3) the possibility of a considerable charge falling upon the League of Nations in two or three years' time in respect of the Singapore Bureau (a matter of great interest to India), when the Rockefeller contributions, by which the Bureau is chiefly supported at present, come to an end. The retirement of Spain and Brazil next year has still to be reckoned with. We have hopes that the financing of the Singapore Bureau for a considerable further period may be assured without heavy additional charges falling upon the League. In regard to Supplementary Estimates, a serious position was revealed. Supplementary Estimates of nearly 1,000,000 francs were submitted by the League authorities to the Supervisory Commission, and after pruning by the Supervisory Commission, were presented to the Fourth Committee to the amount of over 600,000 francs. These, it was understood, would increase the unit of contribution (the number of units for which India is responsible being 56) by well over 1,000 francs after all off-sets have been allowed for. The task of trying to effect reductions was, therefore, incumbent upon those delegations, including our own, who are actuated by motives of economy in practice as well as in principle.

65. The general debate on the budget was opened by the British delegate, Sir Edward Hilton Young, who was followed by Sir C. P. Ramaswami Ayyar. The latter said that his Resolution of last year had been put forward not only from purely economic considerations, but also to ensure that States that were far removed from the immediate scene of the labours of the League might be assured that its work was of as comprehensive and universal a character as possible. New commitments entered into should be considered with reference to what would happen not only during the year under review, but in future years. He also referred to the importance of applying a Resolution passed by a previous Assembly to the effect that special investigations made in the interest of one or more Members of the League should be paid for by those Members, and he urged that when States which were not Members of the League took part in Conferences organised by the League those States should be expected to pay their fair share of the expenses of such Conferences. He also referred to the necessity for regulating the publications of the League as far as possible on a sound commercial basis, and suggested that agents should be appointed in distant countries with a view to the dissemination of those publications. In the course of the subsequent debate on the details of the budget he raised various points of detail, as, for instance, in regard to the financing of the Singapore Bureau, in regard to the estimate presented for the settlement of disputes under the Transit Organisation, and as to the proposal to authorise the Transit Organisation to collect information on the subject of communications. He served as a member of a Sub-Committee to deal with a proposal for the formation of an administrative tribunal to settle any point which might arise in connection with the contracts under which members of the staff of the Secretariat and International Labour Office are serving. He was also selected to serve as one of the members of the Fourth Committee deputed to confer with members of the First Committee in regard to the proposals for the Codification of International Law.

66. Sir C. P. Ramaswami Ayyar's remarks are reflected, together with those of other delegates, in the Report of the Fourth Committee. This Report indicates that the expenditure of the League was not increasing in proportion to the new tasks entrusted to the League and to the increased work thereby involved for the various organs of the League. So far as figures are a reliable guide, the amount of work done by the staff has grown considerably in recent years. If the Assembly decided to entrust new tasks to the Secretariat, it was necessary either to increase the budget or to suspend temporarily some part of the normal duties of the Secretariat. The Report indicates a view that if the expenditure of the League is not to be developed indefinitely, the League will sooner or later be obliged to impose limits on requests for further expenditure, and it is suggested that the Assembly might at some time be invited to appoint a small body to deal with further proposals for expenditure, and to examine the order in which new tasks entrusted to the League should be undertaken. The Report also states that the Publications Department is being re-organised, with a view to placing its operations upon a more commercial basis, and that a considerably larger amount in respect of receipts from the sales of publications was anticipated in the near future.

SUPPLEMENTARY ESTIMATES AND FINANCIAL CONTROL.

67. On the subject of Supplementary Estimates a long and arduous debate took place. This debate revealed in the Fourth Committee a real and earnest desire for economy, although it may be open to question whether this desire was fully implemented. At the same time it indicated unmistakably the peculiar difficulties of financial control in the unique circumstances of the League, which arise from the absence of an executive authority with power to determine the priority in which proposals involving expenditure should be undertaken. The Indian Delegation, together with the British Delegation, followed the policy of supporting the authority of the Supervisory Commission, which is the most effective organ for financial control in the League's possession, and for the creation of which, it may be remembered, a past Indian Delegation was largely responsible. This Commission, of which Lord Meston is a member, scrutinises in the most thorough and efficient manner the financial provision for the measures which the League has in hand or decides to take in hand, but it lacks the ultimate power of selection among those measures. It is, in our view, very desirable, if not necessary, that in the near future the Assembly should find some means of satisfying the principle, which is an essential part of the financial procedure of national Governments. Serious warnings were expressed in the Fourth Committee as to the tendencies which are at present evident, and which, though they could not fairly at present be said to be out of control, may at any time lead to serious results unless the financial initiative can be somehow limited. It should not, however, be supposed that the sum total of League expenditure at present is anything but moderate, having regard to the importance and responsibilities of the League.

68. Our remarks may be illustrated by the discussions which took place on two supplementary demands, one for a sum to enable the Transit Section to collect information on the subject of communications, and the other for the expenses of the work of codifying international law. The first arose from a recommendation of the Third General Conference on Transit and Communications, which had been approved by the Second Committee, and a demand had been presented for 40,000 francs to proceed with the work during 1928. The debate on this demand ranged as much over questions of principle relating to the status and authority of the Supervisory Commission, as over the actual desirability of the proposed services, which few delegates desired to question. Sir C. P. Ramaswami Ayyar said that although he had as a delegate at the Third General Conference and as a Member of the Second Committee supported the project for which this demand was made, he felt obliged, in view of the gravity of the financial situation, and of the necessity for making some selection among the services for which supplementary credits were asked, to vote against the credit in the Fourth Committee. Eventually the estimate was rejected by a majority vote, but after further negotiations with the Second Committee, it was agreed that the Secretariat should continue the work already begun, so far as might be possible without the additional credit, and a hope was expressed that the credit in question might appear in the Budget of 1929.

69. In the second case the Supervisory Commission had accepted a supplementary estimate for 80,000 francs for the preparatory work necessary to enable International Conference to be held in 1929 to attempt the codification of international law on certain subjects (see paragraph 26 above), but, in order to avoid serious additional expenditure, it had proposed to compensate for the admission of the supplementary item by deleting a provision of 75,000 francs in the original budget to enable the Committee of Experts on this subject to continue its work. The view of the Supervisory Commission was supported by a majority vote of the Fourth Committee, but it was agreed that any part of the sum allotted for the preparation for the Conference which might not actually be found to be necessary for that purpose might be used for a further meeting of the Committee of Experts. In spite of this decision, and in spite of the fact that the First Committee, to whom the decision was communicated, had raised no objection, the matter was brought up again in the Assembly, where the recommendation of the Fourth Committee was rejected by a small majority. The Fourth Committee was asked to consider the matter again with a view to reaching the necessary unanimity, and a debate took place which lasted until after midnight. In the course of this debate, Sir Fazl-i-Husain said he thought no one had disputed the fact that the work of the Committee of Experts was of great value to the League of Nations. The former decision of the Fourth Committee did not involve the interruption of this work, and it was only a question of the pace at which it would proceed. The South American countries claimed that this credit should not be refused, on the ground that the work of codifying international law was one of the few activities of the League in which they were directly interested, but he asked that the Committee should take an equal interest in the position of certain other countries who paid their annual contribution, but perhaps derived even less direct benefit from the work of the League than the South American countries. Notwithstanding the fact that the direct benefit to them of the work of the League was comparatively small, these other countries readily voted various credits for humanitarian work which did not benefit them; but he said that it was important that the Committee should realise that the continual increase in the unit of contribution might reach the point of becoming intolerable, and each addition would possibly prove to be the last straw which broke the camel's back. After Sir Fazl-i-Husain had spoken, a solution was proposed by which, although the budget provision was not increased, those who wished to ensure a further meeting of the Committee of Experts in 1928 were given reason to expect that sufficient funds would be found by transfer from another head of the budget if necessary. This solution was accepted by the Fourth Committee and later by the Assembly with the necessary unanimity.

70. The debate on these two matters attracted very considerable notice, and we believe that, apart from the decisions reached on the particular issues, they will exercise a salutary influence on the general tendency of the financial policy of the League. The result of the debate on Supplementary Estimates was to raise the total budget to 25,333,817 francs. The net contribution of India for 1928 will be about £51,400 as compared with about £50,150 for 1927.

• ALLOCATION OF EXPENSES.

80. Two years ago a provincial scale was adopted for the allocation of the expenses of the League between the States Members, which was to last for three years, and was due to come up for further consideration at the Assembly of 1928. The budget for 1928 included an estimate to provide for a meeting this winter of the Standing Committee on Allocation of Expenses, so that new proposals might be brought before the next Assembly. When this estimate came before the Fourth Committee, M. Reveillaud, the French delegate, who is Chairman of the Allocation Committee, said that, after considering the economic conditions of the various countries, he had come to the conclusion that the general economic situation of the world would not be sufficiently stable, at any rate for some years to come, to permit of any satisfactory permanent settlement of this question in the immediate future. In these circumstances, he thought that there would be no object in holding a session of the Committee as had been intended, and accordingly he proposed a reduction of the estimate. The claims of India for a reduction of her share of the expenditure of the League have always been strongly pressed in the past. As it had not been anticipated that the matter would be raised this year, the Indian Delegation had no definite instructions and were not in a position to accept any arrangement under which the present scale would continue in force for a number of years. There was obviously nothing to be gained by insisting on a meeting of the Allocation Committee being held during the present winter, as the Fourth Committee was clearly impressed with M. Reveillaud's arguments, which were, in fact, of a convincing nature. Sir C. P. Ramaswami Ayyar, on behalf of the Indian Delegation, confined himself to securing an understanding that the acceptance of the proposal to reduce the estimate did not restrict the liberty of the next Assembly to discuss the matter again.

CONSTRUCTION OF NEW LEAGUE OF NATIONS BUILDINGS.

81. For the earlier history of this matter reference is invited to the Report of the Indian Delegation to the Special Assembly of 1926. This Assembly had approved proposals for the construction of a new Assembly Hall and of new offices for the Secretariat and for the purchase of the building land. It had adopted a provisional estimate of nearly 17,000,000 francs, including a sum of 4,000,000 francs which is the guaranteed price for the sale of the building at present occupied by the Secretariat. A competition of architects has since been held, and as many as 377 designs were submitted. The Jury of Architects which examined these plans decided unanimously that the results of the competition did not justify it in recommending any one of the plans for execution. They decided to dispose of the prize money by giving nine equal prizes to the nine competitors whose designs appeared to them to be the best, and further smaller sums to 18 further designs, arranged in two classes of nine each, which were considered worthy of honourable mention. When the report of the Jury of Architects came before the Assembly a Committee of five members was appointed to consider the question and report back to the Assembly. This Committee reported that, after allowing for the purchase of land and other general expenses, and for interest on the cash balance actually in the League's possession, and for the guaranteed sale price of the present Secretariat building, there would be a sum of 15,400,000 francs available for building purposes. They thought that the sum available would not be sufficient to ensure that the new buildings would, without being actually luxurious, be satisfactory from the aesthetic as well as from the practical point of view, and they believed that it was necessary to contemplate an increase of the credit allotted to approximately 19,500,000 francs. On their recommendation the Assembly approved in principle that the sum to be spent on the new buildings should be increased to approximately this figure, on the understanding that the exact amount of the supplementary credit necessary would be submitted to the Assembly at its next session. The Committee further expressed the view that the ultimate choice of a plan should be made from among those which received the nine equal prizes, and it recommended that a small Committee should be appointed with full powers to choose, with any changes that might be necessary, the plan which in their opinion most nearly satisfied requirements. After some discussion in the Assembly these recommendations were approved, and the members who had served on the Committee which had made these recommendations were appointed to constitute the Committee which is to continue to deal with the question.

82. Before leaving this subject we ought to mention the munificent gift of $2,000,000 from Mr. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., for the construction and endowment of a new League of Nations Library. The Assembly naturally confirmed with gratitude the acceptance by the Council of this gift, the purpose of which can be adequately carried out with the certainty that no liabilities will in future be imposed on the Members of the League on account of its acceptance. This gift will render possible the formation and maintenance of a library on a much more extended scale than that which at present exists in the Secretariat or could otherwise be contemplated. It will greatly improve the facilities, of which there is an increasing need, for research work and for students.

COMMITTEE V.—Social and Humanitarian Questions.

CHILD WELFARE.

83. Indian Delegations of the past two years have been somewhat concerned with the appearance of a tendency on the part of the Child Welfare Committee to take too wide a view of its proper sphere of operations. In 1925 the Maharaja of Patiala, and in 1926 the Maharaja of Kapurthala, considered it desirable to express apprehension as to the consequences that might result from any invasion of areas of purely domestic concern and from a policy of trying to apply indiscriminately ideas or criteria which for social or even religious reasons might not be universally applicable. This tendency had been noticed also by other observers, and the Committee had been advised by the Council of the League to "endeavour so to narrow the field of each particular enquiry as to produce results of practical value to Governments." At the Assembly of 1926, the Fifth Committee, in its report on this subject, appreciated the fact that practical considerations must sometimes limit the scope of international co-operation in this field, and they called attention to the caution expressed by the Maharaja of Kapurthala. During the last 12 months the Child Welfare Committee has appointed an Agenda Sub-Committee for the purpose of controlling the subjects treated, and this Sub-Committee may be considered to have done good work, although the necessity for confining activities in this field to objects of international concern still requires to be watched. As the warnings previously expressed appeared to have had a salutary effect, and as the Report of the Committee, which was presented to this year's Assembly, contained nothing which called for criticism, the Indian Delegation was able to abstain from taking part in the discussion.

TRAFFIC IN WOMEN AND CHILDREN.

84. The most notable subject in this year's discussion was the report of the special body of experts which has been enquiring into this traffic. Only the first part of this report has been published, the second part having been communicated confidentially to the Governments concerned—of which the Government of India is not one—for such observations as they may wish to make. These observations are to be received shortly, and on their receipt the body of experts will meet again to consider them, after which the question will come before the Council of the League for a decision as to further action. The resolution adopted by the Assembly called attention to the problem of the relationship which, according to the conclusions of the special body of experts, exists between the licensed house and the traffic in women, and expressed a hope that the appropriate Committees would examine the question of the desirability of recommending to all Governments the abolition of the system of the licensed house.

85. The special body of experts has so far confined itself to America, Europe and the Near East. It has, however, reported that information in its possession tends to show that the international traffic is also met with in the Far East, and it acknowledges that, owing to differences of religion and custom, the problem in the Far East appears in a different aspect. The question of authorising the special body of experts to extend its enquiries beyond the areas already investigated has thus not yet arisen; but it may do so when their present task has been completed. In the circumstances, no question affecting India arose this year.

THE PRODUCTION OF OPIUM IN PERSIA.

86. At the Assembly of 1925 attention had been called to the absence of effective control at Persian ports over exports of opium, and the final Act of the Second International Opium Conference contained a recommendation that a Commission of Enquiry should be appointed to visit certain opium-producing countries. Accordingly, in pursuance of a recommendation of the Assembly of 1925, a Commission was appointed to be sent to Persia to study the existing situation with regard to the cultivation of the poppy and the replacement of a proportion of this cultivation with other crops. This Commission reported at the end of 1926, and its report came before the Assembly. The Commission considered that the Persian Government should make it an essential part of its programme to take definite steps looking to, and preparatory for, a gradual and systematic reduction of cultivation to begin three years from the promulgation of the programme. It believed that, after the preparatory period of three years, the Persian Government might safely undertake a reduction of 10 per cent. each year in the acreage allotted to the cultivation of the poppy, and it made a number of practical recommendations designed to facilitate this programme. The Persian Government has expressed its willingness to attempt to carry out the recommendations of the Commission, with some modification, but in doing so it has declared that the success of its programme will in large measure depend on its obtaining liberty of action in tariff affairs, and on the removal of the restrictive tariffs on Persian products which must be substituted for opium. The Assembly expressed its appreciation of the goodwill shown by the Persian Government, and hoped that the Governments concerned would give their earnest and favourable attention to the tariff conditions referred to by the Persian Government.

TRAFFIC IN OPIUM AND OTHER DANGEROUS DRUGS.

87. The Government of India have a representative on the Advisory Committee dealing with this subject in the person of Sir John Campbell, I.C.S. (retired), who is the present Chairman of the Committee. The work of the Committee in recent years has been principally concerned with the illicit traffic in manufactured drugs, viz., morphia and other derivatives of opium and cocaine. In these circumstances no controversial question in regard to opium arose.

88. The Report of the Advisory Committee called special attention to the gravity of the situation which exists in regard to the illicit traffic in drugs and the urgent necessity for action in the direction of control. The hope of adequate control resides chiefly in the bringing into operation of the Geneva Convention of 1925, for which a sufficient number of ratifications has not yet been received. The prospect of the Convention coming into force has not improved recently. The Report of the Advisory Committee, although approved without criticism, was received in the Fifth Committee with less attention than might have been expected. It appeared that there would be some advantage in directing attention to the necessity for action as publicly and emphatically as possible, and accordingly, when the Report of the Fifth Committee on this subject was presented to the Assembly, Lord Lytton made a speech.

89. He said that India was very much alive to the gravity of the drug problem, and looked to the League for help in regard to it. He wished the Assembly to realise the enormous extent of the illicit traffic in drugs, and the grave human import of that trade as revealed in the Report of the Advisory Committee. India, for instance, imported a small amount of cocaine for medical purposes, but the illicit traffic in cocaine in India was stated by the Committee to be as much as 40 times the legitimate imports, in spite of vigorous and efficient administrative efforts to suppress it. The figures of the illicit trade quoted by the Committee were startling, but even so, they scarcely conveyed their full human import. He went on to picture to the Assembly the intensity of human misery for which the drug evil was responsible, and he asked how, in face of such facts, there were Governments with the power to stop it which allowed it to continue. Yet 54 nations were parties to the Hague Convention which included as an obligation accepted by all the signatories a provision to enact laws and regulations to limit exclusively to medical and legitimate purposes the manufacture, sale and use of drugs, and with further provision for co-operation between Governments. The drug problem was not one of those which could not be solved, and which must be tolerated because no remedy could be found. On the contrary, it was one which all the nations of the world had recognised, had discussed, and had pledged themselves to remedy. It was one of the evils which the League of Nations was competent to remove, and the removal of which was one of the triumphant achievements which still await the League. The individual efforts of no single nation could stem the tide, but by the combination of all nations it could be stemmed swiftly and effectively. The States Members of the League were already bound by an International Convention to do this, but it still remained for public opinion in some countries to insist on fulfilment of that obligation. There were probably not more than 30 drug factories in the world, and if each Government concerned put a ring fence round these factories the illicit traffic would cease. The Convention of 1925 might not be perfect, but it represented the furthest point yet reached and was the most effective weapon available. He appealed to delegates on their return to their various countries to create an opinion which would insist upon action.

PERMANENT CENTRAL BOARD TO BE SET UP UNDER THE OPIUM CONVENTION OF 1925.

90. In anticipation of the Convention receiving a sufficient number of ratifications and coming into force, the Secretary-General had submitted estimates for the necessary expenditure being met from League funds. These estimates came up for consideration in the first instance in the Fourth Committee, but the question was referred to the Fifth Committee for their opinion. There was some question whether the expenses of the Board should be borne by the League at all, but it seemed to be the general view that such a course would be reasonable and desirable. Sir Fazl-i-Husain associated himself with this view in the Fourth Committee. The questions which received most attention were whether the services of the Board should be remunerated at all, seeing that, practically without exception, appointments to the numerous advisory bodies which serve the League carry no remuneration, and whether, if the members of the Central Board were to receive remuneration, the amount proposed, viz., 5,000 Swiss francs a year, was adequate. After a long discussion the Fifth Committee expressed the opinion that it would be well if the Council could secure the gratuitous services of persons of the qualifications contemplated, and thus carry on the fine tradition of gratuitous service. But if this should prove impossible, as several members apprehended, the Fifth Committee was not prepared to say that the provisional estimate was sufficient. After further discussion in the Fourth Committee, it was eventually decided, on the recommendation of the Supervisory Commission, not to make any financial provision for 1928, on the ground that there seemed insufficient prospect of the money being actually required, owing to the delay in the ratification of the Convention on which the appointment of the Central Board depended. There are still certain countries, especially Italy, that are not satisfied that the creation of the Central Board will be the best means of regulating the Convention when it comes into force.

COMMITTEE VI.—Political Questions.

SLAVERY CONVENTION.

91. The conclusion of this Convention was one of the principal achievements of the Assembly of 1926. The Convention provided for the submission of annual Progress Reports which will enable the Assembly to watch the execution of the Convention. The reports which had been submitted by the Government of India in regard to recent developments in Burma and Kalat were perhaps the most striking feature of the material before the Committee. The Convention has so far only been ratified or acceded to by 14 countries, of which India is one. According to statements made in the Sixth Committee, six more countries hope soon to be in a position to ratify.

92. Several points required to be brought to the notice of the Committee in regard to India, and the Maharaja of Kapurthala accordingly made a speech. In the first place he made a statement intended to correct a misunderstanding for which the Indian Delegation of 1926 had been inadvertently responsible, viz., that the recent liberation of slaves in the Kingdom of Nepal had been influenced by the League. He stated that the Nepalese authorities had announced their intention of liberating slaves before they could have known that the League was taking the question in hand, and he called special attention to features of the work carried out in Nepal which might be studied with profit by other countries who were faced with the same problem. He then referred briefly to the events of the last year in Kalat and Burma, and he supplied information more recent than that which had already been furnished to the League in regard to the success which had attended the measures taken in Kalat. He also referred to the fact that, when the Convention was signed, it had been necessary for constitutional reasons to make a reservation excluding Indian States and to the undertaking then given that the Government of India would not fail to bring to the notice of the Rulers of States the provisions which had been accepted for British India. He was able to announce that the Government of India had now fulfilled the undertaking, and he expressed confidence that the Ruling Princes would devote themselves to the removal of such vestiges, if any, of conditions akin to slavery as might still survive.

SYSTEM OF SINGLE TRANSFERABLE VOTE FOR THE ELECTION OF NON-PERMANENT MEMBERS OF THE COUNCIL.

93. The single transferable vote system means that the voter arranges the candidates for whom he wishes to vote in order of preference. At first only first votes are counted, but afterwards all first votes which are not going to be effective, i.e., those given to candidates who have already received the minimum number of votes necessary for election and those given to candidates who received so few as to have no chance of election, are disregarded, and the second votes take their place, and so on until a sufficient number of candidates have received the minimum number of votes required for election. The idea was first suggested by Lord Cecil in the course of the discussions relating to the constitution of the Council which took place in 1926, and it was subsequently taken up by the Norwegian Government, by whose delegate it was presented to the Assembly this year. The Norwegian Government described their proposal as designed to allow electors to exercise a free and independent choice when voting, and as ensuring at the same time their equitable representation. They pointed out that while, in the case of ordinary Parliamentary elections, there was prevalent the question of creating a stable majority as the basis of a strong Government, in the case of the Council of the League it was universally agreed that the Council ought always to embrace representatives of different ideas, different interests and even different races. The supporters of the proposal thought that the single transferable vote was the system best calculated to give this result.

94. The Government of India had expressed themselves in favour of the single transferable vote system, as they considered that minorities had the best opportunity of making themselves felt under this system. It was, therefore, best calculated to give due consideration to the main geographical divisions of the world, the great ethnical groups, the different religious traditions, the varying types of civilisation and the chief sources of wealth, these expressions being contained in a resolution of a former Assembly to which great significance is attached by Eastern countries. We were, therefore, instructed to support the Norwegian Delegation, and Sir B. K. Mullick spoke accordingly. He expressed the opinion of the Government of India and said that though a good deal had been said about the practical difficulties of putting the system into operation, these difficulties did not seem to him to be very serious. The electorate in the Assembly would be far more competent and far smaller than the average electorate in a general election in a European State, and it would not be affected by the violent storms of local feeling which were apt to sweep over a country on such occasions.

95. It was at one time believed that owing to the unfavourable attitude of certain Great Powers, Great Britain and France in particular, there would be little support for the Norwegian proposal. An unexpected volume of support was, however, given, and India was not the only member of the Empire to place herself in opposition to Great Britain. In the end the view prevailed that, as the present method of election to the Council had been introduced only last year, it should be given a chance of being tested before any further changes were made.

Concluding Remarks.

96. We have already anticipated to some extent our general conclusions on the outstanding features of the Eighth Assembly. The importance of the session was emphasised by the fact that leading statesmen, such as M. Briand and Herr Stresemann, who, on previous occasions, have been content to resign the leadership of their delegations into other hands, remained in Geneva on this occasion until the end of the Assembly. Fundamental questions were examined with an unusual degree of frankness and with a sense of reality. Those who may have thought that the idealism of the League would wither in such an atmosphere appear to have been wrong. The League has, in our view, gained much in strength from the fact that differences were more clearly defined and are now better understood. There is less uncertainty, for instance, as to the sincerity of the British Empire towards the League, and as the attitude of the British Empire may be claimed to be the greatest single factor in League politics a clear appreciation of it is of vital importance. At the same time it is clearly realised that the British Empire, in view of its responsibilities and commitments all over the world, cannot at present go beyond a certain point in the policy of altruism for the sake of international ideals, and though this fact necessarily disappoints the hopes and aspirations of many Members of the League it has been accepted with resignation and without bitterness. The events of the session might have shaken seriously an institution less securely founded than the League has shown itself to be.

97. When the Assembly opened there were many who thought that a deadlock had been reached in the great questions of Arbitration, Security and Disarmament, and that the proceedings of the Preparatory Committee for the Disarmament Conference would be adjourned sine die. As a result of the debates the Preparatory Committee will continue its work, both on the existing basis of security and in the more favourable circumstances which may be created by an improvement in the conditions of security of lines which have been indicated. At least the study of this question is still alive, when there was a serious possibility that it might not be so. At the same time the League is launched upon a policy of international reconciliation and co-operation in the economic sphere, which, in the opinion of many authorities, may lead to a realisation of the ideals of the League as effectively as the more direct avenues of approach.

98. We believe that the position of India in the League is being steadily strengthened, and that the claims of India and other non-European countries to greater facilities for effective participation are being received with increasing sympathy as the preoccupation of the League with the acute and urgent problems created in Europe as an aftermath of the war is passing away. The acceptance of new tasks depends upon the initiative of States Members, and so far the initiative has come almost entirely from European countries. We can understand the view current in India that the activities of the League contain little in which India can interest herself or from which she can benefit. But we think that a modification of this view would be justified by a candid examination of the facts. It would, in our view, be a matter of great regret if the opportunities offered to India by the League towards the development of her status among the nations of the world were imperfectly realised through ignorance or misunderstanding of the facts. For this reason, and because representation needs to be based upon an informed and enlightened public opinion, we feel that great importance should be attached to publicity.
